Real War in China.
Comic Opera in the U. S. A.
Tell This to Falstaff.
Story of Larry Fay.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

WAR, YESTERDAY, interested those that live in China, near the spot where the Great Wall runs down to the sea. It saw real war, beginning last Sunday night and proceeding, with much killing, all day yesterday.

Japanese airplanes bombed the city of Shanhaikwan, and were reported to have taken the city from the Chinese.

JAPAN HAS the better equipment, trained fighters, courage unlimited. China has equal courage, plus inexhaustible numbers, and inexhaustible patience.

China's leaders declare that if Japan does not win soon, deflation of her currency and general economic distress will make it impossible for her to go on with the war.

So China holds on, fights and waits.

OUR NOBLE country begins the New Year with a report on "recent social trends," solemnly handed in by a research committee, supposed to indicate what we have been doing, and whither we are drifting, filling sixteen hundred pages.

One "gem of purest ray serene," showing that what we need in this country is a submissive "lower class" that will bow down to its betters, will delight you. Here it is:

"Modern life is everywhere complicated, but especially so in the United States, where immigration from many lands, rapid mobility within the country itself, the lack of established classes or castes to act as a brake on social changes, the tendency to seize upon new types of machines, rich natural resources and vast driving power, have hurried us dizzily away from the days of the frontier into a whirl of modernisms which almost passes belief."

YOU WILL travel far before you find any more choice bit of snobbishness than that. We haven't any "established classes" made up of Americans that take off their caps, or pull the forelock when they see a black coat.

We have men from Poland and elsewhere that have built skyscrapers, instead of being content to live in log cabins. We have changed "dizzily," from nothing at all to our modern civilization, and that is what is the matter with us.

There should be another commission to report that the Declaration of Independence should never have been signed, since it wiped out "established classes or castes, to act as a brake on social changes," and that Jefferson should have been put in jail for writing that all men are created equal.

HAVING READ every word that Shakespeare wrote about Falstaff, as you should, you remember Falstaff boasting of his agility, saying:

"He that will caper with me for a thousand marks, let him lend me the money, and have at him!"

SIR ARTHUR BALFOUR, British, has a splendid idea for paying England's debt to the United States. The suggestion is that the United States lend England one billion dollars at 3½ per cent interest, "with the right to pay it off in the next 60 years at our option."

Britain will pay no more than that amount to be lent by Uncle Sam. Of course, that borrowed billion might go the way of other billions, in which case it would be "just too bad" for Uncle Sam.

YESTERDAY'S newspapers reported four murders in Chicago, but New York had one worth more to gang history than Chicago's four.

Larry Fay, whom experts in criminal doings called "public enemy No. 3," is no more. He had done many things and made several fortunes.

As a bootlegger, he defied the law and the Constitution. As a racketeer, he defied more or less all the laws. In charge of New York's "milk racket," he defied health laws and frightened small dealers. These things he did with impunity.

THEN IN an evil hour, he cut the pay of Edward Maloney from $100 a week to $60. Maloney was the doorkeeper at Larry Fay's night club-speakeasy. On a "share-the-job" basis, Fay put in a man to help Maloney. Maloney put four bullets into Larry Fay and disappeared.

You may defy the United States Constitution, its states' laws, New York's regulations, but beware how you reduce the salary of a man named Maloney.

THE NEW YORK AMERICAN says Gov. Roosevelt will visit Muscle Shoals on January 21 and look over the situation.

It would be interesting if some national administration should decide that the people of the United States actually have the right to own and use for their benefit, not for any corporation's benefit, a power plant in which they have invested one hundred millions, and which might, if permitted, supply farmers with power and cheap fertilizer.

G. M. BODINGTON, of the Kansas City police, knows that a faithful wife is a precious possession. He went into a gas station where two young gentlemen were holding up the proprietor, and said he was a policeman.

The highwaymen beat him until his wife rushed in, pulled their hair, made them let go. He killed one and shot the other. In physical courage, especially when those they love are in danger, women are more courageous than men. There is

ANTI-BLUE LAW BILL OFFERED

Talbot Gets Speaker Post as Assembly Session Opens

By MARK SHIELDS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—The Republican majority took control of both House and Senate at the convening of the General Assembly at noon today.

The first bill to reach the House was a measure by Representative Louis C. Schwartz, Philadelphia, repealing the 1794 Sunday blue laws.

Similar bills are to be introduced by Representative Joseph G. Steedle, of Allegheny County, and others interested in liberalizing the Sunday regulations.

TO SELECT BILL

Decision will be reached to center behind the bill which has the best possible chance of passage.

Schwartz' bill would still leave to communities which wish the present system the protection of ordinances to govern Sunday recreation. Sunday baseball would be permitted between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m.

In Pittsburgh, should the bill pass, Sunday sports would be legal between the hours named unless Council enacted a restraining ordinance. Even with the ordinance the citizens would still have the right of review, the bill providing that an ordinance may be repealed by a majority vote of the electors at an election which might

Suicide Note Left 'Other Woman'

Grappling hooks were being used in the Monongahela River today to find the body of Mrs. Esther Lashley, 37, who plunged to her death with this last request to another woman:

"Be good to my two children. I won't stand in your way."

There was a note, too, to her husband, George B. Lashley, of Washington, Pa.—a note in which she told him how much she loved him and asked him for his prayers.

PURSE FOUND ON SPAN

Mrs. Lashley's purse was found on the Liberty Bridge last night after a man had seen a woman plunge into the water. The first note, addressed to Miss Beatrice Kelly, in care of a newspaper in Columbus, O., said:

"I hope your life will be different than mine. Your home was broken and now you can have mine. All I ask of you is

SENATE HEARS RELIEF PLEA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The drive for enactment of the $500,000,000 La Follette-Costigan relief bill was begun today with an assertion by Senator Costigan (Dem.), of Colorado, that "the tide of human misery is rising to dangerously high levels.

Costigan spoke as hearings on the measure were opened before the Senate Manufactures Committee. Extensive hearings on a similar measure were held last session. As the testimony began, only two Senators were present—Costigan and Wheeler (Dem.), of Montana.

In his opening statement, Costigan declared "the most startling development in this nation-wide tragedy" has been the failure of many of the nation's leaders in economic and other lines to "combat and conquer the problem" of unemployment.

Approximately 12,000,000 persons normally employed, he said, are now out of work and many others are on part time.

He expressed the hope that the hearings would tend to make public opinion "articulate" in a demand for federal aid.

PICKFORD DIES IN PARIS

International News Service.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Jack Pickford, movie actor and brother of Mary Pickford, died at the American Hospital in Neuilly, a suburb of Paris, today.

Pickford had been ill for many weeks. To friends he is said to have confided that he abandoned the films months ago to come to Paris to die in the city where his first wife, Olive Thomas, beautiful movie actress, committed suicide 10 years ago.

Mr. Pickford

Olive Thomas was the first of three brides Pickford married from the Ziegfeld Follies. To offset Broadway rumors that they were contemplating divorce, he brought Olive to Paris on what he described as "a second honeymoon." After a gay night, touring Montmartre cabarets, she drank poison in their suite in the Hotel Ritz and died the following day in the same hospital where Pickford breathed his last today.

His second wife was the colorful Marilyn Miller, whom he married two years after Olive Thomas' death while Miss Miller was starring in Ziegfeld's musical comedy "Sally." In 1927 Miss Miller obtained a Paris divorce and three years later Pickford married Mary Mulherne. Miss Mulherne obtained a divorce last year.

SUICIDE SCENE

Paris, scene of his death, has inevitably spelled unhappiness for Jack Pickford. Here he witnessed the starkest tragedy of his life when his first wife, Olive Thomas, the McKees Rocks girl, who rose from wrapper girl at Horne's store to be the toast of Broadway, committed suicide before his eyes.

Following a night of gayety spent on a tour of the haunts of Paris, the couple returned to their hotel suite. A few minutes later his wife ran from the bathroom and collapsed at his feet. She died in agony, having swallowed a vial of poison.

Congress Has One Imperative Duty, Says W. R. Hearst

IT IS THE URGENT duty of the Seventy-second Congress to pass sales tax legislation and balance the budget and get that serious complication in the national finances definitely and rightly settled.

Otherwise the depression will be greatly aggravated by the serious question of the nation's solvency.

It is of course feasible to sell bonds to meet the deficit, but if the budget is not balanced by increased governmental income, the nation's credit will be impaired, and the difficulty of selling government bonds will be materially increased.

In fact, if a panic should be precipitated by an unbalanced budget, which is among the possibilities of such an unsettled situation, government bonds might not be salable at any legitimate figure.

THE DEMOCRATS in Congress should support the sales tax legislation unanimously and unhesitatingly.

It is a regular Democratic measure.

It was favorably reported to the House in the regular order by the Democratic Ways and Means Committee.

It was defeated only by insurgents under the leadership of LaGuardia and other unsound radicals, many of whom are now "lame ducks" largely on account of their unpopular action in defeating the sales tax.

The Republicans in Congress should support the manufacturers' sales tax because President Hoover has advocated it, because the public desires this measure to be passed, and strategically because if the Democrats abandon this measure the Republicans will gain great credit and great strength throughout the country by adopting it and campaigning for it.

The Democrats would then stand with the extreme radicals like LaGuardia, and will be likely to meet as complete repudiation as LaGuardia himself has met.

SENATORS and Representatives in Congress should thoroughly realize that none of the things they have done in their legislative capacity to date has been of any considerable value in diminishing the depression.

In plain English, the depression is worse—and much worse—today than it was before the Seventy-second Congress started on its mistaken career.

The excessive income tax did exactly what every informed person in the country knew it would do.

It decreased the governmental intake from income taxation. It drove incomes to take refuge in tax-exempt securities.

It furthermore compelled the withdrawal of investment capital from industry and so decreased industry and increased unemployment.

The demagogic, bolshevistic policy of soaking the well-to-do did not injure the well-to-do so much as it injured those who depend upon the adventurous enterprise of the well-to-do for their daily job and their daily bread.

MOREOVER, the excessive income tax diminished purchasing power in the exact proportion that it diminished incomes.

Consequently not only did those directly taxed suffer, but the shops suffered, and those employed by the shops suffered; and then again the productive industry which supplied the shops suffered, and those employed in this productive industry lost their jobs, and their wages and their purchasing power; and then again the farms and the mines

DEATH TOLL HUGE IN NEW WARFARE

Town in Flames After Attack by Land, Sea and Air

International News Service.

Bloody warfare flared again in the Far East today as Japanese and Chinse troops struggled for mastery of Shanhaikwan, an important city just south of the Great Wall and one of the key points of entry to Jehol Province.

The Japanese war office claimed capture of the town, but latest information telegraphed to International News Service at Peiping from the battle front indicated that Chinese troops were still in possession despite three determined assaults by the Japanese.

Heavy casualties occurred, with hundreds of civilians and Chinese troops reported killed.

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service.

PEIPING, Jan. 3.—With their city in flames, Chinese troops remained in possession of Shanhaikwan tonight after successfully repelling a series of intensive Japanese attacks by land, sea and air which claimed hundreds of civilian and military lives.

Telegraphing at 5:20 p. m. from his field headquarters in a tiny village two miles from the city, Gen. Ho Chi-Kuo, Chinese commander, declared that the walled section of Shanhaikwan was in flames at dusk, but that the Chinese defenders were holding out bravely against strong odds.

4 APARTMENTS CHANGE HANDS

The Morrowfield Apartment Hotel, the Alderson apartments and the Eldridge apartments, Murray avenue, Squirrel Hill, and the Cathedral Mansions Apartment Hotel, Ellsworth avenue, have been taken over by Philadelphia interests, according to an announcement made by a new management.

The buildings are now being handled by Building Management Service, Inc., with offices in the Koppers Building. The organization was recently formed with H. B. Kirkpatrick as president and J. W. Bamford as vice president.

Cathedral Mansions was formerly owned by Washington interests. The other properties were owned by the Watkins estate.

J. F. Dunlay has been named resident manager at the Morrowfield, and E. H. Schultz manager at Cathedral Mansions.

FIVE CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

SHELBY, O., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—An entire family was wiped out early today when a fire destroyed their home.

The dead were James Miller, his wife Beatrice, and their five children, the oldest 8 and the youngest a baby of two weeks.

Mrs. Miller and her children, James, Jr., 8; Ethel May, 4; June, 3; Ralph, 2, and the baby were trapped in their beds.

Miller died a few hours after the fire from burns received when he attempted to rescue his family from the blazing one-story home.

Before he died, Miller told his father-in-law, A. W. McGregor, the fire started when coal oil he was using to kindle the fire exploded, showering the three beds in which the family slept with flaming oil.

Mollison and Amy To Fly Atlantic

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Definite plans for a new flight across the Atlantic this spring, with his wife piloting during half of the journey, were announced today by Capt. James A. Mollison, Scottish airman.

Capt. Mollison is the only man ever to make a solo flight across the ocean from east to west. His wife is Amy Johnson, the noted aviatrix who recently set a new record for the flight from London to Capetown and return.

Estep Makes New Ellenbogen Attack

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Representative Estep, of Pittsburgh, filed a memorial in the House today questioning the constitutional right of Henry Ellenbogen, of Pittsburgh, to take his seat in the next Congress.

Notables Get Bids To Chicago Fair

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Premier Mussolini, the Prince of Wales, the President of France and King Albert, of Belgium, were reported today to have been invited to visit Chicago during the World's Fair. The invitations were reported to have been forwarded through the State Department at Washington at the instance of National Commander Louis A. Johnson, of the American Legion. The Legion holds its national convention here from October 2 to 5.

Mellon Sees Hoover, To Leave for London

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Ambassador Mellon conferred with Secretary Stimson today and planned to go to New York tonight for return to London on the Majestic.

Mr. Mellon said he expects to remain in London until March 4. He refused to discuss the war debt situation.

Mellon was invited to the White House for a luncheon conference with President Hoover. He was the only guest.

Bank Bandits Get $15,000 in Indiana

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The Western State Bank of South Bend, was held up today by three men and robbed of between $12,000 and $15,000.

Woman Takes Poison At Prayer in Church

Lingering in St. Stephen's Catholic Church following mass today, Mrs. Margaret McGreevey, 44, of 85 Flowers avenue, Hazelwood, swallowed poison while kneeling in prayer, according to homicide detectives.

Her moans attracted the Rev. Daniel J. Devlin, who had her removed to Mercy Hospital, where she is in a serious condition. Homicide Detective James Scanlon said he learned Mrs. McGreevey formerly was an inmate of the Mayview City Home, and feared she was about to be returned there.

Cigaret Prices Cut To Rates of 1931

Pittsburgh cigaret prices for four popular brands today dropped to where they were two years ago—two packages for 25 cents as against the old price of 15 cents a package. In the cut-rate stores, the new price was reported at three packages for 35 cents or 12 cents a package. The price slash affecting the entire country, as reported by the Associated Press, was announced by the manufacturers.

Crowd Sees 2 Monkeys Wreck Pet Shop

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—A monkey and her baby got loose yesterday in a Fifth avenue pet shop which was closed for the holiday and furnished an hour's entertainment for a sidewalk crowd and a headache for the owners.

The show which amused the crowd outside was almost over when Patrolman Vincent Everlich happened by. It was a fishing act—the monkeys were angling in a big tropical aquarium in the show window, and three fish, gasping and flopping outside, testified to their skill.

Tiring of this, the monkeys picked up some books on the care of pets, glanced through them hurriedly and then hurled them at the grinning faces outside the window.

Patrolman Everlich telephoned headquarters. Another policeman, John McNamara, was sent to the store, and the two got in by smashing a transom.

They found the place in a bedlam. Canaries, love birds and parrots flew about squawking, their cages in wreckage on the floor. Goldfish bowls were shattered, cans of dog rations and insect powders had been swept from the shelves and every animal in the place was making vocal protest.

Hoover, Back on Job, Greets Reporters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Holding his first press conference at the White House in more than three and one-half months, President Hoover today wished newspaper correspondents a "happy new year," and added he believed they would have one. He said:

"I have no doubt that you will find plenty of news in the next 12 months, and that is the main object in your lives."

President Hoover returned to his White House desk this morning after a fis[illegible] cruise in the South.

Bill No. 1, presented in the Senate, was introduced by Senator James J. Coyne, Allegheny. It proposes appropriation of $10,000 to the Allegheny County Council of United Spanish War Veterans and the general encampment committee to aid in meeting the expense of the veterans' 1934 national convention in Pittsburgh.

In another bill offered by Coyne, the penalty for delinquent taxes which become overdue in the future in Allegheny County is reduced from 10 to 5 per cent. It does not affect taxes already delinquent. The 5 per cent delinquency fee is to be the full compensation of the delinquent tax collector, the bill provides.

Coyne also offered a bill to appropriate $25,000 for preparation of a history of the 80th Division in the World War.

TALBOT ELECTED

Representative Grover C. Talbot, of Delaware County, was elected Speaker, the overwhelming Republican majority having indorsed him last night unanimously. In the various resolutions incidental to the caucus Pinchot Republicans were conspicuous as sponsors and there was an air of surface harmony.

Democrats in their caucus last night, the first time in years any importance has attached to the pre-legislative activities of the minority party, pledged election reform laws, modification of the Sunday blue laws, ratification of an amendment for repeal of the federal Eighteenth Amendment and alteration of the state enforcement act to comply with any action Congress may take on the sale of beer.

The Democratic caucus, which indorsed Representative Wilson G. Sarig as a speakership candidate, foredoomed to defeat, witnessed a factional battle on the effort of Representative Norbert J. Fitzgerald, of Erie, to have someone other than Sarig named as Democratic floor leader. Backers of Sarig pointed out that it was customary for the defeated speakership candidate to be party chief, and it was with that understanding that he permitted his name to be presented as the party candidate for Speaker.

'ALL LEADERS'

Representative James L. Quinn, of Braddock, admonished Fitzgerald that there was no need to worry about a floor leader, as there would be as many as there were Democratic members, and the proposal of the Erie member was lost in the laughter. Fitzgerald was attempting a revolt against the leadership of Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania, whose guidance was seen in every move of last night's caucus.

Democrats also indorsed a proposal to have a Committee on Committees rather than the Speaker name the House committees, but there is little prospect that this proposal will be adopted. Pinchot Republicans, reported to have been flirting with the minority party on this subject, were cooling this morning, and there were some Democrats against it.

John R. Collins, former Democratic state chairman, deposed by the Guffey forces last summer when Warren VanDyke was made titular head of party, let it be known he was against a change in the committee system, and criticized anything savoring of a deal with the Governor or any other faction in the Republican party.

In the controversy with Fitzgerald, Representative John J. Kane, of the Allegheny Sixth District, led the fight for Sarig. Quinn had been elected chairman of the caucus after VanDyke called the meeting to order.

URGE SPEEDY SESSION

The Republicans stole a march on the Democrats in both their House and Senate caucuses by expressing a determination to so expedite business that final adjournment could be had April 13. No binding resolution to this effect was ordered by the Republicans, but Representative Joseph G. Steedle, of McKees Rocks, expressed the sentiment in a resolution that in the near future formal action should be taken to set an adjournment date.

Senator James Boyd, Republican, of Montgomery, was elected president pro tem of the Senate this afternoon, carrying out the decision of the caucus.

Steedle, named chairman of the House State Committee, to parcel out house patronage, is certain to be named chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee.

"The wage of sin is death. I will have mine and if there is a God you will have yours too, for what you and George have made me suffer. You can have him now."

In Columbus today, Miss Kelly, a rooming-house keeper, said that Lashley, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, had roomed at her house last spring, but she added:

"I am greatly surprised. I only know Mr. Lashley as I have known other men who have boarded at my house. We are not lovers and never were.

NOTE TO HUSBAND

To her husband Mrs. Lashley wrote:

"I know I am a burden on you. You don't care for me. I have often told you I would never stand in your way, but I have for two years, but everything will end some time.

"I hope you will be happy. If everything goes good like I want it to, take my body to McDonald for burial, straight to the graveyard. Goodbye, with lots of love."

The letter was signed "Esther." In a postscript she wrote:

"Be good to the children. I am sorry I spoiled your Columbus trip. But now you have everything the way you want it. I hope she cares as much as I did.

"Be good to Mary and Billy. God bless them both. I hope they will always be good. I have done this to make you happy. Pray that I won't go to Hell. With all my heart."

ASKS FORGIVENESS

A third letter was to her mother, Mrs. T. B. Smith, of 226 Park street, Zanesville, O. It directed disposal of her jewels and clothing and added:

"Forgive me for what I am about to do. I want to thank Tom for his kindness. God bless you all. Esther.

"Don't worry about me. I will be far better off.

The fatal plunge was witnessed by Gildo Vogrig, of 857 Boggs avenue, who told police he saw the woman climb the railing. Near the spot he found the purse and turned it over to police.

Lashley at his home in Washington told police Mrs. Lashley had leftt heir home yesterday afternoon to attend a theater in Pittsburgh. At 8:30 last night she telephoned she had missed the train and would be home on the street car. He met the car, he said, but she did not arrive.

Lashley said they were married 13 years and formerly lived in Chester. They have two children, Mary Virginia, 8, and Billy, 12.

DAIL DISSOLVED BY DE VALERA

DUBLIN, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Predicting victory over his political opponents, President Eamonn De Valera, of the Irish Free State, announced today the Dail Eireann, lower legislative house, had been dissolved. A general election will be held January 24.

The dramatic decision of the government to dissolve the Dail, reached at a lengthy cabinet meeting, was interpreted as an answer to the Laborites, headed by William Norton, who attempted to force the government to withdraw its civil service wage reduction program, now in effect.

President De Valera said he felt certain the cabinet holds the complete confidence of the Irish Free State electorate.

Gawthrop Joins Law Firm in Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Judge Robert S. Gawthrop, of West Chester, whose term in the Superior Court bench just expired, today was a member of the law firm of Hause, Gawthrop, Evans and Storey, with offices in Harrisburg.

The firm was formerly known as Hause, Evans and Baker. Judge Gawthrop replaces Ralph J. Baker, who has left the firm to become a professor at Harvard Law School.

JAPS BOMBARD CHINESE CITY

The latest Japanese onslaught began at 2 p. m., and ended with twilight. With naval, aerial and artillery forces combining in the attack, hundreds of shells landed within the walled city. The historic drum tower was demolished by a well-placed shot.

Japanese troops concentrated their fire on the south and east gates of the city. One detachment managed to reach the south gate, but the Chinese, employing hand grenades and bayonets, successfully repulsed the attackers after half an hour of bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

LINES UNCHANGED

When the Japanese bombardment ceased, both Japanese and Chinese lines remained virtually unchanged, Gen. Ho Chi-Kuo reported. The commander advised Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang that he was preparing to repel another attack which he expects the Japanese to launch tonight.

The presence of two Japanese warships at Chingwang-Tao menaced the Chinese rear. Foreign observers reported a steady movement of Chinese troop trains toward Shanhaikwan, but remarked it would be little short of miraculous if the defenders are able to hold out for another day in the face of overwhelming odds.

Pinchot Denies He'll Quit as Governor

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot today denied that he would resign as Governor to accept appointment to the United States Senate.

He said he was elected Governor by the people of Pennsylvania and he proposes to stick to it.

COURT BLOCKS P.S.C. QUIZ FUND

Investigating Group Restrained From Using Sum

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The Dauphin County Court today permanently restrained the Senate Utilities Investigating Committee from spending any of the $100,000 appropriated to it by the 1932 special session of the Legislature.

The decision prevents the committee from continuing hearings or incurring any expense whatever unless the 1933 session makes a new appropriation to finance the inquiry.

The decision was given in a taxpayer's suit brought by Ira Jewell Williams, Philadelphia attorney and counsel for former Public Service Commissioner James S. Benn.

Oliver K. Eaton, chief counsel for the committee, today said he would take immediate steps to have an early hearing in the State Supreme Court on an appeal from the local court's ruling that the appropriation is invalid.

Utilities Restrictions Proposed in Bills

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Measures designed to curb the alleged evils of utilities were introduced with the report to the Senate of the Senate Utility Committee today.

Included in the list of bills were measures to:

Govern holding companies and their affiliates.

Supervise the issuance of utility securities by the Public Service Commission.

Repeal the exemption of utility employes from the control of the Pennsylvania Securities Commission in the sale of stock.

Eliminate ready to serve charges, abolishing advance penalties for non-payment of bills within a certain time, and limiting the penalty for laxity to 10 per cent.

Instruct Public Service Commissioners to give their whole time to their offices.

Prohibit increase of rates until after a decision by the commission except in an emergency, when, upon presentation of proper explanation, rates may be advanced, but with an impounding of the increase pending a decision by the commission.

Limit the additional cost of hand phones to 15 cents a month, collectable only for the first three years.

In its report the committee charged the Duquesne Light Company since 1923 has charged rates sufficiently high to yield it an annual average profit of 14 per cent, despite the Public Service Commission's ruling that utility dividends should not exceed 7 per cent.

POWER COST STUDY BACKED

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(Universal.)—President-elect Roosevelt, Gov. Lehman and Gov. Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, will co-operate with the Institute of Public Engineering in its inquiry into the distribution costs of electric power, it was announced last night by the Power Authority of the state of New York.

The institute, formed to provide a forum for the discussion and study of such costs by eminent engineers, will launch its inquiry at a meeting here on January 20.

Public service commissions of the District of Columbia, New York and Pennsylvania and their engineering bureaus are co-operating.

Thus, because of mistaken legislation based on shortsightedness, and a certain spirit of vindictiveness, the incomes of the well-to-do were driven out of taxable industry into tax-exempt securities; and many working people lost their jobs and their homes, and many farmers lost their market and their farms; and many mills and mines ran on half-time and half-pay or closed altogether.

What an appalling indictment of the intelligence and judgment and patriotism, too, of the Seventy-second Congress!

DID THE Seventy-second Congress do anything else in its alleged policy of relief?—God save the mark!

Yes, it passed a selective sales tax.

That is, it selected certain industries which were in distress and piled the burden of discriminatory taxes upon them, to put them into direr distress or possibly to destroy them altogether.

The consequences of this further un-American policy of unjust, discriminatory taxation, was to compel these "selected" and tax-burdened industries to restrict their activities, and add hundreds of thousands more of men to the millions already unemployed.

Finally this Seventy-second Congress emphasized its fundamental lack of economic knowledge by appropriating billions to relieve the high financiers and international bankers who had gotten the nation into this depression, and doing little or nothing to relieve the unemployed with work and wages, which is the one sure way of getting the nation out of the depression.

As a result of this preferential policy, the banks are hoarding and the workers are starving.

THE HOPE of Congress undoubtedly was that the billions supplied the top financial strata would trickle down through the channels of industry to ultimately reach and benefit the people.

But the money has largely been dammed up in the banks. The banks have not made loans. They have called loans.

To be "liquid," the banks have hoarded money until they are on the point of being drowned in their own liquidity.

The public welfare is already submerged by it.

Meanwhile the number of unemployed, unconsidered, and unaided, has grown from eight million to ten million, and from ten million to twelve million, and may not stop growing until Communism, or Bolshevism, or Technocracy, or some other quack socialistic cure-all, shall stage a demonstration sufficient to rouse the Seventy-second Congress out of its smug ignorance and lethargic indifference.

SENATORS and Representatives in the Seventy-second Congress—before you adjourn sine die, with a record everlastingly to your discredit, pass SOME measures which will actually relieve the depression instead of intensifying it.

Pass the sales tax measure to balance the budget.

Pass the five billion dollar prosperity loan to provide employment in needed public work for needed national development.

Fortify the credit of the United States with a balanced budget, and employ that credit to distribute wealth in wages, and so increase the purchasing power of the community and the consuming capacity of the country; and so set the wheels of industry awhir; and so provide markets for the products of the mines, and the farms; and so restore American prosperity and maintain the American standard of living throughout the land.

Gentlemen of the Seventy-second Congress—it is not only your duty to do this—it is your God-given privilege to be able to do it.

Do not fail or fall short in this opportunity to benefit the nation and to redeem yourselves.

HOOVER RAPS OPPOSITION IN HOUSE

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Hoover charged today that the Democratic proposal to halt governmental reorganization at the present time was "a backward step." He declared:

"The proposal to transfer the job of reorganization to my successor is simply a device by which it is hoped that these proposals can be defeated."

CLAIMS LOG ROLLING

Log rolling, personal politics, and the activities of powerful lobbies representing special interests are back of the move to stave off any reorganization of the government, Mr. Hoover declared, adding:

"Either Congress must keep its hands off now or they must give to my successor much larger powers of independent action than given to any President if there is ever to be reorganization. And that authority to be effective, should be free of the limitations in the law passed last year which gives Congress the veto power, which prevents the abolition of functions, which prevent the rearrangement of major departments. Otherwise it will, as is now being demonstrated in the present law, again be merely make-believe."

HITS PRESENT POLICY

The President asserted that any real organization sooner or later will have to embrace the very order he already has issued, and which is now lying before Congress. He pointed out, for example, that the proposal for a coordinated public works agency has been recommended by every president since Theodore Roosevelt. He said:

"Every other advanced government on earth has a definite public works department or division. No private business and no other government would tolerate the division of its construction work into over 20 authorities in 12 different departments and establishments, as is the case of our government.

"No other government and no good government would tolerate merchant marine activities separated over seven departments or independent establishments. The same can be said as to public health, education, land utilization, etc.

"The opposition to placing rivers and harbors work and a lot of independent activities into such a consolidation has been constant for years. The excuse that the services of the Army engineers in the direction of such work will be sacrificed is untrue under the plan that I have instituted."

JOHNSON DEBT TALK AWAITED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Senator Hiram W. Johnson (Rep.), of California, today served notice on the Senate he would speak tomorrow on the subject of foreign war debts.

The announcement was regarded as certain to open a flood of debate over the action of France and other European nations in repudiating their debt payments last December 15. A score of senators postponed discussion of the issue last month in the belief that France might reverse her position and pay the debt installment.

Home Coal Purchase Proposed in Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—Only coal mined in Ohio may be purchased with taxpayers' funds for use in Ohio public buildings under terms of a bill introduced in the Ohio Senate today by Senator Earl R. Lewis. The bill is based on a statute in effect in Indiana and will benefit 23 Ohio mining counties.

SET LEGAL DUEL ON BEER BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—The stage was set today for a clash Saturday between the wets and drys over the constitutionality of the House bill for beer of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content by weight.

The debate was scheduled to be held before a sub-committee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, with the drys having three hours in which to present their arguments and the wets an equal time in which to offer testimony.

Senator Sheppard (Dem.), of Texas, co-author of the Eighteenth Amendment, said:

"I am convinced that 3.2 per cent beer is unconstitutional so long as the Eighteenth Amendment is part of the nation's organic law."

Senator Norris (Rep.), of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said:

Gross Jail Parole Ends on Thursday

Howard F. Gross, stationary engineer at Frankstown Avenue Police Station, convicted of "jury fixing" in Butler County in connection with the trial of Mayor Charles H. Kline and Bertram L. Succop, who has been working for the city while on two parole periods is due back at the Butler County Jail on Thursday, it was announced today. He was paroled on the plea of illness of his wife.

Virgin Birth Discovered In Vertebrates

By GOBIND BEHARI LAL,
Universal Service Science Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Virgin birth, or parthogenesis, on a wholesale scale, has been discovered for the first time in a vertebrate animal.

A certain variety of fish, originally produced as hybrids by crossing of males and females of two other fish species, generates purely female offspring. In other words, the descendants of fish females are all females, and show no apparent hereditary qualities of the male side.

This sort of thing, opening up a new explanation of evolution or sudden rise of a new species, through mating of older and different species among vertebrates or backboned animals, has been discovered by Drs. Carl L. Hubbs and Laura C. Hubbs, of the Museum of Zoology, University of Michigan.

PRINCESS HIDES AFTER RETURN FROM LONDON

Believed Forlorn Over Shattered Romance With George

BY STAN HEDMAN
International News Service.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 3.—What is the secret behind the failure of the marriage plans of Princess Ingrid of Sweden and Prince George of England to materialize?

Did the British Prince's ardor cool when Ingrid went to London to return his ostensibly happy visit to Stockholm?

Did she return to her capital heartbroken? Does a shattered romance hold the key to her present isloation at the castle of her brother in the country five miles from Stockholm?

NATION DISAPPOINTED

These are the questions agitating court gossips here and in London. It is no secret that all Sweden fully expected the engagement of Princess Ingrid and Prince George would be announced on November 11 last. Nor is it a secret that the nation was bitterly disappointed when there was no announcement.

Those who believe that Prince George's infatuation may have been short-lived point to the fact that while he was in Stockholm he was almost constantly in Princess Ingrid's company.

When she visited London, however, he was almost never with her.

Her departure from the capital unquestionably was hurried. She had planned to remain in London at least until November 11, when her father, the Swedish crown prince, celebrated his 50th birthday in the British capital.

But she boarded a plane for Brussels and then for home unexpectedly on the third of November. Prince George failed to see her off. Her departure itself was a surprise to aristocracy and commoners alike of Sweden, and Prince George's absence at the airport was none the less so.

SHUNS PUBLIC FETES

Since her return, Ingrid has spent most of her time at Prince Gustav Adolf's castle in Ulrikedal. Her only public appearances have been at a few charity bazars and official entertainments. The crown prince's court marshal states emphatically that she does not plan another visit to London.

Meanwhile, other members of the royal family are taking up various vocations. Gustav Adolf plans to study banking, and has arranged to take a post shortly with the big Intechningsbanken of Stockholm.

His aunt, the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, is a well-known authoress. The latter's son, Prince Lennart, who wed a commoner and sacrificed his royal prerogatives, has tried his luck as author and stage manager.

QUIZ MYSTERY DEATH SUSPECT

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Wearing gloves with stains like blood, and closely resembling the man hunted for the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Steese, young welfare worker, a mysterious suspect was subjected to close questioning today by detectives investigating the crime.

The man walked into police headquarters last night and asked that he be locked up, explaining "so I don't do anything to myself."

He said he knew nothing about the murder but said he had served a sentence at Canyon City, Col., for a $63,000 robbery, and that he was wanted at Erie, Pa., and Pittsburgh, for cashing fraudulent checks.

Mrs. Steese was kidnaped last Friday as she left an East Side bank with nearly $200.

Her body was found 40 minutes later, 14 miles way, in an automobile. She had been blindfolded, robbed, and shot twice in the head.

350-Mile Dash Nets Suspect in Slaying

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—After a 350-mile overnight automobile dash from Lexington, three Kentucky policemen "got their man," George "Scribby" Tincher, today as he stepped off a Memphis bus here.

Tincher, police said, admitted he was a convicted bank robber and burglar, accused in Kentucky of two bank holdups last November, in one of which a cashier was slain. He will be taken back to stand trial with four other men.

DR. CUNO DIES; EX-CHANCELLOR

HAMBURG, Germany, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Dr. Wilhelm Cuno, former chancellor of Germany and general manager of the Hamburg-American Steamship Line, died today.

Dr. Cuno was born July 2, 1876, at Suhl, Thuringia. After completing a university career he entered the civil service and soon became counsellor in the Prussian finance ministry.

During the war he held a leading position with the war-food ministry. In the winter of 1917 he left the government service and became a director of the Hamburg-American shipping line.

Becoming Chancellor of Germany in November, 1922, he organized the ill-fated "passive resistance" against France's activities in Ruhr Valley, which Gustav Stresemann quickly ended when he succeeded Dr. Cuno August 12, 1923.

GRAHAM, GLASS MAKER, DIES

James H. Graham, 77, of 7731 Hamilton avenue, vice president and secretary of the J. T. and A. Hamilton Company, glass manufacturers, died early today at the Pittsburgh Hospital.

Graham, a lifelong Pittsburgh resident, had been actively identified with the glass industry for more than half a century. He had been with the Hamilton company for 54 years. In addition to being an official of the Hamilton company, he was also a member of the board of directors of the Glass Containers' Association of the United States. He was a member of the Third Presbyterian Church, the Odd Fellows and Keystone Club. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Philletta Graham and a daughter, Miss Frances Graham.

Chemist Presses Hunt for Son's Body

NAHANT, Mass., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Edward Mallinckrodt II, St. Louis chemical manufacturer, through his attorney, has offered $200 reward to anyone who locates the airplane in which his son, Edward Mallinckrodt III, and Donald Frost, Boston, Harvard freshmen, plunged into the ocean last Thursday.

Coast Guards who are assisting in the work, said they believed both bodies are strapped in the seats of the plane.

ONE GETS TERM IN ARNOLD RIOT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 3.—John B. Yoder, coal and iron policeman, today was sentenced by Judge D. W. Henderson to serve two and one-half to seven years in the Western Penitentiary, and eight others, convicted with him on a manslaughter charge, were paroled for three years. The nine, including a mine superintendent, two coal and iron policemen and six deputy sheriffs, were convicted last April of the killing of Mike Philipovich, in the Arnold City mine strike riot, June 23, 1931.

During the trial it was testified that the gun carried by Yoder discharged the bullet that killed Philipovich on the porch of his store during the riot. Those paroled and ordered to pay $5 monthly during their parole, costs of the case, were Supt. Ernest Barnes, James Buttermore, Parker Claybaugh, Ted Hunt, Roy Ingram, Wesley Fisher, Donald Royster and Jess Cisley.

HOLDS HOOVER REPORT BACKS TECHNOCRACY

Committee's Finding Supports Theory, Expert Asserts

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Walter Rauden-strauch, professor of industrial engineering and one of the leaders of the Technocratic group at Columbia University, today said the Hoover Research Committee's report on social trends supports the major findings of Technocracy. He added:

"The machine has been the cause of a great deal of unemployment under the present system."

A summary of the report, he declared, "seems to indicate that it is not at variance with the major findings of technocracy. It rather supports them."

URGES MORE PRE-VISION

The "prospect of a continuance of the democratic regime, with higher standards of achievement" and "with more pre-vision and contriving spirit," was advanced by the Committee on Social Trends in its report.

It declared, however, that the future will call for "wide and bold experimentation" because of the social relations crowding within governmental influence and control.

A review of the survey declares:

"It seems inevitable that the varied interests of the country will find themselves invoking more the help of the government to meet emergencies, to safeguard them against threatened dangers, to establish standards and to aid them in extending or defending markets."

It visioned the rise of new types of politico-economic organization, neither purely governmental nor purely business, greater executive power and increased centralization.

CITES JOBLESS CRISIS

Mentioning unemployment insurance and old-age pensions, it asserted:

"The committee is aware of the numerous objections urged against these schemes of social insurance, but it is also impressed by the inarticulate misery of the hundreds of thousands or millions of breadwinners who are deprived of their livelihoods through no fault of their own.

"To put the cost of unemployment squarely upon those who remain at work, upon employers and upon the public purse makes everyone conscious of the difficulty and focusses attention upon the need of devising more constructive methods for dealing with it."

"For the very near future the standard of living may decline, partly because of the weakness of collective action on the part of wage earners."

Baby Left by 'Unhappy Mother'

The about-8-week-old baby left on the Vandermiller doorstep with this note: "God will reward you someday for your kindness to this poor little baby. God bless you all. Unhappy Mother."

FIND DESERTED BABY ON PORCH

An 8-weeks-old baby girl was abandoned on the back porch of the home of Mrs. Martin Vandermiller, 4566 Friendship avenue, early today.

Mrs. Vandermiller told police she found the child after receipt of a telephone call saying if she looked on her back porch she would find a package.

The baby, 8 weeks old, was well dressed. To its clothing a note was pinned describing it of German parentage and of the inability of the family to keep it longer.

Ohio Mayor Jailed On Liquor Charge

STEUBENVILLE, O., Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Frank Burns, Mayor of Stratton, O., was held in the Jefferson County jail here today pending arraignment before United States Judge Benson Hought at Columbus on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Clifford Byers, 29, and William Byers, 27, were others placed under arrest with the Mayor as a result of indictments, charging that certain officials provided protection for liquor shipments of a whisky syndicate.

SMITH MOURNS WOMAN AIDE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Grief bowed Alfred E. Smith today as he lamented the death of Mrs. Belle Lindner Moskowitz, his adviser and chief strategist, a woman who came to be calleld a "feminine Col. House" during Smith's ascendency in the Democratic party. Tearful, Smith said:

"I regard the passing of Mrs. Moskowitz as a disaster."

He hurried to New York from Albany, where he had attended Gov. Lehman's inauguration.

Mrs. Moskowitz, who was one of the most powerful women in politics and statecraft, died yesterday of a heart attack that followed a fall in which her right arm and left wrist were broken. She was 55.

A great gathering of leaders in civic and social life is expected to attend the funeral services, which are to be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow at Temple Emanu-El.

FIVE LOOT INN NEAR AVELLA

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Five robbers, whose leader insisted on shaking hands with his victims, took $2,000 in cash and valuables during a holdup of the Breezy Heights Inn, between Avella and Washington, early today.

Jack Seback, the proprietor, said he was robbed of $320.

The guests, most of them from Western Pennsylvania, lost cash, jewelry and coats, Sebach told police.

BANDITS SHOOT 3 IN HOLDUP OF CABARET

Five Thugs Open Fire After Lining 30 Along Wall

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Lining 30 men along the wa after robbing them of jewelr and cash early today, five bar dits armed with shotgun raked their victims with volley in execution squ fashion, then fled the Blosso Club, Brooklyn resort.

Three men, Samuel Cirocasi, 24; James Adams, 24, and Stanley Tableski, 36, fell wounded under the blast of shotgun pellets.

Two others were slightly injured when struck by gun butts after a number of victims, panic-stricken by the murderous volley, attacked the holdup men with their fists.

All of the stickup men escaped in an automobile parked near the club.

The bandits entered after posting a lookout and ordered the inmates to stand in line. Two then collected money and jewelry while the others covered the victims with guns. When the loot was assembled, the five took position at a word from the leader and each fired one shot at the line of hapless patrons.

Police surgeons who arrived shortly after the holdup said the three wounded men will recover.

SLAYER OF FAY FEARED DOOMED

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—With four men, their identities closely guarded, and a pretty hat check girl preparing today to give the district attorney their versions of the slaying of Larry Fay, racketeer, night club operator and Broadway playboy, police redoubled efforts to apprehand Edward Maloney, charged with the killing.

For there was definite belief among detectives that unless Maloney is found soon the arm of underworld vengeance will reach him first.

The former state trooper and prohibition agent, who police are convinced shot Fay in his garish uptown night club in an argument over $67 Maloney claimed the racketeer owed him, was believed to be "on the spot" for Fay's underworld pals.

For, although Fay died with only 30 cents in his pocket, his once powerful half-world position gone and the rackets which netted him close to $2,000,000 disrupted, he had friends. And police believed they would wield ruthless vengeance against Fay's slayer.

PLAYBOY FIGHTS JUDD CHARGE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 3.—(INS.)—A vigorous effort to quash the indictment against J. J. (Happy Jack) Halloran as an accessory in the Winnie Ruth Judd "trunk muders" was launched today as the rich lumberman appeared in Superior Court for arraignment.

As a result, Halloran's plea was put over until tomorrow to give the new prosecutor, Renz L. Hennings, time in which to study the move by the lumberman's lawyers.

FLORENCE, Ariz., Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Behind the somber walls of Arizona State Penitentiary, in the shadow of Superstition Mountains, a frail blue-eyed young woman played today with her prison pet, Angel, a topaz-eyed black cat.

Outwardly cheerful and smiling but obviously nervous and distraught, Winnie Ruth Judd waited news from Phoenix. There a court drama was being opened which she believes will figu in answering the question of whether she must hang on February 17 for the murder of Agnes Anne Leroi and Hedvig Samuelson.

The convicted "trunk murderess" was bitterly disappointed when prison officials informed her she would not be called as a witness today.

Husband Hunters Freed After N. Y. Parade

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Husband hunting is still legal on Broadway.

When the 13 dance hall hostesses, who staged a parade on Broadway last Saturday as a final gesture of the leap year, were arrested by Officer Batterbee, there was some question about the rights of a girl to go man-hunting along the big stem.

But that was all cleared up by Justice Brodsky today, when he dismissed the charges against the single-but-hopeful young ladies. He said:

"A natural New Years Eve event."

Thirteen strong, they marched down Broadway, flying such banners as "We're Leap Year Ladies," and "We Want to Get Married," but before any curbstone males could make a bid, Batterbee decided they were obstructing traffic and handed out tickets.

When the girls filed out of court today they said so far there had been no offers, but they had hopes, and—several anonymous telephone calls.

DONAHOE'S start the New Year with a GREAT COFFEE SALE!

YOU'VE resolved to DO things in 1933. And outside of your own ambition there is nothing that will give you a greater stimulus than a steaming cup of Donahoe's Fine Coffee. So come in today or tomorrow and take home some of the beverage that fosters ambition, stiffens the backbone and helps to keep you in the mood to DO the things you have resolved to do in 1933.

Donahoe's Coffee—"the drink that takes the edge off the morning and gives you the edge on the day."

THE COFFEE HOUSE OF PITTSBURGH

These photographs were taken at Donahoe's Warehouse during a former great coffee sale. These very same scenes are now being re-enacted as we get ready for our first great Coffee Sale in 1933.

Here's The Story The Photos Tell

The center photo (at left) shows a section in the Donahoe warehouse, where 396,000 pounds of green coffee—3,000 bags of 132 pounds each—make a solid mountain of coffee 160 feet long, 8 feet high, 10 feet deep.

Green coffee improves with age—in addition to carrying an immense stock of green coffee "mellowing out" in our own warehouse, Donahoe's generally carry a tremendous stock of green coffee in New York warehouses—for instance, in October, 1931, Donahoe's had the record-breaking stock of one million three hundred twenty-six thousand two hundred and four (1,326,204)

Photo at lower left shows Donahoe's modern coffee-roasting plant in operation. It has a daily coffee-roasting capacity of 36,000 pounds. Frequently we are obliged to operate it day AND night.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Cholera, Once Most Feared of Diseases, Still a Menace

It is a hundred years since America had a serious epidemic of cholera. In 1832, New York City suffered terribly from this dread disease.

A recent newspaper clipping reports a serious outbreak in China and nearby countries. Though the danger is remote, yet every such epidemic is a menace to the rest of the world. With cold weather and the rigid enforcement of hygienic measures, it is believed the pestilence will be controlled.

Dr. Copeland

Most persons have heard about cholera, but few realize what a serious and fatal ailment it can be. It used to be the most dreaded disease of mankind. It is essentially a tropical disease, but occasionally, due to negligence in quarantine, outbreaks have occurred in colder climates.

Cholera is caused by a germ known as the "spirillum cholera." It was discovered by that eminent scientist, Dr. Robert Koch. He described it as the "comma bacillus" because of its resemblance to that punctuation mark. This was a wonderful discovery, because it made possible our present measures of protection against cholera.

The disease is found in places where many persons congregate under unsanitary and unhygienic conditions. Contaminated food and water, unhygienic surroundings, such as have been found in war-devastated China, are favorable to the progress of this disease. It is transferred to man by flies, soiled fingers, food and other objects contaminated by the germs of cholera.

The danger of cholera is always present. It is spread by man from place to place. It is often discovered in seaports where vessels dock from many foreign countries.

The menace of this disease is increased by so-called "cholera carriers." A cholera carrier is an individual who is not suffering from cholera himself, but is infected with the germs of cholera and is capable of infecting others. These persons are a constant source of danger to the public, as well as to their immediate families.

Fortunately, cholera can now be prevented from becoming a world wide disease. Rigid quarantine inspection of all incoming boats and passengers prevents the entrance of cholera into this country. This precaution is now practiced by all nations. It has been especially successful here.

We are indeed grateful for the valuable discovery of Koch and his colleagues, whose untiring efforts made possible the control of this disease. Cholera, like smallpox, is rapidly disappearing as a menace to mankind. But not until it has been completely eradicated from all parts of the world, can we say that we are safe from this disease.

Answers to Health Queries

Marcia. Q.—I am 22, 5 feet 4 inches tall, what should I weigh?

A.—You should weigh about 126 pounds. This is about the average weight for one of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

DO HEADACHES DRIVE YOU CRAZY?

It's the worst kind of folly to dope and drug yourself every time you have one of those blinding, throbbing headaches. For drugs only relieve the pain for the moment, and in a little while the headache returns worse than ever and you have to drug yourself all over again. You've got to get at the cause.

Poisons created in your own body cause these severe headaches, and you must remove the poisons to get relief of a lasting nature.

By starting the new harmless Cream of Nujol treatment, today, you may free yourself from this constant torment.

This new form of Nujol is specially designed to rid you of poisons which very often cause this condition.

Cream of Nujol contains no drugs, and does not in any way interfere with work or play. It is delicious to take. Moreover, you can use this modern treatment at a cost of but a few cents a day.

Take Cream of Nujol night and morning. Begin this very night and give it a real trial. Buy it at any drug counter.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This simple mixture soothes and heals the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

'BUY AMERICAN' PLEDGE GIVEN BY VETS

Other Organizations Joining in Campaign

War veteran and other organizations are getting individual pledges from their membership to "Buy American," leading political figures are urging their constituents to look for the "Made in America" stamp when they buy, business leaders are urging their families, employes and friends to do likewise.

For "Buy American," the campaign to start American factories and spur employment among American unemployed, is beginning to function, and move towards its objective—furnishing orders and employment.

Camp Adjt. D. G. McCafferty, of Capt. Alfred E. Hunt Camp, No. 1, United Spanish War Veterans, wrote today its members unanimously passed a resolution, insisting they, the members of their families, buy American goods only.

DAVIS APPROVES

United States Senator James J. Davis declared:

"Because of debased foreign currencies, our tariff laws no longer afford adequate protection. If the Sun-Telegraph can kindle the fires of American patriotism so that our people will buy American goods, it will mean added work for our laborers and assure an early return of prosperity."

Charles H. West, president of the Westmoreland Glass Company, wrote:

"Buy American glassware and keep Americans employed. The American glassworker today gets from one to four days work a week—an average of two days, and can barely live. And it would be impossible for the American workmen to live on European wages, which are one-fourth of his. The next step after 'Buy American' is to amend or repeal the Eighteenth Amendment so beer and light wines might be manufactured. I believe the campaign will have a good psychological effect, which is needed now."

POTTER'S VIEWS

John B. McDonald, secretary of the Edwin M. Knowles China Company, East Liverpool, O., writes:

"Every time our people purchase foreign made merchandise, they are taking away from some American workman his chance to make a livelihood. Our average wage is 70 cents an hour. Japan's is six cents an hour."

Congressman Adam Wyant, of Greensburg, declared:

"Of course it is human nature to buy where you can buy cheapest, but if buying American will improve conditions, I think we ought to change human nature."

NO BUYING, NO SELLING

Congressman Clyde Kelly said:

"If we don't buy American, we can't sell American, and this depression is going to stay with us until we do both."

Harry W. Smith, of the Sterling Borax Company, New Brighton, says:

"Your clear expressions and logical conclusions should have the hearty appreciation of every producer and worker. I noted the report of a speech by Ambassador Grew before a large audience of financial and industrial notables in Japan last week given as an illustration of America's good feeling towards Japan that 14 American corporations were operating plants in Japan with an investment of $50,000,000. It would be highly interesting to American labor and to American consumers to know the names of these patriotic American industrialists and what effect their $50,000,000 investment is having on American industry."

Louis J. Reizenstein, president of Falk & Co., manufacturers of soap, declared:

"Until world currency is stabilized, the 'Buy American' campaign is an adequate measure. But it must cease when normal conditions return."

Former Pittsburgh Man Dies in Italy

FLORENCE, Italy, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—William Frederick Albree, 63, of Ithaca, N. Y., who was born in Pittsburgh, died here yesterday. He was touring Italy, accompanied by his wife. He leaves a son, Joseph, of Coral Gables, Fla., and a daughter, Mrs. Gilbert M. Weeks, of Ithaca, N. Y.

Mr. Albree is a brother-in-law of Mrs. John P. Penney, Jr., 1116 Western avenue. Mrs. Penney is in New York to arrange for the funeral.

Trapped By Flames, Man and Wife Killed

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—(Universal)—Trapped by flames in their small fourth-floor apartment, John Keenan, 51, and his wife, Elizabeth, 50, were burned to death yesterday. They had been receiving aid from the emergency relief fund.

Occupants of the other apartments fled to safety.

Find Woman Beaten To Death in Home

YORK, S. C., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Miss Zula Stephenson, about 52, was found beaten to death late yesterday in her home four miles from here. Will Sanders, a Negro of the neighborhood, was arrested as a suspect and taken to the state penitentiary at Columbia as a precaution against possible mob violence.

Hangs Up Bathtub Sans Clothes, Police Called

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—When an excited feminine voice reported a crazy man was running about unclothed in her neighborhood, Deputy Sheriff Bourke Powell rushed out to see about it.

He found that a resident in a hurry to hang up his tin bathtub at the rear of the house after bathing had attended to this detail before dressing.

CHINESE FEED OWN NEEDY

Welfare workers noticing the lack of Chinese faces among those applying to them for help started making inquiries.

Yesterday in the words of Yee Toy, importer of fine goods of the Quong Yee Tang Company, 520 Second avenue, they got their answer:

"We take care of our own."

Here daily, as honored guests, 100 sit down to meals of rice and meats prepared for them in the manner of their fathers. A similar plan is carried on in other cities having large Chinese populations.

Of Pittsburgh's one-time population of approximately 1,000 Chinese, only 600 remain. Some have sought more prosperous conditions elsewhere, and still others have returned to their native land.

BLAST, 3 FIRES IN BRADDOCK

An explosion and fire destroyed the second and third floors of a three-story brick building at 646 Corey avenue, Braddock, early yesterday morning. Harry Litman and members of his family, occupants of the dwelling, were not at home when the explosion, of undetermined origin, occurred. Fire companies of Braddock, North Braddock and Rankin were called to prevent the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings.

Two other Braddock fires caused slight damage to dwellings. According to Fire Chief T. K. Martin a defective flue caused $600 damage to the home of M. Solomon and Maurice Schacter, 557 Corey avenue. Damage caused by an overheated grate at 701 Talbot avenue was estimated at $500.

JERRY WALKED OUT, WIFE SAYS

Edward Gerard Wyman, better known to the radio audience as Jerry Wyman, former Pittsburgh radio announcer, got tired of married life and walked out, according to his wife, Winifred Condon Wyman, who testified at her divorce hearing today before Judge Thomas M. Marshall.

"Jerry" ran around a lot after they were married, August 7, 1922, his wife testified, alleging desertion. So in 1927 they agreed to separate for a year "in order to pay up their debts," she continued.

At the end of the year, "Jerry" came back for a month, but it was then that he "walked out," Mrs. Wyman testified.

AUTO LICENSES SHOW DECLINE

The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles today announced approximately 1,146,569 license tags for 1933 had been issued at the close of business yesterday. This is a decrease of 103,029 from the total registrations last year.

Total registrations yesterday were estimated at 21,000, of which 13,000 were issued by mail.

Officials of the State Highway Patrol said comparatively few arrests of motorists using 1932 licenses had been made.

Supreme Court O.K.'s Reed as Constable

John W. Reed's appointment as deputy constable in the office of Alderman Samuel McKinley, Thirteenth Ward, was affirmed today by the Supreme Court, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Philadelphia. Reed, who lives and votes in the Fifth Ward, was appointed to the post last summer by Judge James H. Gray. He was opposed in the courts, he said, by John S. Herron, president of City Council, Harry Neiman and Scott Morgan, on the ground he could not live in one ward and serve in another.

2 Gunmen Hold Up Store in East End

Herding two clerks into a rear room, three armed men robbed the cash register of a chain store at 925 Mellon street, today of $18 and escaped, police reported. The clerks, John Porter, 603 Edmond street, and Jeanette Neely, 5306 Rosella street, were alone when the men entered. Ordering them to the rear room, one pointed a revolver while the others looted the cash register, police said.

HEARST TARIFF PLAN LAUDED BY LEADERS

Industrialists Here Back Policy as Key To Prosperity

Leading manufacturers were enthusiastic in their indorsement of the second of William Randolph Hearst's 11 prosperity policies when questioned today.

The proposal calls for increased tariff duties on articles manufactured by foreign labor pauperized by depreciated currencies to a point where the duties will offset the depreciation of the currencies, thus maintaining the American standard of living, protecting our home market for our home industries and providing work for our own American citizens.

PROTECTION VITAL

Frank R. Frost, president of the Superior Steel Corporation, makers of strip steel, declared that increased tariff protection is essential if the steel industry is to restore jobs to its workers and to withstand the inroads of foreign products made by cheap labor paid in depreciated currency. Frost said:

"Only some of the products of our company come into direct competition with foreign steel and those only on the Atlantic seaboard, but the great danger for American labor lies in the fact that other steel products which do encounter serious foreign competition will be reduced in price by foreign producers with cheap labor. This will undermine all steel prices. Besides the direct effect of decreasing employment here, lower prices would make it increasingly difficult for the steel companies to maintain even their present reduced scale of wages.

"Increased tariff protection for the steel industry is absolutely necessary to protect the jobs and the wages of American workers."

WOULD AID JOBLESS

H. S. Wherrett, president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, declared:

"I am very much in sympathy with Mr. Hearst's tariff policy. The need for higher tariffs is made particularly great by the probability that American workers will have shorter working hours permanently with correspondingly reductions in their income. Keeping out foreign products will certainly help the unemployment situation."

Trapped by Flames, Man Saved by Leap

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—One of the oldest residences in this county, the home of Mrs. Cora W. Allen, at North East, near here, is in ruins today—leveled by fire. F. W. Allen, the woman's son and the only occupant of the house, leaped from a second story window in his pajamas to safety.

Fleeing Convicts Beat Guards; Caught

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Four convicts who sawed their way out of cells in the New Castle County Workhouse and beat two guards into insensibility today were recaptured a short time later as they hid in other cells.

2 DEAD IN TRUCK IDENTIFIED

The bodies of two men, victims of carbon monoxide poisoning, found Sunday in the cab of a truck parked on the William Penn highway at the intersection of the Linhart road, four miles east of Wilkinsburg, were identified at the County Morgue yesterday. They were Forrest D. Aurrand, 22, of R. D. No. 1, Lewistown, Pa., and Donald Carberry, 21, of Saxton, Pa., according to morgue attaches.

The men, tired from their drive from New York, apparently parked for a short rest and fell asleep. The motor was left running, evidently to keep them warm.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE PLANS SET

Plans for the annual maintenance campaign of the Young Women's Christian Association, January 19 to 30, were announced today by Mrs. Albert P. Burchfield, general chairman.

The goal is $107,000, and the fund will be employed to carry on the association's work in its six Pittsburgh branches and summer camps during 1933. The figure is a reduction over last year's budget of $140,000.

Mrs. William Reed Thompson is honorary chairman of the campaign. She was one of the founders of the organization in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Burchfield is being assisted by Mrs. Charles D. Armstrong and Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, Jr.

Mrs. Burchfield, stressing the fact that the work of the Y. W. C. A. is more important today than ever before, said the goal must be reached if the work of the organization is not to be dangerously impaired.

Seibel Discusses Theater Tonight

A quarter-hour of fun with Uncle Bob and Betty as they read the Sun-Telegraph comic pages is listed on WCAE at 6.

News flashes by Louis L. Kaufman, Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, are broadcast by WCAE and WJAS daily at 9:05 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 2:15 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Hoodoos?

One day Betty Barthell broke a mirror and missed the train for her Dixie home, but the hoodoos had a gold lining for Betty and that same afternoon she was chosen to co-star with Howard and Shelton in the new Chesterfield series. Tonight at 9 on WJAS she makes her "Music That Satisfies" bow.

Globe-Trotting

By LOUIS L. KAUFMAN

With the Globe-Trotter Of the Sun-Telegraph-Hearst Metrotone News

Well, so this is 1933!

And just when one would start being cheerful and optimistic comes a letter from two Crafton young ladies who took their Globe Trotting literally and have wandered to Florida. They are Mary and Minnie Wood. And do they rave about the sunshine and flowers. We may not have the climate but we make up for it by having a lot of grand people. Ah! but still—

Mrs Marshall is prompted to write after last week's article about depression Christmas trees. She tells of one displayed by Mr. Blackie at 223 Mary street, Munhall. It's made from a flagpole and has all the fixings. You are welcome to visit.

Talking about trees, we have a warning here from Mrs. Rohbecker about fires. Six year old Billy Renner, of Cedarhurst street, proved himself a little hero when he discovered his tree blazing, and hastily summoned his mother.

It would be nice if some of the youthful globe-trotters would write to Bobby Smalley, of 91 Kendall avenue, Bellevue. He has been and still is ill and probably won't be out of bed for some time.

The ingenuity of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor has created a rare treat for Carnegie residents. They have modeled a miniature amusement park. It took them 14 months to do it. The park contains a railroad, merry-go-round, old mill, and other amusement devices. Take the kiddies over. It's at 554 Bouquet street, rear.

In connection with the above and the recent mention of collecting locomotive pictures as a hobby we have a letter from W. R. Rau, Jr., of 1430 Elm street, Wilkinsburg, which informs of the existence of a club of which he is the secretary, called the Pittsburgh Model Builders Association.

WORKED WONDERS With Son's COUGH

"My boy 3 years old was sick with a heavy cough. He couldn't even lie down with comfort. I gave him Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. That night—instead of having to take him up and hold him to stop the cough, he slept peacefully. Smith Brothers' Syrup worked wonders." Mrs. C. Davison, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Stage Stars, New Comedians And Leaders of Congress Share Radio Spotlight

A galaxy of stars appearing currently at the Nixon Theater in "The Student Prince" and "Blossom Time," headed by Allen Jones and Gertrude Lang, come to a KQV microphone during that station's weekly "Backstage Review," presented direct from the stage of the theater, tonight at 7:45 o'clock.

Others, in addition to Mr. Jones and Miss Lang, appearing on the program are George Hassell, John Charles Gilbert, Manila Powers, Berte Donn, Clarence Harvey, Joseph Toner, Lorrain Weiman and Elizabeth Crandall. The quarter-hour broadcast features the musical hits from the two shows and brief talks by the artists.

"The Legislative Prospects of 1933" is the topic for discussion at the initial round table meeting of the new weekly series of "You and Your Government" broadcasts over an NBC network including KDKA tonight. With Representative Henry T. Rainey, Democratic floor leader; Senator Bronson Cutting, of New Mexico, and William Hard, NBC political commentator, as the principal speakers, the series inaugurates a new schedule, advancing from 8 to 7:15 p. m.

Tom Howard, lean comedian with big-rimmed spectacles and tan derby, and his partner in comedy, George Shelton, short "jumpy" person who spends his afternoons in morning clothes, broadcast their first kilocycle of combined foolishness over WJAS at 9 o'clock tonight. Supported by Betty Barthell and Leonard Hayton's orchestra, the two present the Tuesday-Friday programs of the new six-a-week Chesterfield series, inaugurated last night by Ruth Etting.

Program Pointers

A diversified program of operatic arias, favorites of yesterday and today, and currently popular ballads is heard during Mme. Frances Alda's recital broadcast from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel over an NBC-WEAF network, including WCAE tonight at 6:15...The Crime Club, moving from CBS-WJAS to NBC-KDKA and resuming its system of presenting radio mystery dramas in two episodes on consecutive nights, inaugurates a new series of plays depicting the adventures of Spencer Dean, a manhunter created especially for the microphone, tonight at 8.

Mme. Alda

"The Arizona Mail Train Holdup," a thrilling dramatization showing how United States Federal agents brought to justice a group of daring criminals, is the "Magic Carpet" WCAE-at-10 offering. Ferde Grofe provides the dance rhythms.

Maria Kurenko, noted soprano known as "The Russian Nightingale," appears as guest soloist with Josef Bonime's symphony orchestra during the Five Star Theater on WJAS at 10 p. m. Her selections are the aria, "Regrets de Manon," from Massenet's opera, "Manon," and "Bolero," from "Sicilian Vespers," by Verdi.

A two-hour program by the Pittsburgh Male Chorus under the direction of Lee Hess Barnes, is listed on WWSW at 8:30.

British Economists On Air Tomorrow

Sir Joshua Stamp and J. Maynard Keynes, leading economists of Great Britain, debate on the subject, "Spending vs. Saving" during an international broadcast from England heard over WJAS at 4:10 p. m. tomorrow.

Understudy Wanted.

Stoopnagle Organ Found.

Bits About Broadcasters.

Radio, which in a recent instance adopted the stage-old idea of trying out a production in a small community before bringing it to the national networks, once more dips into theatrical customs—this time it's an understudy. Because the success of the radio script act, "The Magic Voice," depends largely upon the appeal of its heroine's voice, auditions for an understudy to Elsie Hitz are under way. Although Elsie takes far more than ordinary precautions to preserve her voice, the possibility of illness remains and unlike most radio parts, hers cannot be "written out of the script" in case of an emergency.

Miss Hitz

Tom Howard's voice may go on the air, but he himself must stay on the terra firma—Mrs. Howard has decreed that airplanes are definitely "out" . . . It all started when the long, slender comedian agreed to impersonate Santa Claus and drop presents from a speeding plane.

* * *

Col. Stoopnagle is feeling better—the mystery of Herman's disappearance has been solved. Herman, lest you forget, is the parlor organ (named after the colonel's reserve toothbrush) that was spirited into Stoopnagle's hotel room by some ardent fan several weeks ago, and then wafted away during his sojourn under the Florida sun . . . It seems that another Herman, an elevator boy, was consumed by a desire to become an organist of such renown as the colonel and wanted to play "Chopsticks."

* * *

Bits . . . Morton Downey is being heard on a new schedule of sustaining broadcasts, Monday and Friday at 10 p. m. . . . John McCormack will sing on the Five Star Theater program next Tuesday . . . Nelson Eddy, baritone, a male quartet and a double quartet will replace Jules Bledsoe and the Hall-Johnson Choir in Showboat tomorrow night. It had previously been planned to use The Sixteen Singers . . . Carson Robison and his Bucaroos, joined by Frank Luther, change networks next week, moving from NBC-WEAF to NBC-WJZ and broadcasting on Wednesday and Thursday nights at 7:15.

Lyman Inaugurates New Schedule

Abe Lyman inaugurates his new Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:45 schedule on WJAS tonight.

Barlow's Symphony Presents Classics

"Festival Dance" and "Waltz of the Hours," from the Delibes ballet, "Coppelia;" Debussy's "Reverie;" selections from Charpentier's suite, "Impressions of Italy," and the merry "Dance of the Apprentices," from Wagner's opera, "Die Meistersinger," are featured by Howard Barlow and the Columbia Symphony Orchestra during their WJAS-at-11 concert tonight.

Spanish and Mexican Artists on Air

Rita Cavaliery, Spanish soprano, presents a quarter-hour recital from the KDKA studios at 10 tonight. On the same station at 4:15, Dorothy Lovering, pianist, of Cohuila, Mexico, who won the New Mexico state contest for high school students in piano at the age of 15 and has attended the Carnegie Institute of Technology and the Jacques Dalcroze Institute at Geneva, Switzerland, presents a 15-minute program.

M'COIN SEARCH CLUES FAIL

HENDERSON, N. C., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Perplexed at the shattering of one theory and in grave doubt as to the value of another, authorities today found themselves at an impasse in their search for R. S. McCoin, 66-year-old, well-to-do Henderson attorney, who disappeared December 22.

Thomas Scully, assistant chief of Columbus (O.) detectives, said there was no longer any doubt that persons were wrong who identified a mysterious stranger in this section recently as McCoin.

Convinced McCoin is dead, Al B. Wester, a business associate, offered $500 for location and identification of his body, and the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, posted a like amount.

Colds Go OVERNIGHT

When You Take This Famous Tablet in Time

At the first sign of a cold, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually expels the cold over night and thus prevents the infection spreading within the system.

Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE acts quickly because it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, kills the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Now two sizes—30c and 50c—at all druggists. Accept nothing else.

End Colds Quick

HE was an easy victim to colds and they hung on so long until she suggested the use of NR tablets. He seldom catches colds now. When he does they are quickly broken up. This safe, dependable, all-vegetable corrective—Nature's Remedy—strengthens and regulates bowel action as no other laxative can—carries away poisonous wastes which make you susceptible to colds, dizzy spells, headaches, biliousness. Works pleasantly, too. No griping. Try a box. 25c—at your druggist's.

NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT

The annual visit of the Princeton Triangle Club, which gave "It's the Valet" last night in Syria Mosque, was an excuse for an epidemic of entertaining.

There were ever so many dinner parties Sunday and yesterday, then the tea-dance yesterday in the Pittsburgh Golf Club, and a dance in the University Club after the play.

Vivacious Bertha Brooks, one of the debs, gave a buffet supper, followed by movies in the Broooks home, and a party at the Sewickley Hunt Club.

Dinner Party

Larry Knapp, C. W. Cooper and ever so many more entertained, and Virginia Frew Wright gave a dinner party yesterday in her home honoring two of the debs, Sallie Gibson and Nancy Byers.

Then there were box parties galore at the play last night. Richard G. Cooper had a box party including Ruth Willock, Mary Elizabeth Floyd, the Cordes Snyders and George M. Cooper. And the W. H. McCagues entertained the W. W. Galbraiths, the F. B. Kirkendalls and the Calvin Wellses.

Everyone at the play last night was festive. And ever so holidayish looking.

In Gown Of White

To put the best first, one of the late arrivals was debutante Collie Jennings, looking ever so attractive in a heavy white lace gown with accents of bright light blue. And a sister debutante, Nancy Doyle, chose black chiffon having the long skirt finished with double chiffon ruching, touched with silver. And her wrap, one of the new, luxurious long ones, was of wine-red velvet.

Rita Borntraeger and Lucretia Billings, the James O. Flowers, Caroline Crittenden and Althea Robinson in orange crepe. I had a glimpse, too, of demure little Laura Oliver, another debutante.

Laura wore sky-blue crepe with sable banding the cape collar and a wrap of cloth of gold, furred in sable. Katharine Frazier chose rose crepe and had a lovely corsage of gardenias. Elizabeth Childs was there, Janet McKinney, Caroline Mitchell, in Kelly green satin having a velvet ruching to mark the hemline, and Frances Johnston.

Crystal Trimming

Virginia Willock's gown was most interesting—of white crepe with the fitted bodice having a deep yoke trimmed with bands of crystal beads with a band to form a high collar in front!

And I remember seeing Jane Marshall and her fiance, Aiken W. Fisher, La Salle Dorrance, Elizabeth and Clara Dorothea Jenkins, Mrs. E. P. Mellon II, the Paul Havilands, Louise Baton in heavy, pebble crepe in a gay candy-pink shade.

Others were Mrs. W. Eugene Gary, Dorothy Blaxter and her parents, the H. V. Blaxters, Peggy Nelson, Mrs. Frank Adair Leovy, Mrs. George S. Ebbert, Ellen McClay, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan, Mrs. Robert Lee Wilson, Mrs. F. I. Merrick, the junior George L. Craigs and Mrs. Frederick Gwinner III.

Announce Betrothal

The new year brought an engagement of much interest here, for the man in the case is now a Pittsburgher.

The Daniel E. Mansons, of Brookline, Mass., announce the betrothal of their daughter, Effie Comey Manson, to Donald Howorth Butler, son of the Fred E. Butlers, of Lewiston, Idaho, at a tea in their home New Years Day.

The bride-to-be is a member of the Junior League, and is a graduate of the May School and Smith College, class of 1929. Her junior year she studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. And since she was graduated from Smith she has attended the Museum School of Fine Arts.

Her fiance is a graduate of the University of Oregon and of the Harvard School of Business Administration class of 1932. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

The children at the Nixon Saturday morning to see "Sara Crewe or the Little Princess" had a marvelous time. They laughed, and applauded, and cheered when the cold-hearted boarding school mistress was ordered out of the house by Sara's newly discovered guardian.

Many parents and older sisters brought the children to the theater as an added holiday treat. And there were many box parties.

Takes Nieces

Mrs. John M. Phillips I saw with her three little nieces, Helen, Mary Margaret and Harriet Duff. Harriet is her aunt's namesake.

Mrs. Roy Hunt entertained her four young sons at a box party, and a group of their friends, including Brewster Wolfe, John Weidlein, Harry Brown and Jack Knable.

Mrs. F. G. Blackburn was with her little daughter, Madelaine. Other children there were Rita Laughlin, Madeline Mercer, Marjorie Leech, Jean and Phyllis Keister, Eleanor Jenkins with her mother, Mrs. W. T. McCullough, Jr.; Martha McCready and Agatha Cune with Martha's mother, Mrs. W. A. McCready.

I saw Mrs. Stanley Brown, Mrs. John Robison McCune, Jr., and her sister-in-law, Mary McCune, with Mrs. McCune's two children, John Bobison McCune III and Mary; Frances Hermann with her grandmother, Mrs. C. B. McCombs; Mrs. O. B. Opsion with her daughter, Martha Miller Opsion; little Betty Lou Weir and ever so many more.

Aspinwall Woman's Club January Calendar Full

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

It's a long, full calendar the Aspinwall Woman's Club is sending out this month, the activities starting today with the literature and arts department's luncheon. Table talks on prominent Pennsylvania authors and musicians and, later in the afternoon, dramatizations of characters in modern literature are highlights of this session. The music department will meet tomorrow and again on the eighteenth. Next Monday the drama department will have a luncheon, will see a one-act play presented by a quartet of members and will hear ten-minute talks on "The Spiritual Note in Modern Drama." Also on Monday comes the evening department's meeting with Mrs. Florence Milliken talking on "Fads and Fancies."

A sewing and luncheon are scheduled by the home economics department for Tuesday. Members and friends of the club are invited to witness two one-act plays by members of the drama department at the clubhouse Friday evening, January 13. The regular club meeting, on Thursday, the nineteenth, will be in charge of the evening department and will be marked by a concert by the Glee Club of the Pennsylvania College for Women. The educational department meeting on the twenty-sixth is the month's concluding event.

The February calendar is included in the bulletin just issued and it announces various departmental meetings and a general meeting for which Mrs. A. H. Bowman, of the Western Pennsylvania Cause and Cure of War Committee, will be the speaker. This will be on February 16.

Mrs. McClelland Hostess To Club in Bellevue

Mrs. D. M. McClelland, of Teece avenue, is hostess today to members of the Bellevue Literary Club who are studying "Famous Homes." Mrs. Arbuthnot Agnew has been assigned "Early American Homes" for her subject; Mrs. W. G. A. Gossipy Chat With Nancy Jane

A wish for the New Year of the younger set down in Sewickley is for more snow and cold weather so that the outdoor skating at the Allegheny Country Club may begin again.

The easiest way to enjoy this good old sport of outdoor skating is to have a tennis court. When the first snow comes, flood it—one needs only a few inches of water all over—then let Jack Frost freeze it. When it becomes rough-surfaced, just sprinkle your ice with water on a cold night, and presto—you have a nice, new field of ice.

Skiing costumes are favored by the smart young things and the children, too, for skating. And very attractive and warm they are. Blonde Laura Childs wears a navy blue skiing costume and no hat—not even a beret.

She's a most accomplished skater, too.

We're all for awarding an honorable mention to Alice Rust, as you will be if you've ever struggled trying to make out numbers on houses in the East End.

RED VELVET COMBINED WITH WHITE OR BLACK IS FAVORITE

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Paris looks on velvet when it is red this winter—and with approval. The rich, deep red that is known as royal purple is the color which tops evening favorites in the French capital. It appears in the handsomest—as well as the simplest—of evening gowns; it makes short little jackets and full-length cape wraps; it makes the smartest of all velvet pumps and little matching evening cases.

ONE OF THE favorite ways of using red in Paris this winter has been to combine it with black or white. The white evening dress which has red velvet bands beginning at the back of the shoulders, descending to the center-back of the waistline, then falling in a sash to the floor, has almost been an institution inthe fashionable night clubs and restaurants. Red velvet wraps, with mink, sable or black fox collars are worn over black dresses that have big wide sashes of red velvet, or Augustabernard's big velvet bows on the left shoulder.

TELL IT TO ELSIE

-:- -:- Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day -:- -:-

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Sensible Girls Do Not Marry Threatening Suitors

Shall she marry him because, if she doesn't, he'll "break every bone in her body"?

If not, what shall she do?

She'd like to tell him to go peddle his papers—right now. But every time she hints she isn't so strong for him, he puts on his Big Cave Man Act and threatens her all over the place. And he says it's "because he loves her."

Is it?

Dear Elsie Robinson:

You have given other people advice, and helped them out of jams, so I hope that you can help me. I certainly need it.

I have been going with a young man for almost a year now, and I can't seem to get away from him. He is very serious, and is determined that I am going to marry him. He has asked me to many times, but I have put him off, because I don't love him enough to marry him, and I don't want to get married yet anyway. I am only 20. He is 24.

I would stop going with him, but I am afraid to. He has said that if I ever do stop seeing him, or if I don't marry him, he will break every bone in my body. He has said, too, that he would see that I was marked for life, so that no one else will want me. He talks like that every time I act like I am not crazy about him, or say that I wish he would stop coming to see me.

WILL NOT STAY AWAY

And what shall I do? Shall I go on and marry him? He has a good job, he is a hard worker, and, as I said before, he is very serious. He says that he loves me and just can't bear to think of losing me. He seems to think that just because he wants to marry me I am bound to do it. Whether I want to or not. He thinks that his loving me gives him a right to demand that I shall marry him.

Please help me. I have told him to stay away. I have told him, in spite of his threats, that I don't want to see him any more, but he still keeps coming to my house to see me, no matter what I do or say. How can I stop him? Do you think he does love me? LITA.

Does he love you?

No, youngster. Plainly, the only human he loves is himself, and his tantrums prove it. No girl with the sense God gave a goose would ever marry a man who threatened her.

STOP FOOLISHNESS

Then what'll you do?

First place, stop being tickled with his blusterings. Of course, they're mighty melodramatic, and it's secretly entrancing to think that you're driving such a Great Big Brutal Male wild with thwarted desire. But a nasty sock-in-the-eye — which you'll certainly get if you do marry him—won't be nearly so fascinating.

So stop your own foolishness first, then tighten up the good old chin, sister, and give the big bully the works. Tell him in no uncertain terms that gents who scar ladies may go heavy in the movies, but they're no treat to you.

Then, if he still pesters, go to the police and tell them your story. They won't be impressed with his story, little girl; nor will he pull it on them. Actually, that big blowhard has the courage of a cockroach—as you'll speedily discover if you call his bluff.

And next time, don't "go steady" with any chap you don't specialy care about. That's where you made your big mistake, Lita. You actually let him think, by your actions, that he had the inside track; then you didn't break it off, when you found he was serious and you were not.

You kept him dangling along, in spite of the way you felt, when you should have made a clean break. Make that break now—and stay broken!

Fay King Comments on Docile Women In Office Jobs

OH SHUT UP I'M TIRED OF LISTENING TO YOU!
HIS HOME
YES, SIR
HIS OFFICE
WIVES MUST CONSIDER THE RIVALS IN THEIR HUSBANDS' OFFICES
FAY KING

By FAY KING

Wives have serious rivals in the women in their husbands' offices.

Not that women who work with husbands are rivals for the husbands' affections. Women in business are not as romantically interested in their bosses as novels, plays and movies would have us believe.

But they are interested in pleasing their employers and keeping their positions.

The result is that the docility and demureness wives once displayed in the home are now found in offices.

Here women obey implicitly. They look up to their employer with deference in all matters, which makes the men constantly aware of their importance.

How then must wives suffer in comparison, who treat their husbands in their homes as if they were subordinates.

Husbands are more important than employers.

Contract Bridge

-:- How to Play -:- How to Win

By Josephine Culbertson

Determining the Supporting Hand

When a player at the bridge table picks up a hand containing a solid suit headed by the four top honors, he generally assumes that, come what will, his hand will be played as the closed hand, and his partner's strength or weakness will be visible as the Dummy. This is not a sound assumption, and it is at the bottom of frequent troubles in the game of bridge, as is clearly shown in the hand below, which was played in a recent Rubber game in the city of Philadelphia, in which Mr. A. P. Jurgensen held the North hand and Mr. Charles H. Goren the South.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♡ (1)	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ◇	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	6 ◇ (2)	Pass
Pass	Pass

1—This is the most discouraging response to North's bid. Unless South has the King of clubs, a Slam cannot be made against the diamond or spade Opening.

2—It is now evident that North's hand is very valuable in support of a complete two-suiter, as it affords immediate discards.

Mr. Jurgensen is to be commended for his admirable restraint. It is, of course, evident, in seeing the North and South hands, that Mr. Goren's holding would be valueless in support of spades unless the opponents were obliging enough to open a heart. This might occur on the bidding, it is true, but it would be too great a gamble to be taken, and the restraint shown by Mr. Jurgensen in permitting his partner to play the hand is a lesson for all Bridge players.

A hand of this type afforded much interest in the recent American Bridge Olympic, and the mental hazard therein presented, in which one member of the partnership held all the honors in spades, proved insurmountable to many players.

TODAY'S QUESTION

What is meant by the "1st, 3rd, 5th, 7th odd-tricks" at notrump, in the scoring?

Answer: The "first trick at notrump" in scoring is actually the seventh trick won by a side, for it refers to the first trick over that side's book of 6 tricks. The best way to remember notrump scoring is to note that every odd-numbered trick at notrump (undoubled), above or below the line, is worth 30 points, and in every even-numbered trick 40 points, the first 6 tricks taken by a side never being counted in the score. The point value of tricks is the same whether contracted for or not, or, in other words, whether scored in the trick score column or honor column.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

The habit of wetting the hair daily to bring back the pattern of a permanent wave isn't a good one. A better policy is to use brilliantine or a permanent wave dressing. By wearing a hairnet at night, the finger wave will survive longer; there will be no need of the daily drenching. A water-soaked scalp is likely to produce dandruff.

Lightweights who worry over the addition of a single ounce which may put a curve some place where it shouldn't be should remember that, until the age of 35, it is better to be slightly overweight than under. For a woman of normal weight to reduce is to lower resistance, slow up energy. After all, it isn't what the scales report, but body proportions, that should be considered. Also curves are fashionable.

Madge's Dad Returns Safely With Lock Box

Lucy, who spells the hominess of Whitney Hall to all who come in contact with her unobtrusive thoughtfulness, lifted shy, beautiful eyes to my face at Mrs. Barnes' adjuration.

"It was this afternoon," she said, "right after luncheon. The girls were at classes, and there was someone in the office, so I took five minutes to get a breath of fresh air in the grounds. I was watching the gate so if anyone came in I'd have time to get back by the side way and go to the hall door, as I always do, when I saw this Chinese coming from the corner on the right."

"Mrs. Barnes tells me many people walk past the school and look at it. Did he appear to you as being an ordinary sightseer, or was there something special about him?"

Lucy did not answer for several seconds. When she did, her tones were slow, almost troubled.

"He didn't seem like the laundryman," she said at last. "He looked more like a movie actor—you know, in those Chinese plays. And—someway—it seemed to me as if he either wanted to see somebody here, or wanted to have folks see him."

LOOKED LIKE MAKE-UP

I caught my breath.

"Were you near enough to him to see if he had made-up his face, as a movie actor would do?"

"I wasn't very near him, but it looked that way to me. Of course I couldn't be certain," she finished carefully.

"Would you know him if you saw him again?"

"I think so."

"Then that is all, and thank you so much," I said, as Mrs. Barnes smiled a dismissal at the girl.

It seemed unnecessary cruelty to alarm Lillian about so apparently trivial a matter as the passing by of the Chinese, and I therefore omitted it when answering truthfully her questions as to developments while we had slept.

"There has been no word from anyone," I told her, "not even Brock."

"His mission isn't so important now," she said, "except as a possible tracer of the identity of the men, if we do not succeed in capturing them. This letter of Marion's, with its description of the place where the girls are held, is the thing I'm confident is going to turn the trick."

"I am sure of it," I answered promptly, and reiterated my statement many times in the hours while we waited for the return of our men.

It was a tense vigil, shared by Ronald, who tiptoed in occasionally to report that his mother was still sleeping, and later by Mary and Noel, who had returned from their belated luncheon at the mountain glen tea room.

FATHER RETURNS

I was glad to see the two young men grasp each other's hands with such genuine friendliness.

My father was the first of our men to return, but when he came into the room where we were sitting, he held no package in his hands. I put no questions, but he evidently saw inquiry in my eyes.

"Locked in Dr. Barnes' private safe, in his sitting room," he said, "and Wynne is alternating with Adams in standing guard in that room when none of the rest of us is there. I made the journey without incident, and I fancy without observation. If, as seems improbable now, a demand is made for the box, we shall be able to postpone matters for a day on the pretense of going after it. Have there been any developments here?"

Lillian held out to me the transcription of the code Marion's letter had contained, together with the photograph of the letter that I had brought to her.

"Tell him, Madge," she said, and rapidly I outlined to him Lillian's discovery of the code that Marion had managed to incorporate in the letter she had written at the command of the kidnapers.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Correct Attire

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My mother-in-law is going to celebrate her fiftieth wedding anniversary. I would like to know the proper dress for her to wear. P.

Your mother-in-law would probably like to wear a dress of a semi-formal type for this important occasion. It might well and appropriately be one of the general type now so fashionable and adaptable . . . one of the grandest things that have ever happened in clothes. I think . . . the ensemble of a sleeveless (or not) dress with a small matching jacket . . . Then she could wear the jacket during the occasion, or remove it, as she wishes.

Or her dress might be of the dressy afternoon type, if she doesn't have the ensemble. It may be of crepe of some interesting weave, or of satin, if she is inclined to be thin rather than large, or of lace, which is very lovely for just such an occasion.

And it would be of any shade becoming to her. Women of this age usually like gray very much. Does she? Or beige, or a lovely shade of blue, or a burgundy red.

Plans for a Shower

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My sister is to be married in a few months and I would like to give her a shower. I am married and have my own home, and, of course, would have the shower there.

I am not quite sure whether it would be proper for me to do this, so I would appreciate your advice. R.

This is a question that must be answered by the person herself. The fact is that, generally speaking, it is not considered the best of form for a close relative of either the bride or the groom to give showers for the bride-to-be. The reason is obvious . . . a shower invitation is, from its very nature, a "bid" for a present, and this, from a close relative, does seem a bit out-of-place. Don't you think? We think of showers being planned by a group of the bride's close friends, or by her club.

Plays and Players

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

Appearing for the first time in eight years in a play not under the management of the Theater Guild, Lynne Fontanne and Alfred Lunt will be seen next week in the Nixon in a new play by Noel Coward, "Design for Living." Mr. Coward will be the third featured member of the company. On their last visit to Pittsburgh Miss Fontanne and Mr. Lunt were the stars of "Reunion in Vienna," and previous to that they were seen in "Elizabeth the Queen" and several other Theater Guild plays. I do not recall that Mr. Coward has ever played here. He is a young English actor-playwright who has been successful in turning out both dramatic and musical plays. That riotous comedy, "Private Lives," in which Madge Kennedy was starred here last season, was written by him. One of his tuneful works, "Words and Music," is having a successful engagement just now in London.

Pittsburgh club women are invited to meet Margaret Anglin after all performances of "The First Mrs. Fraser" in the Pitt.

New Play

Lynn Fontanne will be co-featured with Alfred Lunt and Noel Coward in Mr. Coward's new play, "Design for Living," opening next Monday in the Nixon.

STOP BAD BREATH

Thousands of people afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Sharp Stock to Close Saturday Night

With the final performance of "The Second Mrs. Fraser" Saturday night the George Sharp Players will terminate their engagement. Opening October 3, as the Edwin Vail Players, the resident company in the Pitt has been struggling along, hoping for improvement in attendance, but this tough theatrical season has been too much of an obstacle, it is said, in explanation of the closing.

By GEORGE SEIBEL

Since everything has been said about "The Student Prince," it might be in order to write about the audience gathered in the Nixon Theater last night to attend the latest revival—if the word "revival" can be used of something that never was dead. Audiences differ almost as much as plays and actors, and too little attention has been paid to them, though they are just as important as the production. Indeed, it is even possible that the audience is more important than the dramatist or the star. As for last night's audience, it was one of the most satisfactory that has come under observation for some time. It was a most enthusiastic audience, gracious and generous with its applause, and applauding in the right places. It was a most intelligent audience, as might be expected—for intelligent audiences go to the best things, do not even mind going a second or a third time. It was also a quite numerous audience, showing that the intelligent and appreciative people in Pittsburgh are not so scarce. And it was an audience in which youth was strongly in evidence—quite in order, for "The Student Prince" is a play that appeals to youth, to the eternal spirit of youth in all mankind.

Mr. Seibel

It is seldom that a critic has an opportunity to approve so cordially of any audience. But then the audience had every excuse for being enthusiastic and well pleased. It saw and heard what was just about the best performance of "The Student Prince" ever presented here. The glorious music of Sigmund Romberg was played and sung with youthful verve and swing. One was almost ready to believe that there was something specially inspiring in those steins.

HASSELL'S GREAT COMEDY

Inspiring as the performance was in every way, its outstanding feature was the comedy work of George Hassell as Lutz. He has worked over this part until it is as full of laughs as an alligator's jaw is full of teeth. DeWolf Hopper in his funniest roles was not funnier than George Hassell, who has many of the little ways and means that once distinguished that famous comic opera comedian. The audience is to be highly commended for laughing at George Hassell Lutz, for the gentleman is as sublimely ridiculous as the city ordinances of good old Heidelberg permit.

Alongside of Hassell's comedy, was the pathos of Clarence Harvey as the old waiter Toni. The audience also appreciated this, earning the critic's warm approval. One doesn't always find such an intelligent audience with its hands thawed out.

Even Karl Franz won their warm and cordial plaudits, also well deserved, for Allan Jones brings youth and glow and a rich voice to his impersonation. As for Kathie, she was Gertrude Lang, heard here before and perfectly qualified to sing that role, for she has a sweet and ringing voice, a personality of charm and vivacity, and that youthful spirit which is needed to make "The Student Prince," seem true. In fact, if the audience had wished to criticize anything, it would have been the last act, in which there should be a tired and weary note, but the cast just couldn't get rid of their high spirits.

PRODUCTION ALL FRESH

Infectious comedy by Berta Donn as Gretchen, highly amusing hysterics by Lorraine Wheeler as Anastasia, a sympathetic portrayal of Dr. Engel by John Charles Gilbert, and a sweet vision of Princess Margaret by Manila Powers were among the other things the audience approved and applauded—but perhaps the most significant feature of all was that the production as a whole was so fresh and vernal. No frayed and spotty costumes—nor frayed and spotty voices—no wonder the audience approved.

The spirit of old Heidelberg was in the air, even though the scenic artist has put the inn on the wrong side of the river. Springtime and love and youth, the scent of blossoms and the rapture of romance, the audience caught them all from Romberg's music, from the rollicking male choruses, from the salamanders and toasts. And that is the important point—nothing more need or could be said about the operetta, but the audience was deserving of all commendation, which is here ungrudgingly bestowed.

Davis Stars Are Three

By MANUEL M. GREENWALD

The second film in the chain gang cycle and a domestic comedy form the double first-run bill current in the Davis and the Regent. They are "Hell's Highway," and "They Just Had to Get Married."

If Hell's Highway" had arrived before "I Am a Fugitive" it would probably rate much more attention than it will now receive, for while Richard Dix, who has never been known to turn in a bad performance, delineates his role well, the film is far from approaching the magnificent qualities of the Muni picture.

Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts would have to get married. So they do, and if they had been given a more generous wedding gift in the way of a story, the result might have been better. As it is, they make the best of their apathetic profiles and a few gags to stir up the laughs. The entire picture contains the new "Strange Interlude" asides, but they are hardly as effective is they could be.

The bill is diversified if not rich in quality. And it does offer you lots of "show" for your money.

Variety Plan In Academy

The Academy will pass out this week. The theater will continue but the name and policy will be supplanted by new ones. Next Monday the house, remaining under the management of George Jaffe, will be the Variety Theater. With the new name there will come in a different form of entertainment, to be made up of vaudeville, feature pictures and music. There will be five acts of vaudeville given in the form of a "presentation." The orchestra will perform both in the pit and on the stage.

The Academy for many years was known as the Lyceum. Before it had that name it was called the Bijou. The latter succeeded one of Pittsburgh's historic old theaters, Library Hall. Under the banner of the late Marcus Loew, the Lyceum became Loew's Lyceum.

The current Academy bill is "Scrambled Legs," last production to be given under the burlesque policy. It opened with four performances yesterday, one at midnight, a "Milkman's Matinee" at 3 a. m., and the regular afternoon and evening shows. It features "Jacquette," Egyptian dancer, and presents various musical numbers and specialities including a trench scene with a shower of water to make a rainy atmosphere realistic.

LORETTA YOUNG RESTS AFTER SCENE 'EMPLOYES' ENTRANCE'

More 'Names' in Pictures Promise of New Year

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3.

As the new year gets under way, you'll see more and more "names" crowded into pictures. Consider the list that Paramount promises for "Dead Reckoning," a sea-going murder mystery that is scheduled for production in February.

Wynne Gibson, Richard Arlen, Cary Grant, Ricardo Cortez, Richard Bennett, Carole Lombard, Sari Maritza—all these are mentioned for parts. I have an idea that Ric Cortez may do "Police Surgeon" instead, but even half of these names would have been considered ample a couple of years back.

Sari Maritza

Paramount undoubtedly will make a strong bid in the next 12 months to regain prestige and turn out fine films.

"Eagle and the Hawk" will be another Paramount special, and "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" still another.

Hollywood is chuckling over the latest story about a certain producer whose instinct for pictures is a good deal more accurate than his grammar.

The other morning, writers at his studio were instructed to report for a general conference at 10 o'clock sharp. It was 10.30, however, before the producer made his appearance. He greeted the assembly cheerfully.

"I'll bet you fellows don't know where I was at last night," he said.

One writer exploded:

Laughing Gas In Cinema

By MILDRED FILLMORE

Two of the most amusing people in the German screen world provide the "Laughing Gas" in the new musical farce at the Cinema. Felix Bressart is the one that's starred, but Anna Ondra should be. She is traveling around the world in an auto she has equipped with her own home-made devices, and no wonder she creates a sensation. From the automatic hand that darts out to warn she is turning, to the scrubbing-brush that cleans the windshield, her car would make another fortune for Henry Ford.

Anna meets a dentist, who sees the car of a countess, thinks it is hers, and invites her to his home in Berlin. Between the wife who is being divorced, and the patients who suffer dental malpractice, there is plenty of mirth in the dentist's home and office.

Rip-roaring nonsense from first to last, with some catchy tunes to make it even more entertaining! Bressart, who plays the dentist's stupid friend, has some excruciating scenes.

There's also an Edgar Wallace film, "Bachelor's Folly," of English manufacture—dull melodrama about horse-racing.

Domestic Comedy in Pitt Has Miss Anglin As Sharp Guest Star

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

St. John Ervine's cheerful and graceful comedy, "The First Mrs. Fraser," with Margaret Anglin, distinguished for many grand performances on the American stage, as the guest star, was presented by the George Sharp Players in the Pitt at two holiday performances yesterday. The one given last night is the subject of this review, and the reviewer confesses that for two acts he held a feeling that he would be under necessity of informing the public that Miss Anglin gave a performance that was unworthy of her.

As a matter of fact, she seemed as nervous as the veriest amateur the first act and only slightly improved in the second. However, she came back gloriously in the third, in which she was wholly at ease, in command of the situation, and rewarded the expectant audience with as fine an example of high comedy as may be expected to be seen in any theater this season.

"The First Mrs. Fraser," which formerly served as a starring vehicle for Grace George, is, first of all, the portrait of a clever woman, one who is womanly as well as witty, understanding as well as smart. She is a divorced woman, with a couple of grown sons, and still is in love with her husband. The play opens five years after he has left her for a younger person, and finds the husband back in his old home seeking the advice of his former wife because his present mate has tired of him and wants to divorce him so she may marry a younger man.

That is the situation out of which the comedy develops, involving a couple of meetings of wives Nos. 1 and 2, also the attentions paid to the first Mrs. Fraser by an old admirer, much to the disgust of Mr. Fraser, as well as the opinions and interference of the two sons of the couple, and it is a situation that has the elements of being deliciously amusing.

As stated previously, Miss Anglin fully compensated for an inauspicious beginning by later bringing to her characterization ease of manner and an ingratiating gift of comedy in the dismissal of proposals by two admirers, one of whom is her former husband, divorced again.

Hunter Gardner played most excellently as Mr. Fraser, making him an abrupt, self-centered and self-satisfied sort of person that one ordinarily detests, but who has to be admired for one quality at least, that of go-get-tiveness.

Elizabeth Johnstone came through impressively in portraying the fickle second Mrs. Fraser, another unsympathetic type, but very well done.

Alden Chase played the elder of the two sons, and revealed a Scotch accent (Fraser IS Scotch, you know). Jean May played his wife and Hugh Banks was in his element as the quarrelsome younger son. For the second week in succession, Alice Ann Baker played a maid. Roy Elkins delivered an honest night's work as the second-in-the-running admirer of the first Mrs. Fraser.

Edith Roark Seeks to Change Name

$800 In Cash Will Be Paid Everyone Who Sends Actress Most Suitable Suggestion.

Can you name the girl in this picture? Her unusual beauty and winning smile won her a place in Eddie Cantor's new picture, "The Kid From Spain." She is Miss Edith Roark, a newcomer to Hollywood, and has been given a contract providing she will consider changing her name.

Her publicity director wants to aid her in securing an appropriate name, and in releasing this announcement is making an offer of $800 in cash to every reader of this paper who sends in the name selected. It is said most any name may win, even if submitted on a post card. It may be your own name or a name of a girl friend. You may even make up a name which will suit this coming young star. Just make your suggestion easy to pronounce and easy to remember, but send it right away.

Readers of this announcement are urged to send in their suggestions at once, because $200 extra will be given the winner if name is mailed and postmarked before January 8th, 1933; otherwise every person submitting the winning name after this date will receive only $600.00.

All names suggested must be sent to the Publicity Director's Office, George Blake Studio D-331, 1023 North Sycamore Avenue, Hollywood, California.

Only one suggestion for a name should be submitted by each contestant, and in case of ties, duplicate awards will be given. If you can use $800.00 in cash, here is your opportunity to get it. Send your suggestion today.

HOTEL DE PARIS, MONTE CARLO, — To attempt a description of Monte Carlo in one column is a job that I hesitate to tackle. There seems to be so much to say—and I'll have to put it in this space to keep it interesting. Thus, if I skip around a bit today, I'm asking you to bear with me.

The gambling casino supports the entire township of Monte Carlo. Those who live in the surrounding territory pay no taxes whatsoever. The entire strip of territory is dependent upon the business that the casino does. Close the gambling casino and Monte Carlo would become the most beautiful deserted village in the world.

I, of course, am a trifle disappointed in the place. I say "of course" because you know by this time that, no matter where I go, I'm always disappointed. But you can hardly blame me, at that. Books, plays, gossip, films—all had told me that the biggest gamblers, the most beautiful women, and the most daring men were invariably at Monte Carlo.

I saw none of this. As a matter of strict fact, I haven't seen a single soul in evening dress since I pulled in here two days ago.

Oh, it's beautiful. Make no mistake about that. No matter where I go in this world, I don't think I'll ever find more glorious scenery than that which lies between Nice and Monte Carlo.

Seriously, though, I was definitely disappointed in the casino as I have now seen it for two nights in a row. Granting that the season is not yet definitely in full swing, one would still imagine that there might be a vestige of class around the casino. If there is, I haven't noticed it.

The first night I played I was out in the so-called kitchen. This is far and away the larger of the two salons, and it's the spot where the townspeople and the average visitor try to make two francs grow where but one bloomed before. This room is always crowded, always smoky—and just a trifle smelly.

On the second night I went strictly society. I plunked down four bucks for a ticket to the salon privee, where the big shots try to make four francs grow where but two bloomed before. Personally, I could see little difference between the two rooms. The faces, the manners, the dress and the losses were practically the same.

Your limit bet here on a card or a turn of the wheel is, at practically all tables, 12,000 francs—or about $480 in our money. They did have one table with an announced limit of 24,000 francs, but it had less customers than the Craig Theater in New York. The smallest bet you can make is 40 cents. And that, I can tell you, is what most of the players wager on a spin.

The actual wages of the men who manage the tables are amazingly small. There are six croupiers to every roulette layout, and there must be at least 20 such outfits in operation through the day. Some of these men—and they are obviously keen and gentlemanly—receive as little as $10 a month. The highest pay among the croupiers is $25 a month.

You must add to that, however, the house percentage that goes into the slot every once in so often. All employes receive a cut of that percentage.

The thing that struck me most forcibly in the entire place was the complete absence of smiling faces. I always thought that, aside from the professionals, the average man gambled to have a little fun. Not so over here.

These system players are curious people. Each man believes that his system will eventually make him wealthy. Hour by hour, day by day and month by month, they sit at a table and make notations every time the little ball comes to rest.

Sometimes they will sit for two hours before making so much as one little bet. But suddenly an arm will reach out and plunk down twenty francs on a number or a color. If the play connects, the bettor gathers his chips and sits another two hours before his arm goes out again.

The suicide angle of Monte Carlo has naturally been exaggerated a great deal. The natives think it's swell publicity—which I doubt—and they are only too happy to show you the different bridges and rocks from which numerous ex-millionaires have leaped to their deaths. They actually want you to tell your friends about it.

And—oh, yes! I forgot to tell you something. Seeing all this wide-open gambling around me, I wondered why the casino didn't go in for all types of play. Why no bird cages or crap tables or things along those lines?

I was so interested in the question that I asked the hotel clerk about it. Why no crap tables, I inquired. Americans loved to shoot crap. Certainly it would pay. The clerk seemed horrified.

"But, no, sir," he cried. "No crap tables! Never!"

"Well," I persisted, "Why not?"

"Why, sir," he replied excitedly, "that would be against the law!" . . .

BUYER'S GUIDE AND BUSINESS REVIEW

ACTION NEEDED TO LAUNCH RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—...employment and business ...vival of gratifying ...portions is in store for the United States, provided action is taken ...make depression history re...at itself, is the view of A. C. ...zzer, president-elect for 1933 ...the Associated General Con...tors of America, in outlining ...stions to be taken up at that ...ociation's Detroit convention ...ening January 16. Mr. Tozzer ...Executive Vice-President of the nationally known Turner Construction Company of New York City.

The theory that something just turned up to pull us out of previous severe depressions is entirely unjustified by our economic history claims Mr. Tozzer. Something had to be turned up and this "something" in practically every instance involved the launching of a huge program of construction.

The six year long financial panic and industrial and agricultural depression of 1873 to 1879 is cited by Mr. Tozzer as the closest parallel to our present condition. Like the present one it was a secondary post war depression. It was preceded by a slowing up or stoppage of construction because finances were rushed to financial centers for quick profits in stocks and bonds just as happened in 1928 and 1929. And for five years, Tozzer claims, the depression grew progressively worse; business leaders waited for something to turn up, construction stagnated and unemployment grew. He said:

"That depression was broken and prosperity returned by the same methods that will have to be used now. Credit resources were mobilized by the federal government, the states and municipalities and placed behind huge construction programs. By means of land grants, franchises, cash grants and bonuses a credit base for the construction of railroads and the resultant building of new cities and industries was created."

Two years before the lifting of the worst depression in our previous history, this construction began to be started according to Mr. Tozzer's figures. In 1877 work was begun in a big way on the Northern Pacific Railroad. In 1878 the Great Northern, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Southern Pacific amongst many other lines began to build in large volume. It required just 12 months of increasing employment and increasing orders for construction materials to turn the business tide and usher in the prosperous years of 1879 to 1883. He concluded:

"To turn the tide of decreasing employment, buying power and business, only requires that we construct additions to our permanent national wealth now instead of later. Once that decision is made and courageous action taken in launching construction nationally in the volume that is needed, this country will climb out of present conditions far faster than out of previous depressions."

Bracken Resigns From Burlington

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Edward P. Bracken, executive vice president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad has retired from active service with the line after 45 years of participation in the road's affairs.

Beginning in 1887 as a construction foreman, Mr. Bracken advanced through the various departments to the high executive office which he assumed in 1931. Mr. Bracken is rated as one of the great railroad builders of the country and played an important part in the development and extension of the western frontier.

BOND PLAN IS APPROVED

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Acceptance of Costa Rica's plan to fund the interest due on its principal outstanding dollar and sterling bonds for a period of three and one-half years is deemed advisable for holders of these external obligations according to an extensive report on the Costa Rican situation issued by the Institute of International Finance, which is conducted by the Investment Bankers' Association of America in co-operation with New York University. Costa Rica has proposed to issue funding bonds to cover interest during the three and one-half years and to resume full payment of the debt service immediately thereafter. The issues referred to are the 7 per cent dollar bonds of 1926, the 5 per cent sterling bonds of 1911 and the 7½ per cent Pacific Railway dollar bonds of 1927.

The plan, says the institute's report, provides a means of obtaining payment of interest on arrears of interest and of realizing in cash at least a part of such arrears immediately in the event that the bondholder shall elect to sell the funding bonds which he receives under the plan. The report points out that the funding plan provides that coupons surrendered in exchange for funding bonds are not to be deemed paid, but are to remain alive until funds are received sufficient to pay such coupons in order that the funding bonds may benefit equally and ratably from payments made on the coupons maturing during the period of suspension.

May Change Mill Into Big Brewery

CLINTON, Mass.—(INS.)—From gingham to beer—such may be the change for many of Clinton's workers.

Before the Lancaster mills closed down it was the world's largest manufacturing plant of gingham. Then a group of Worcester, New York and Canadian men obtained an option on the property with the intention of converting it into the largest brewery in New England with an output of 300,000 barrels per year.

MOODY'S INDEX AT LOW

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(AP.)—Moody's price index of 15 staple commodities, as compiled on the basis of markets open Saturday, registered a new low for 1932, reflected primarily a drop in the price of hogs at Chicago.

Among important markets open today were hogs, wheat, corn and silver. For commodities in which there was no market owing to the holiday week-end, the previous day's quotations were used.

As thus calculated, the index touched 79.5, in contrast to the year's previous low, 79.6, reached December 22. The low level reached last June was 79.8, after which it advanced to a 1932 high of 103.9, reached on September 6.

BAUER JOINS BANK HERE

Election of Elmer E. Bauer as executive vice president of the Allegheny Trust Company was announced this morning by Charles W. Dahlinger, president of the North Side banking institution. Mr. Bauer assumes his duties today.

Mr. Bauer

Mr. Bauer comes to his new position from the First National Bank and Trust Company of Tarentum, where he has been cashier. He is a native Pittsburgher and entered the banking business here in 1905. Since that time he has been engaged in banking, accounting and other financial work. For a time he was also instructor in banking and public utilities in the evening schools of Duquesne University and the University of Pittsburgh.

STEEL TRADE TO IMPROVE EARNINGS

By ERNEST T. WEIR
Chairman, National Steel Corporation.

The consumption of steel in 1933 may not be much larger than in 1932, but the industry has some expectation that stabilized conditions, increased efficiency and a broader attitude on the part of buyers may improve the profits position. It is not likely that the principal consumers of steel will take less in 1933 than in 1932, while there are indications that consumption may be increased. Meanwhile, the industry is steadily concentrating its production in its most efficient units, modernizing and replacing to meet the demands of depreciation and obsolescence, and stabilizing its marketing situation.

Mr. Weir

The steel industry is no exception to the rule that periods of depression afford the best opportunities for developing new products and methods to replace lost business. Many companies are rounding out and diversifying their output by adding new products. Much pioneer work is being done on new production methods and new and improved units of equipment are being installed.

Such advances are enabling the industry to invade new markets and thereby replace some of the business lost in existing outlets. The benefits of such a condition are apparent, not only while business continues depressed, but when a revival appears to stimulate all lines of activity.

A small increase in the activity of the steel industry will substantially benefit many other industries. Between four and five tons of material must be moved to produce a ton of steel, with the consequent production of revenues for transportation lines and wages for many groups of employes outside the steel industry. The profit on a ton of steel is so small that almost the entire purchase price is immediately passed along to steel mill workmen, railway men, miners, machinery makers and purveyors of many kinds of commodities and services.

OFFICE OUTLOOK IMPROVES

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Several features of the New York office building situation furnish grounds for a more hopeful view of the near future than has been warranted in several previous years, according to F. V. du Pont, president of the Equitable Office Building Corporation.

These features are the decline in office building new construction during 19 32, the reduction of municipal expenses and the consequent expectation that real estate taxes will eventually be reduced and the basis for stabilization of rentals furnished by the continuing expiration of higher-rate leases, of which probably the major part have now been replaced by leases at rates more commensurate with present conditions.

There is an encouraging tendency on the part of many forward-looking business concerns to seek the more desirable locations for their offices, probably with the thought that when the competition for business is strongest, it is most desirable to have the favorable advertising which comes from a good address and high-grade neighbors.

BUSINESS

Window Glass Output Believed Near Minimum

—By GEORGE H. SNYDER—

PRODUCTION OF window glass is believed to be close to the lowest possible manufacturing point. In other words, the current output amounts to little more than the amount needed for replacement purposes.

Production of window glass in 1932 amounted to about 4,000,000 square feet. This compared with 12,000,000 square feet used by the country in recent good years.

Unfortunately there are no statistics available which show the exact proportion of window glass which goes into replacement. Estimates made by leaders in the industry placed the proportion in active years of the past at from 30 per cent to 40 per cent.

With new building activity a negligible factor last year, it is quite probable that most of the glass produced was used for replacement purposes. The output last year amounted to one-third of the production of 12,000,000 square feet in the active years.

Warehouse Stocks Reduced Sharply

ONE FACTOR which tended to reduce output last year was the tendency for operators of glass warehouses to reduce their stocks. As a result of this policy, stocks of glass in existence today in the hands of both producers and warehouse operators are at the lowest level in many years. These reductions in inventories have been an important influence in accentuating the decline in production.

Some replacement of glass also has been deferred. In cases where buildings and industrial plants are idle, broken windows have been merely boarded up so that the glass makers have been accumulating at least some back log of business.

Price Cutting Hits Earnings

IN ADDITION TO the adverse effects of the suspension in building activity, the past year has been marked with a price war which has greatly increased the losses of organizations in the window glass business. These blows came to the glass industry which was not particularly prosperous even in the days of great building activity. Starting in 1925 foreign competition upset the price structure and absorbed a large volume of the business. At one time one-seventh of the window glass used in the United States was imported.

The need for changing production methods to meet new conditions also placed a severe burden on the industry. Large amounts of money had to be spent by many companies to replace production equipment.

Officials of the glass companies are of the opinion that their volume in 1933 will be no smaller than in 1932 even if no improvement takes place in building activity. Replacement at least will keep output stable at its present reduced level.

Full recovery for the glass industry will depend on improvement in the real estate situation and a resumption of building. An end to price cutting appears to offer the only immediate hope for correcting the troubles of the glass makers.

Trial Marriages Shown Disastrous

LONDON.—(INS.)—Investigations by the British Social Hygiene Council have revealed trial marriages are in most cases an utter disaster.

According to Mrs. Neville Rolfe, secretary-general of the Council, the majority of young couples experimenting with trial marriages today realize how bitterly disappointed they are with the results.

Angora Breeders Slaughter Goats

ANGORA, Turkey.—(AP.)—The slump in the mohair market is causing breeders of Angora goats to slaughter many of their herds and the entire mohair clip for 1933, it is estimated will be only 20,000 bags. Exportation used to be as high as 10,000 bags a month.

MUSMANNO PUT ON LIBERTIES HONOR ROLL

Judge M. A. Musmanno, of the Allegheny County Court, today was on the 1932 honor roll of the Pennsylvania Civil Liberties Committee for service to the cause of civil liberty in the state for having discharged University of Pittsburgh students who were arrested for participating in an anti-war demonstration.

Judge Musmano reversed an Oakland Police Court decision imposing fines of $5 each on three students charged with disorderly conduct. The students sought to hold a meeting last commencement day protesting the address of the commencement speaker, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, United States Army. Musmanno scored the university for permitting the arrests.

Other individuals cited for acts in behalf of free speech, free press and free assembly were Gov. Gifford Pinchot, District Attorney Wade K. Newell, of Fayette County, and several Philadelphia attorneys.

Gov. Pinchot was lauded for his manner of handling the "bonus army" evicted from Washington, especially at Johnstown. The citation said state officials, acting with respect for the ex-soldiers' right and sympathy for their dire plight, saved a tense situation from grave possibilities.

Newell was cited for having prosecuted a coal mine superintendent and eight coal and iron policemen and deputy sheriffs for the fatal shooting of Mike Philipovich, Arnold City storekeeper, during the 1931-32 bituminous coal strike.

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

HERE'S 'PHONE DIAL CIPHER

By KENNETH A. NAGEL
Editor

This original [illegible] No. 35 is submitted by [illegible] Reid, of 324 Fourth avenue. He calls it a telephone cipher as all the letters and figures are taken from a telephone dial. It's a good cipher and will tax the brain quite a bit.

The time "Bogie" set for this is three hours. If you should do it in less write and let the Cipher Editor know. For the benefit of the ones who do not solve it, a tip will be published tomorrow.

Solution to Cipher No. 34

CHAIN SETS UP FOUNDATION

A foundation to provide aid for aged, ill, disabled and needy employes and former employes of Richman Brothers Company, men's clothing manufacturers, has been established by the three Richman brothers, Nathan G., Charles L., and Henry C.

The brothers plan to transfer to the treasury of the Richman Brothers foundation 6,000 shares of company stock, the dividends of which are to fulfill the purpose of the foundation. The annual dividend is $3 a share and the dividend has never been passed.

The foundation was organized with the filing of incorporation papers in Ohio. Trustees from among officers and employes, serving without pay, will have full authority in each case, the company announced.

Fayette City Bank Pays Last Dividend

MONESSEN, Pa., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Announcement of the final distribution of $42,708, settling the affairs of the Fayette City National Bank of Fayette City, was made today by J. S. Odland, receiver for the closed institution. A dividend of 2½ per cent will bring the total dividend to 25.5 per cent.

Twelve members of the engineering staff of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, East Pittsburgh, will attend the winter convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in New York, January 23 to 27.

An explanation of the application of air conditioning to railroad passenger cars will open the transportation discussion. At this same session the power supply for main line railway contact systems will be discussed by E. L. Harder, of Westinghouse, and P. A. McGee, Reading Railroad Company.

MAGDA SLAYING RUMOR DENIED

BUCHAREST, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—A rumor from Warsaw that Mme. Magda Lupescu, companion of King Carol, was assassinated on Christmas Eve, was officially denied by court officials today.

Mme. Lupescu spent Christmas quietly with King Carol at Sinaia, it was declared. She was not in the Bucharest palace receiving greetings from army officers on Christmas Eve as the Warsaw dispatch stated.

CITY LEADERS ATTEND MAITS FUNERAL

Rites for Health Head Held in Kinsman Road Home

Members of City Council and city officials together with men and women prominent in civic life in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County today attended funeral services for Dr. Charles Buckley Maits, 48, director of the City Department of Public Health. Dr. Maits died Sunday at his home, 6692 Kinsman road. The Rev. Dr. E. J. Van Etten, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, officiated at services at 3 p. m.

Pallbearers were to include B. S. Joice, Dr. C. F. Bernatz, L. B. Snow, Dr. A. H. Colwell, A. E. Gray, Dr. Frederick Jacob, Dr. B. Z. Cashman and Dr. R. L. Anderson.

HELD SCHOOL POST

Dr. Maits was born December 20, 1884, at Sidney, Neb. He lived on a ranch for a time, then came to Pittsburgh with his family. He attended public school here, later graduating with degrees of bachelor of science and doctor of medicine from the University of Pennsylvania. He set up in private practice here in 1912, the same year receiving an appointment as public school medical inspector.

During the World War he was a captain in the medical detachment organized at the University of Pittsburgh.

January 7, 1929, he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Richard G. Burns, who died in office as Director of the Department of Public Health. The following year Dr. Maits was named to succeed himself in this position by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

ACTIVE IN PROFESSION

Dr. Maits was prominent in the affairs of the Allegheny Medical Society, and since 1921 had been a member of the house of delegates of the Pennsylvania Medical Society as county representative.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Katharine Richeson Maits, he leaves two children, Charles B. Maits, Jr., a student at the University of Pennsylvania, and Sarah Lee Maits, at home.

AMNESIA VICTIM FOUND HERE

The identity of a well-dressed man, aged about 38, believed a victim of amnesia, was believed to have been established by police today.

A Lancaster newspaper, in a telephone conversation with detectives here, said it was thought the man was Alfred L. King, 38, of Lancaster.

The newspaper reported, according to an Associated Press dispatch, that persons at his home said King, foreman of an industrial plant, had left home in his automobile about 10:30 a. m. yesterday, after receiving notice that he was to be laid off indefinitely after this week.

They said he left a note saying:

"I am going to end it all if I don't lose courage."

King, father of three, was divorced last October.

Beaver Falls Man Poison Rum Victim

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 3.—George Menges, 20, of Beaver, died of alcoholic poisoning, a coroner's autopsy revealed. Police said he had attended a New Years party and had drunk liquor containing wood alcohol.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 3.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Same faces, same men issued new year "outlook" predictions. It looks like they just stay in business all year to get to tell "what the new year has in store for us." Every one has enough to live on no matter what happens, but I never seen a paper print what a poor man thought of the "coming year." Suppose at a hanging in a jail, the reporters got statements from the warden, and all the spectators, but no one asked the convicted man, "what he thought the future had in store for him?" So tomorrow, after these others have all been forgotten as usual, I have one from just such a man to tell you.

Will Rogers

Yours, Will.

AARON DEFENDS SCHOOL BOARD EXPENDITURES

McKallip Committee Prejudiced, Reply To Critics

The employment of Charles L. Wooldridge, Inc., by the Board of Education for the making of enrollment studies and the supervision of architecture recently criticized before the Coyne sub-committee seeking economy in government is defended in a statement issued by Marcus Aaron, president of the board.

Aaron also touched briefly on the entire financial policy of the board. Referring to the suggestion by the Coyne committee that no member of the board be allowed to succeed himself, Aaron said:

"The public should have exactly the kind of school system the public wants, and not the kind that the prejudiced McKallip sub-committee wants."

COYNE COMMITTEEMAN

He referred to R. L. McKallip, of the Community Research Bureau of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board, who has served on the Coyne sub-committee and who recently suggested a school budget designed to provide a one mill tax reduction.

The Wooldridge company, according to Aaron, has completely removed all guesswork in planning for new schools. They determine from a study of population how large the school must be and then supervise the work of the architects in detail, Aaron said. For this the company is paid a fee of one-half of 1 per cent, Aaron said.

Aaron charged that J. A. McGonigle, auditor for the sub-committee, had erred when he said the fees paid to the Wooldridge concern amounted to $60 per building on 188 structures. There were only 165 schools inspected, Aaron said.

FORMER BOARD MEMBER

Wooldridge was employed by the school board, Aaron stated, from 1911 to 1918, and served as a member of the school board from 1920 to 1927.

The employment of a safety inspector at $250 a month was defended by Aaron as necessary and justified "if a single fire is avoided or the life of a single child safeguarded." This service is not duplicated by the city, Aaron declared.

Teachers' salaries were again defended and the Coyne committee recommendation for the repeal of the Edmonds act fixing the salaries, was branded by Aaron as "unfair."

The lower budget suggested by the Real Estate Board could not reasonably have been accepted, Aaron said. He recognized the burden on the taxpayers, however, stating:

"The school board is not responsible for Pennsylvania's archaic system of taxation, nor for the excessive portion of the burden of taxation which the owner of real estate is called upon to bear."

Two Pedestrians Robbed in Streets

Ray Kramer, of 232 Climax street, was held up by two Negros in Sylvania avenue and robbed of 48 cents last night.

A purse containing $2 was snatched from Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, of Castle Shannon, at Brownsville avenue and Carson street, last night, by a man who escaped.

STORE GUNMEN GET $239

Two robbers, both carrying automatic pistols, held up A. Panish in his grocery store at 1303 North Lang avenue shortly after 8 o'clock this morning and escaped with $239.

While one man kept Panish covered, the other broke the telephone line. They fled to an automobile and disappeared. Panish carried the money in a wallet.

A bandit quintet who eluded their pursuer by shooting out the headlights of his automobile in a chase of more than a mile which followed the holdup last night of the barbecue of William Travis, Brownsville road, near Broughton, were sought by county detectives today.

While two waited in an automobile, their three accomplices entered the barbecue and ordered sandwiches. As Travis and Henry Dupont, a clerk, prepared them, the trio drew revolvers and forced their victims into a rear room, where they bound and gagged them. The bandits looted the cash register of $30 and joined their companions in the machine.

As they sped from the place the trio was seen by Thomas Cradeler, of Broughton. He chased them in his automobile to Sawmill Run boulevard where they fired four shots at him, putting out his headlights and forcing him to stop.

Nation Waiting For Doctor Gets Anesthetics

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Everything is as quiet as fish on the wharf.

The Republicans are removing their pins from the Democratic war maps. The speeches in Congress are just local anesthetics until the doctor arrives in March.

The talk doesn't mean a thing. When a Senator gets up to speak he starts in by saying:

"Pardon my glub."

The House chewed plenty of fat about relief, reconstruction and organization. But that beer affirmative seems to have been penciled in very lightly.

Looks like we will mark time for two months. Then we will get a new broom that ain't all handle and no straw.

'NIGHTIE' AFIRE, BOY SAVED

Wrapping his son in a blanket when he ran screaming into his bedroom early yesterday after his clothes had become ignited at a coal stove in their home, Edward McAfee, 526 Warrington avenue, Beltzhoover, rolled him in the bed, extinguishing the flames. The child was seriously burned, the father less seriously.

After his pajamas ignited as he stood reading before the stove in the living room of their home, Edward, 12, ran to a second floor bedroom, where his father was sleeping. The boy was treated by a physician for burns about the body. The father was burned about the hands.

BABY'S CRIES SAVE FIFTEEN

Awakened by the cries of a 13-month-old baby early today, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietrich found their home on the Washington Pike, near Bridgeville, ablaze. Fifteen persons in the house barely had time to escape in their nightclothes. The baby's pet dog, two white rats and two small kittens left behind in the excitement perished. The home was burned to the ground.

Bridgeville volunteer firemen aided members of the family to the homes of neighbors nearby. The damage was estimated at $8,000.

Living with the Dietrichs were two married daughters, their husbands and two grandchildren; a brother of Dietrichs and six Dietrich children.

KLEIN, GUILTY IN VOTE CASE, KEEPS RANK

Lang to Give Name Of 400 Ousted in Economy Drive

The shakeup in the city's fire department today found 50 jobs eliminated, six battalion chiefs reduced to captains, three captains reduced to hosemen and 20 or more transfers—all this to help Council balance the budget.

But among the fortunate battalion chiefs who retain their titles was Sol Klein, recently convicted of election cheating along with Paul Walsh, son of the police superintendent. Klein received a suspended sentence.

Another to escape dismissal in the Fire Department was Hoseman Charles Golden, former captain, who was pardoned and reinstated after serving a sentence for election cheating in 1927. Golden has a few years to go for a pension.

CAPTAINS REDUCED

Captains reduced to hosemen were James McKenna, No. 23 Engine Company; Stephen Rafferty, No. 49 Engine Company, and William Lorden, No. 54 Engine Company.

With the elimination of three fire districts, 10 battalion chiefs retained their titles, but were transferred.

First Battalion, William Graves, Dan Jroves; Second, William Davis, John B. Callaghan; Third, Fred S. Beckett, John G. Zollinger; Fourth, Sol Klein, William Kuhlman; Fifth, Louis Steckle, Alexander Reed.

Seven captains were transferred. Their new assignments:

LANG FIRES 400

Public Works Director Edwa G. Lang has stated that tomorr he will announce the name more than 400 employes in h partment who have been dis as a result of the reduction 1933 city budget.

These employes have a been notified by letter, h More than 50 of the me arranged to "stagger" wo that they will remain on the roll at half time.

Politicians are watching close the results of the economy wav which has swept City Hall. There is evidence that city employes sponsored by the majority in Council, that cut the budget to reduce taxes, are losing out in a number of instances.

Just how far Mayor Charles H. Kline has gone in this respect is being closely scrutinized.

With the majority of the police changes made public, further announcements are expected today regarding the possible closing of five police stations. Among those thought to be in danger is Squirrel Hill Station.

INSPECTORS OUSTED

In the Bureau of Building Inspection, four inspectors and two engineers have been dismissed, the names of those to go not yet announced.

In the Department of Health, 36 have been notified of dismissal, including inspectors and nurses. The names have not yet been made public.

Six inspectors from the Bureau of Weights and Measures have been transferred from the Department of Public Safety to the Department of Health. The positions of James P. Bailey, chief inspector, and Henry E. Jordan, assistant chief inspector, were eliminated by Council.

Reports that notices had not been gotten out in sufficient time to the 900 persons affected by Council's $4,100,000 budget cut, have been denied. Department heads stated that, although greatly rushed, the notices have been mailed. The announcement of the names of those to go has been delayed, however, until the last moment.

Body of Girl Killed In Crash Claimed

The body of Anna Kovart, 21, of Glenshaw, was claimed today by her mother at the County Morgue. The girl died Sunday in St. Margaret's Hospital from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Morgue attaches reported her mother, Mrs. Patrina Povaltz, at first refused to claim the body because her daughter would not heed her warning against automobile rides when she visited her Christmas.

Mrs. Povaltz and her husband, John Povaltz, identified the body in the hospital Sunday night. It was then taken to the morgue.

The girl had been living in Negley avenue. She was injured fatally when the automobile in which she was riding crashed against a pole at Butler and Forty-eighth streets early Sunday. The other passengers suffered minor injuries.

Farm Model Enjoyable Task to Illustrator

Pioneer American Scene Creates Reality

By PENELOPE REDD

Evans Parcell, one of the most distinguished of American illustrators, is working on a model of an American farm group at his studio in Washington, Pa. Unlike many artists these untoward times, he turned from his established profession without regret to experiment in another medium with joy. Said Mr. Parcell:

Miss Redd

"I never felt satisfied with illustration. I have always had the impulse to work in the third dimension. My natural interest in pioneer America had led me to specialize in illustrations of rural life. For years I had studied, photographed and drawn buildings, furnishings and all manner of man-made objects common to earlier American times.

"When I had some time free about a year ago, I began making models of trees from tree sets. Gradually I conceived idea of reconstructing on a small scale a diminution of an American farm scene with old around about. I felt the sity of preserving an image integral part of the Amerscene during the last hunyears."

Parcell's success calls into ing the composite role of archi-t, builder, sculptor, metal worker, chemist and all-round precisionist. His log house with clapboard addition is built to a scale of seven-eighths of an inch to a foot. The spring house and corn crib, the wagon, bob sledge with hickory runners, also plows and saws, are designed and fabricated in the same spirit that inspired the originals. They are not copies, reduced in size, but are fashioned to work.

Evans Parcell's method of assembling the hundreds of objects as they occur in actual use combined with the beauty of design and craftsmanship which is manifest in the most minute detail of the whole and the refreshing absence of the theatrical, creates reality. Mr. Parcell's experiment comes at a time when there is a revivifying interest in the arts rising out of the life of the pioneer. His reclamation of this rapidly vanishing phase of American life in its frank, homely disorder where the most utilitarian objects were beautiful because of their fitness to function, makes many of our contemporary subterfuges to conceal the mechanisms of living seem very cumbersome.

'CROSSED,' MAN SHOOTS TWO

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Seeking to avenge what he termed a "double crossing," James Britton, 37, forced his way into a Germantown home and critically wounded a man and woman early today.

He shot Charles Waenke, 41, near the heart, and sent a bullet through the nose of Caroline Brand, 39. Then, without a struggle, he surrendered to police, who were summoned by neighbors.

Police learned that Britton waited on the porch of the house for more than two hours, demanding to see the woman. He shot Waenke when the latter blocked his way, and then hurried upstairs to the woman's bedroom, where he wounded her.

Britton was a former lodger at the house, and, according to police, was an admirer of the woman.

RAIL ENGINEER LEADS BAND

To see Engineman John Bennett at work on the Pennsylvania Railroad, you'd hardly suspect the heart of a musician beats beneath his overalls, and a band-master's coat is hanging in his home, 725 Ardmore boulevard. Yet such is the case.

Bennett is director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Boys' Band, Post 234, Wilkinsburg. The band, comprising 60 boys, won second place in the state V. F. W. convention against all adult competition last year; played for Gov. Roosevelt at Forbes Field; marched in the Armistice Day parade, and has broadcast over KDKA. Last night it gave a concert at the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, Aspinwall.

Over 300 boys have passed under Bennett's tutelage in the eight years he has been director, a number now on the way to becoming professionals.

The band was organized by Bennett four years before it was taken over by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which he is an honorary member.

LATE PAINTINGS ON DISPLAY

Carnegie Institute presents a brief survey of modern painting by means of about 60 color reproductions selected by the Museum of Modern Art in New York City. Reproductions of the foremost innovators in painting are arranged in chronological sequence.

The show commences with Corot and Daumier, carries along with Cezanne and the post-impressionists, and culminates in the many international ramifications of the twentieth century which stemmed off from the sources of French modernism in the late nineteenth.

A catalogue prepared by the Modern Museum of Art gives a tabloid history of the trend of contemporary painting which the reproductions illustrate. The show closes January 28.

TRADE OF WORK FOR GOODS PROPOSED

Self-help for the unemployed in the Pittsburgh district seemed a step nearer today as M. E. Goldberg, of 3020 Riverview avenue, McKeesport, came forward with a tentative plan for establishing a barter system, including the exchange of labor, professional service and material.

Similar systems have been in effect in many parts of the country for some time, meeting with particular success on the West Coast.

Goldberg would establish a bureau of exchange in McKeesport where everyone willing to work, but unable to earn a living in the present depression could register their needs and the services or goods they could exchange for them.

SERVICES FOR GOODS

There house painters could exchange their services for dentistry, farmers their produce for tools, with no money changing hands, but with everyone who is willing and able to work obtaining their necessities through their own efforts without recourse to charity, Goldberg says.

Goldberg himself is a former naval officer and engineer, and at present a radio salesman. Earning a living for himself, he says his only interest in the project is as a citizen interested in the needy. He illustrates his proposal:

"Suppose a dentist registered at the exchange with needs including house painting, repair of a washing machine, clothing or groceries. In return he could offer dental work.

"Now suppose the dentist had his house painted by a painter who does not need his teeth fixed. Instead of paying money he issues a 'due bill' to the painter, stating that he owes the painter dental work equal to the amount of the painting bill.

"The painter can then take the 'due bill' to the registration office and exchange it for other due bills totaling a like amount, entitling him to services or goods of a tailor, butcher or gardener.

EXCHANGE OF BILLS

"With these second 'due bills' the painter can obtain the things he needs and someone in need of a dentist can exchange his 'due bills' for that left by the painter at the exchange.

"With thousands registered every want within reason could be filled with the use of the 'due bills.' The bills could even be used to pay old debts.

"This barter system should give work to thousands immediately. Good and merchandise would start to flow from merchants' shelves to satisfy the needs of the new workers. The result would be a starting of factories.

"My ideas don't contemplate the abolishment of our present monetary system—they merely plan a supplement for the overstrained supply of money."

Goldberg says that if there is any response to his suggestion, he will immediately take steps to set up an exchange center in McKeesport and will do whatever he can to help.

Director Samuel E. Claney, of the Allegheny County Emergency Relief Association, said he thought self-help plans are excellent things provided they stick to their purpose and refrain imposing on the community.

SUCCESSFUL IN WEST

Upon proper application to his association, Claney said, the McKeesport exchange can obtain any practical assistance.

Self-help organizations in the West have been thriving for some time. That in Seattle includes from 40,000 to 50,000 members and has succeeded in supplying the wants of the group with efficiency.

PARK CALLS 12 IN VOTE PROBE

District Attorney Andrew T. Park, investigating alleged irregularities in ballot boxes of 12 election districts, today subpoenaed 12 additional witnesses for examination tomorrow and Thursday.

Park said an effort would be made to learn identity of the alleged "night riders," who are alleged to have altered straight Democratic ballots after the votes had been cast, in an effort to save congressmen and several representatives of the Legislature from defeat.

Members of the 12 election boards, the justices of the peace who had custody of the boxes, and the three persons who petitioned for recount have already been examined.

One Billion Dollars Fine . .
90 Million Days Imprisonment for NEGLECT of COLDS

EVERY YEAR, the common cold costs America over a billion dollars! Every year, colds imprison people at home—away from work—for more than 90 million days!

These figures are based on estimates of the United States Public Health Service.

Now Comes RELIEF!

Happily—now—a way has been found to lift much of this burden. It comes with the new Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds.

In clinical tests among thousands last winter, Vicks Plan reduced the number and duration of colds by half!—cut the dangers and costs of colds more than half!

To millions of American homes, the Plan has already brought new freedom from colds.

Better Control of Colds

This unique and remarkable Plan was made possible by development of the new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. This new formula is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern way of treating colds. Together with certain simple rules of health, they form Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds—fully explained in each Vicks package. Very briefly, it is this:

To Prevent Many Colds

When Colds threaten—at that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once! They soothe irritation and aid Nature's functions in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

To End a Cold Sooner

If a cold has developed or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub over throat and chest. Its direct double-action continues through the night. By morning the worst of a cold is usually over. During the day, use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops for added comfort and relief.

For FEWER Colds — LESS SEVERE Colds — LESS EXPENSE
Follow VICKS PLAN for Better CONTROL of Colds

"MOIST THROAT" FOUND SECRET OF COUGH RELIEF

Your throat and bronchial tubes are lined with millions of pores like tiny bottles continually supplying moisture to the delicate tissues . . . until you "catch cold."

Then these "bottles" get plugged up, phlegm accumulates, affording dangerous germs a breeding place. Your throat feels hot and dry. Tickling, irritation and coughing set in.

Your cough will be cured only when the flow of the natural fluid is increased, loosening the phlegm so that it can be expelled. Many cough "remedies" contain numbing drugs which merely deaden the nerves . . . but don't get at the root of the trouble.

PERTUSSIN, a scientific remedy, which doctors have prescribed for many years, is the extract of a famous herb which opens the tiny glands, stimulates the flow of the throat's natural moisture and brings quick relief. It helps nature heal that cough from the inside out.

When you feel that warning dryness take a few spoons of PERTUSSIN. It's absolutely safe. Sold at all drug stores, 60¢.

EATING to take off WEIGHT

English way of "Slimming" Growing Popular Here

Here's a way to get rid of excess flesh and prevent its return. The British call it "slimming." It is growing very popular over here, for those who give it a real trial have found it works.

This way of controlling weight is not hard. You don't starve yourself. You do watch your diet, but you can have all sorts of regular things to eat—including meats and vegetables. You just choose the kinds that oxidize, or "burn up." And you keep the system saline. Nature does the rest. Here is how it is done:

(1) Clip these menus and watch for new ones from time to time. Save them, and you will have plenty of variety! But clip and keep them all; don't trust your memory.

(Cut out and save)

BREAKFAST

2 prunes, 2 tablespoons juice
1 corn muffin
One egg, not fried
Cup of coffee or tea

LUNCH

One cup of bouillon
Portion Waldorf salad on lettuce
Portion sherbet, small wafer
Cup of coffee or tea

DINNER

One cup clear soup, green vegetable
3 tablespoons cauliflower (no cream sauce)
Celery, cucumber, tomato salad (French dressing)
Sliced peaches (one peach)
Cup of coffee or tea

List No. 1

(2) Keep the system saline to prevent accumulation of more tissue than is used each day. That's all! Watch your weight go slowly but surely down.

Stick to the menus and stick to the saline, or salt treatmen Andrews effervescent salt (ir ported from England but only few cents a tin at any drug stor is pleasant to take. Two bi spoonfuls stirred in a tall glass of water—drink it before it leaps from the glass! It's the peppiest, fizziest "highball" you ever tasted; like an extra-lively seltzer lemonade. Before breakfast, or at bedtime, every day you feel the need.

Start this evening, or in the morning. If overweight, follow slimming instructions and additional menus now found around every tin. Or just for lazy liver and bowels, as directed on the tin. Millions use Andrews just for "keeping in the pink." And for any "morning after" it's simply perfect. Ask for Andrews effervescent salt.

When I like something I evermore like it!

THEY'RE MILDER—

THEY TASTE BETTER

—and I like CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes.

To me, they are mild—that is, they don't seem to be strong; and there is certainly no bite, so far as I can tell.

To me, they taste better and they have a very pleasing aroma.

Every CHESTERFIELD that I get is well-filled, and I feel like I am getting my money's worth—that there is no short measure about it.

I like CHESTERFIELDS. They satisfy me.

NO DISPUTING GREATNESS OF TROJANS

IT MIGHT BE argued on behalf of the Pitt Panthers that, after their good fight in the early stages, the enervating climate and the greater weight of the Southern California team had much to do with wearing them down into a state of collapse in the latter part of the Rose Bowl football game. But in the light of that 35-to-0 score, the widest margin by which any team ever has been beaten in the Pasadena fixture, any assertion of the sort would sound only like a feeble alibi. The only conclusion possible is that the Panthers were completely outclassed, all the more so because their own game was faulty, both mechanically and in the matter of judgment and generalship.

Howard Jones

Steamrollered for 82 points by the same opponent in two successive Pasadena appearances, Pitt surely has borne out the dope that an Eastern team has little chance on the Coast at this time of year. Harvard in 1920 was the only Rose game winner from the East. But the climate and other handicaps faced by visitors from the Atlantic division should not be allowed to take any credit away from Howard Jones and his Trojan machines. Only a great coach and great teams could have won the classic four times, and the eleven that slaughtered Pitt yesterday was probably the greatest of the lot.

THE MAIN PROBLEM with which Bill McKechnie will have to wrestle in dealing with Frank Hogan is the matter of keeping him in shape. The big catcher at times has shown little respect for the training rules, and when he wasn't breaking them in other respects he was doing it by overeating. His increasing weight became a source of great annoyance to the Giant management.

It is related by John Drebinger that John McGraw once was quite pleased at noting on Hogan's meal checks that Frank was ordering only dainty vegetable dishes. But later McGraw found that by special arrangement with the maitre d'hotel, domo, each "dainty dish" represented a porterhouse steak.

LEFTY O'DOUL insists that there's nothing mystifying or occult about his hitting. He says he has only one general rule when he is up at the plate, and that is always to be set for a fast ball.

Lefty found out early in his baseball life that if set for a fast one he could switch to meet a curve or a slow ball, whereas if set for a slow one or a curve he would wind up swinging on one foot when the pitcher crossed him with a swifter.

HAVE YOU OBSERVED the unusual number of major league baseball players already hard at work in winter training? It isn't a matter of choice, so much as one of expediency. The shortening of the training trips means that the athletes must report in better shape than in any previous spring since the introduction of conditioning tours, and the big fellows who take on weight easily have been notified that they'd better show up in pretty fair shape if they hope to hold their places in the various lineups. Gymnasium work is an annual stunt for Babe Ruth, but this winter he has a lot of company. Frank Hogan, Pat Malone, Gabby Hartnett, Jakie May, Bob Fothergill, Smead Jolley and Dale Alexander are only a few of the big boys who are already winding away, or preparing for an early start, to take off extra weight, or to keep it from piling on.

Rogers Hornsby

ROGERS HORNSBY, who started as early as December 1 to get ready for his comeback, continues to be the busiest of the group. St. Louis reports say he has not taken off many pounds, but the purpose of his gymnasium work is not so much the removal of excess weight as the gradual improvement of his wind and his running.

Hornsby did a lot of puffing at first, but has stuck to the grind under the eye of an experienced trainer. Daily he adds a lap to his routine and now he can circle the gym more than 20 times without blowing hard. His wind is improving and his legs appear sound.

THE AVERAGE VETERAN in any sport refuses to believe that the game in which he once starred has been improved by changes. That's the view that Honey Russell, veteran Eastern pro, takes of present-day basketball. He says the one-hand dribble is the cause of the rut into which the pro game has fallen almost everywhere in the East except around Philadelphia and Trenton.

"THE FANS MISS the smart plays of the old days," Russell sighs. "Everywhere they go—high school games, college, pro—they see that one-hand dribble. Dribble, dribble, dribble, up and down the floor. They're tired of it. The two-hand dribble goes big in Philadelphia. They flock to the games there. We old-timers are slowing up a bit. We can't quite keep step when they play this collegiate one-hand dribble game. But we'd show them a few things at the two-hand game. That was smarter, because it allowed for surer possession of the ball and hence surer passwork. Also, it did not leave so many dead spots on the court. If you dribble into a corner in the one-hand game, you'll never dribble out. Chances are you'll have to let a crazy shot go. But if you dribble into a corner in the two-hand game you have a fair chance of fighting your way free again."

IMAGINE THE RUFFLED dignity of the English cricket team playing in Australia, when it was first "much concerned" about the noise at the matches and then astounded at the discovery that it was being "given the bird." Manager P. F. Warner has complained about the "barracking," which in this country would be known as "riding."

Among the distressing remarks from the spectators was "Hit him on the bald head." Picture such disrespect to an English cricketer. Warner suggested that the authorities take some action, adding that "a great cricket match should be played with great dignity and in a great manner."

THE LORD MAYOR of Melbourne and also the state attorney general came to the defense of the Australian populace, the lord mayor saying that the barracker is just as fair to the other side as he is to his own team.

Valentine Bialas

He went on to explain that "there is no ulterior motive when that dismal howl goes up." Which may bring an "Oh, yeah?" from Americans who may know nothing about cricket, but who do know our barrackers, or riders.

IN MOST SPORTS you couldn't induce a star to part with his old equipment. The baseball player hangs on to a glove until it falls apart, the hockey player has his favorite stick, the billiardist his pet cue, and so on. Any one of them would consider himself beaten before the start of a contest if he had to change implements. But evidently it's different with ice skaters, as witness the fact that Valentine Bialas, Eddie Wedge, Herb Taylor, Eddie Schroeder and Carl Spring left their racing skates at home when they departed to represent the United States in the world speed championships to be held at Trondhjem, Norway, in February. They're all going to use Norwegian skates, because that type is lighter than American blades and better adapted to skating against time, the European system of speed competition.

By JESS CARVER

There is nothing soft about the basketball assignment that confronts Duquesne University's Dukes tonight as the City Champions shift the scene of their activities from their home floor to the hardwood of the Stadium Pavilion. They are booked to tackle Westminster's rangy Titan quintet, the Dukes and United Presbyterians resuming basketball relations after a lapse of two years.

Rated the most formidable quintet in the entire district, the Dukes enter tonight's contest the favorites, but Coach Chick Davies will not be able to take the chance he did last week as he pitted his lads against Adrian in the season's inaugural. In that contest, the Dukes' second stringers started the action, and Adrian stepped out and ran up a 12-point lead almost before the locals could say "Jack Robinson" or even "hey, wait a minute."

RIVALRY KEEN

Duquesne-Westminster games in the past ever have been hectic affairs. The teams, annually either at the top of the district standing or close thereto, are about as bitter a pair of rivals as you'll find. For the past two seasons, due to schedule mixups and one thing or another, mostly the latter, there have been no Duke-Titan battles, and the lack of such engagements have made the tri-state college campaigns seem somewhat unofficial.

Westminster's starting lineup will have Sweeney and Bennett paired at the forwards, Douglass at center and Silander and Wilhelm at the guards.

The contest will be officiated by Yans Wallace and George Smith.

The Duquesne freshmen and the St. Mary's of the Mount High School five meet in the preliminary game.

Dukes.	Pos.	Westminster.
Feldman	F	Sweeney
MacDougal	F	Bennett
McGeever (C)	C	Douglass
Moore	G	Silander (C)
Reiter	G	Wilhelm

Referee—Yans Wallace. Umpire—George Smith.

SMITH LEADS SCORERS

Capt. Don Smith, Pitt's brilliant forward, is leading the parade of college basketball scorers to date with a grand total of 36 points, tallied on 12 field goals and as many fouls. He accomplished all this in five games.

Skippy Hughes, with 31 points; Don McCamant, with 30, and Russ Ochsenhirt, with 29, bring up the rear.

EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF LAST SATURDAY (NO ISSUE YESTERDAY): NEW YORK'S ODDEST GOVERNOR—Edward Hyde Lord Cornbury (1661-1724) was hunted out of England by a host of anxious creditors and, to recoup his fortunes, was appointed "captain general and governor-in-chief of New York and New Jersey" by Queen Ann, his cousin, in 1701. He ruled these two provinces from 1702-1709, when he was removed and succeeded by Lord Lovelace. Gov. Cornbury is described as a "spendthrift, a grafter, a bigot and a drunken, vain fool." Some historians add the epithet of "a peculiar but detestable magot" to this description. All of them dwell on his peculiar preference for female attire. Thus garbed he would be found at all times of day parading in the most conspicuous part of the New York of his day. Cornbury eventually became Privy Councilor and British ambassador to the Court of Hanover. A STEIN FOR $8,000—This stein was made in Breslau, Germany, in the fourteenth century. It is made of hammered tin, octagonal in shape and is decorated with biblical scenes. As the finest specimen of hammered metal ware in existence, it brought $8,000 at the auction of the Lana Collection in Berlin recently.

A revenge-seeking Panther pack pounded relentlessly at the Trojan ramparts in the Rose Bowl yesterday before 83,000 persons, to obtain after 60 minutes of fierce football only a 35-to-0 defeat.

It was the most decisive score ever written into the 18 years of Rose Tournament intersectional grid history, eclipsing that 41-to-14 walloping the Trojans meted out to Pitt three years ago.

To quote the man who should know best, one Dr. John Bain Sutherland, Panther coach:

"It was simply a case of too much guards and tackles."

TROJANS SCORE EARLY

The speed with which Coach Howard Jones' team struck in scoring its first touchdown, and the final score belittle the valiant efforts of the invading Panthers who bit off more Trojan than they could chew, and realizing it, kept right on fighting.

Pittsburgh proposed to make it a punting duel at the start, with Bob Hogan kicking on third down after taking the opening kickoff. But Southern California would have none of it.

In eight wisely selected plays, the last a 33-yard pass, Homer Griffith to Ford Palmer, Troy drove 62 yards to a touchdown.

For a good half hour thereafter Pitt kept the deceptive Trojan attack slowed up to a snail's pace. Light, fast guards, with Charles Hartwig leading the assault, knifed it to stop the running plays, while Ted Dailey and Joe Skladany, ends, rushed passers and kickers.

During this time the Panthers made their bid—and failed. Henry Weisenbaugh drove center and then dashed down the sidelines for 38 yards, but Warren Heller passed the ball over the goal line on the first play incomplete. A partially blocked kick made the next opportunity, but this time a fumble checked offensive efforts of Pitt.

Late in the third, Trojan Capt. Tay Brown recovered Mike Sebastian's fumble on his seven-yard line. Pittsburgh held Troy two yards short of the goal and Kenneth Bright, a reformed center playing left half, tossed a flat pass to Griffith for the second touchdown.

PITT DEFENSE CRACKS

Panther resistance broke here and the Trojans turned loose a series of slanting reverses and spinners through the line. Irvine Warburton, 147-pound quarterback who figured prominently in the drive from the S. C. 34-yard line, crawled through a tiny hole for the third touchdown from the six-inch mark.

Palmer recovered Isadore Weinstock's fumble on the Panther 21-yard line and three plays later Warburton scored without being touched on a lateral from Clark. The play was good for 10 yards. For the fourth consecutive time, Ernie Smith, all-America tackle, booted the ball through the goal posts from placement for the extra point.

With the Trojan third-string players in the game, two substitute ends blocked Hogan's punt. From the 15-yard line S. C. drove to the final touchdown. Dick Barber, a broad jumper by athletic vocation, leaped over the line for the score and George Lady, giant tackle, added the point with a kick.

The end men, Ford Palmer, Ray Sparling, Ted Dailey and Joe Skladany, repeatedly brought the great crowd to its feet by their spectacular performances.

Charlie Hartwig was a great guard for Pitt, making life miserable for the Southern California players by frequently inserting himself in their backfield, until the game was well advanced. Then a recipe was found for slowing him up by changing the style of plays thrown at him.

TROJAN MARGIN WIDE

The Trojans rolled up 22 first downs to nine and out-gained Pitt 278 yards to 193. Two of Troy's four passes were completed for

HECHT ANNEXES THIRD TITLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—For the third successive year, Mark Hect, of New York and the University of Pennsylvania, is the national junior indoor tennis champion.

The youthful Pennsylvania sophomore outsmarted and outsteadied Richard K. Hebard, of White Plains, N. Y., and the Hill School at Pottstown, Pa., through four sets of well-played tennis, to win, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0, yesterday.

The seeded team of Giles Verstraten and John McGrady, of New York, won the doubles championship, scoring over Hecht and Ernest Koslan, of New York, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 8-6.

Alfred L. Jarvis, of Tenafly, N. J., and the Hackley School at Tarrytown, N. Y., played almost faultless tennis to defeat William V. Winslow, of Rochester, N. Y., 6-0, 6-3, in the final round of boys' singles.

Trojans' Coach Lauds Play of Both Teams

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 3.—(INS.)—Coach Howard Jones today lauded members of his team, Southern California, and of the Pittsburgh Panthers. He said:

"It was a great finish to a great season. The Trojan seniors playing their last game especially turned in fine performances.

"As to Pittsburgh, the Steel City eleven is one of the strongest we have met and during most of the game it gave us all we could handle.

"All Pittsburgh players lived up to the reputations which they brought to the Coast."

WEST GRIDDERS DEFEAT EAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The brilliant running of Hard Luck Hank Schaldach, University of California halfback, was the high light of the West's 21-13 victory over the East in the annual Shrine charity football game.

Schaldach, rampaging in the second half of the contest at Kezar Stadium yesterday, accounted for all of the West's points. He carried the ball over for three touchdowns and in each case added the extra point with a place kick.

The California halfback's playing drew as much comment as a surprise, closing-moments personal clash between Joe Kurth, Notre Dame tackle, playing for the East, and a Western end, Ralph Stone, of the San Francisco Olympic Club. Some 45,000 fans saw the two players engage in the brief tiff, which was quickly stopped by officials. Kurth and Stone were ordered from the game.

EAST SCORES FIRST

East scored first as a result of a 48-yard first-period march led by Michigan's all-America quarterback, Harry Newman, playing at right halfback. Pug Rentner, Northwestern halfback, plunged the final two yards for the touchdown. Newman's place kick sailed wide.

Trailing by six points, the Westerners launched their big offensive in the third quarter with Schaldach, flanked by two husky Texans, Stafford and Koy, leading the attack. The Californian started the fireworks with a 35-yard return of a punt to the East's five-yard line. Four plays later he plunged over.

An intercepted pass by Stafford at halfback led to the second Western touchdown in the same

Grid Fans Battle Law At Rose Bowl Game

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The local bastile had 27 unexpected guests today and several members of the local and Los Angeles police forces were nursing bumps and bruises following a row between football fans and police at the Pitt-Southern California game yesterday.

Twenty-seven persons were arrested and a half dozen others were injured in a melee between police and 500 men and women who attempted to storm their way into the Rose Bowl.

Tear gas quelled the spectacular disturbance.

AUTHORITIES ROUTED

After more than 60 authorities, including Charles H. Kelley, Pasadena Chief of Police, had been routed, they returned with 50 officers from Los Angeles as reinforcements.

Packed solidly against the Stadium fence, constructed of heavy wire and galvanized steel posts, the 500 men and women grew restless and began, authorities said, a persistent effort to uproot the barrier. Pasadena police attempted to drive the crowd back, but muttered oaths met their advance.

Other officers pushed into the crowd and found themselves engulfed in a screaming, fighting mob. Their night sticks were wrenched from them, their clothing was torn and they retreated. A call for aid brought the Los Angeles police from inside the stadium.

GAS SETTLES FIGHT

As the gas settled a general retreat began, men and women scattering in all directions. Twenty-seven were rounded up and placed in the Pasadena jail pending charges. Three complete sections of the fence were uprooted. A rest room was virtually demolished.

The most seriously injured were Howard Jones, 16, and Mrs. Helen Bartlett, 26, who were taken to a hospital for treatment.

South Hills Gridders Honored at Banquet

The members of the 1932 South Hills High School football squad were honored at a banquet given New Years Day by Mr. and Mrs. Ferd C. Beinhauer, Jr., in their home, 2554 Wenzel avenue, South Hills.

Mr. Beinhauer, father of Louis Beinhauer, regular end of the South Hills eleven during the 1932 season, was toastmaster. Among the speakers were Dr. L. G. Beinhauer, Ferd C. Beinhauer, Sr., Mrs. Ferd C. Beinhauer, Jr., and Julius Levin, of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PITT DEBACLE STUNS FANS

Stunned.

That single word describes the reactions of the football fans of the Pittsburgh district to the Pitt Panthers' crushing 35-0 defeat by Southern California in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Cal., yesterday.

The general belief was that this Pitt team, with the benefit of nine days of conditioning at Tucson, Ariz., would be better equipped to give the Trojans a close game than the eleven which bowed to Southern California, 47-14 on New Years Day, 1930.

The disappointment was keen, therefore, as the radio description of the game, brought to the fans by WCAE, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph station, over a national hookup, recorded the collapse of the Panthers following a hard-fought, 7-0 first half.

Stagg's Condition Held Satisfactory

Dr. Max Rhode, former pupil of Stagg and now his physician for the first time, said the congestion seemed to be breaking up a bit, but that it would be "at least three or four days" before any definite improvement could be expected. He added:

"He's just about the same, but that is not an unfavorable sign at this stage of his illness. He is still strong and I am sure he will recover."

SYNOPSIS

In previous chapters, the author has described his career from active-fisted days as a Greenwich Village office clerk, through New York fight clubs prior to the war, his winning of the A. E. F. light-heavyweight championship as a U. S. Marine, his capturing that American professional ring title via victory over Battling Levinsky and his loss of it, badly whipped in one of the bloodiest contests ever fought in old Madison Square Garden, to Harry Greb, early in 1922. After a rest and several good tune-up bouts, Gene changed managers (paying Doc Bagley $5,000 for his contract and signing with Billy Gibson) and finally cornered Greb for a return bout in the spring of 1923. Gene regained the crown, winning a close decision from Greb in 1923, repeats decisively in a third encounter, and, during the summer of 1924, he stopped Erminio Spalla, European heavy champ, and Georges Carpentier in thrilling open air bouts at New York City. Financing the latter match led to friction with Jimmy Johnston and also with the New York State Athletic Commission.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

Before Descamps would agree to his match he insisted upon a guaranty of $45,000, win, lose or draw. As the club did not care to meet this guarantee, Billy Gibson, for me, agreed to take 55 per cent of the receipts, less the state and Federal taxes, and from that pay Carpentier his certainty of $45,000. The fight drew $118,000 net.

Gene Tunney

Our 55 per cent amounted to $64,900, from which we were to give Carpentier $45,000, leaving us in the neighborhood of $19,000.

When Gibson went around to the Cromwell A. C., the next day the matchmaker presented him a check for $56,900 (less cost of advanced tickets for friends), saying that the preliminaries, which were unusually good and helped attract the public, cost him $16,000, of which he expected us to pay half. That accounted for the $8,000 deduction. Gibson refused to accept the check. Descamps was in our office looking for his money. He was nervous and excited. Neither he nor Carpentier could go to the Commission for help. The Commission had a ruling against guarantees for fighters. They had to wait until we could effect some settlement with the Cromwell A. C.

PURSE BADLY DENTED

At a meeting between Jimmy Johnston, the matchmaker, Billy Gibson and myself, there was a discussion as to whether Gibson had agreed to split the expense of the preliminaries. It was discovered that the "Boy Bandit," as Jimmy is termed by humorous newspapermen, was manager for several of the boxers who had taken part in the preliminaries. Jimmy appeared to be getting it coming and going. Upon inquiring of Jimmy why he did not incorporate the division of the preliminary matches expense in the contract since it involved so much money, he said it was an agreement entered into after the contract was drawn.

Gibson said:

"With whom?"

Jimmy answered:

"With you, of course, don't you remember?"

I interjected:

"Why didn't you draw a supplementary contract, then?"

Jimmy said:

"I took Gibson's word for it."

Seeing we are getting nowhere in his sort of conference, I thought it wise to take the $56,900 and hope for a more favorable settlement of the extra $8,000 later. After depositing the check we went over to our office where Francois waited in a clammy perspiration. We turned over to him our check for $45,000.

WARNED BY COMMISSION

After the managerial cut, the costs of sparring partners, training expenses and other incidentals were paid, my share of the Carpentier receipts was exactly $3,000. The controversy over the remaining $8,000 was disposed of at a Boxing Commission meeting, to which I went unprepared, not knowing the purpose of my summons. Johnston had also been summoned. He came with an eloquent lawyer fully prepared. The commission apparently learning for the first time that the contract was for 55 per cent of the receipts, warned us that it was against their ruling for any star to get more than 50 per cent of the gate receipts.

The chairman turned to me and said:

"Mr. Tunney, you know this contract is not in accordance with the rulings of this commission. You may take this matter to court if you choose, but I cannot say what action this commission will take if you do. This contract is in contradiction of its specific ruling"—a silent threat to let the matter drop.

I did not box in New York again until June 5, 1925. My opponent was Tom Gibbons. After the Carpentier match, I boxed several matches in the South and four or five in the West, the last of which was against my old sparring partner, the indomitable Harry Greb.

My showing against Greb that night in St. Paul so convinced him that I had grown out of his class that he came into my dressing room after the fight and said:

GREB CONCEDES EDGE

"Gene, you and I have fought five times. I am through! I will never fight you again. Let the other guys have a dose of you from now on!"

The frankness of this statement touched me. It was an acknowledgement of started decline, the dread of all boxers. My heart went out to Harry. He was slipping, and, what is more pathetic, he knew it. The Greb of 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923 would never have admitted the superiority of anyone. He was getting old. There is something heart-rending about noticeable disintegration in a gallant warrior. As Greb left the auditorium that night, Tommy Gibbons, who attended the contest, was in the lobby. Harry had fought Tommy three or four times. He knew Gibbons, and, walking over to him, said:

"Watch that guy down there; he's going to lick you."

Then continued on his way.

From then on Harry Greb became my greatest booster. He won bets on me when I boxed both Gibbons and Dempsey. Advising newspaper men why he was going to bet on me against Dempsey, he would say:

"I have boxed Dempsey and Tunney. You never know how good Tunney is until you do box him."

MATCHED WITH GIBBONS

Undaunted by my showing against Greb, Gibbons signed a day or two later to box me in New York on June 5. I felt that the time had come when I was ready for Tom Gibbons. In my opinion, Gibbons was the best fighter in America next to Jack Dempsey. I had watched him, studied him and knew him. He was acquainted with all the tricks of his craft. He was fast, clever and could hit a terrific blow with an incredibly short movement of the arm. To Tom Gibbons fighting was a science and he was master of it. He went about his work in the ring with a brilliance and flash and apparent indifference. All his actions were smooth and free from tension. He was very methodical, however.

I had seen Gibbons for the first time back in 1921 at the Pioneer A. C. on East Twenty-fourth street in New York. I had just come down from a lumber camp in Canada and the following day was going to Maine to do the labor referred to in an earlier chapter. Tom's opponent that night was Paul Sampson, with whom I had boxed a 10-round no-decision bout a little earlier, and who later became heavyweight champion of Germany under the name of Paul Koerner.

ADMIRES TOMMY'S CRAFT

Gibbons, in dispatching Sampson, who was a pretty tough fighter, showed me the finest exhibition of effective boxing I have ever seen in the ring, though the contest lasted but a round and a half. It was just a clean-cut, workmanlike job. Tom's unpretentious entrance into the ring, the completeness of his job and his exit reminded me of a first-class journeyman carpenter arriving at one's home with his kit of tools, patching up a leak in the roof and leaving. That was Tom Gibbons. On seeing this exhibition I decided that it would be several years before I would be ready for him, but I believed the time would come when Tommy would have to be removed on my climb to the contendership.

I agreed to meet him in 1922 provided he whipped Greb, only because of the silly notion that unless I could defeat every light-heavyweight in the country I had no right to call myself champion. Greb, in defeating him at that time, relieved me of a pretty tough job.

Next comes the Gibbons fight on the broiling June night in 1925 when Tunney first tapped distinctly on Dempsey's door by knocking out the clever boxer who had gone the 15-round limit with Jack. Read how Gene himself sums up that bout and its ugly repercussions when "the chiselers around Harry Wills became fearful" lest the Brown Panther miss a dreamed-of "million-dollar gate" with the then champion.

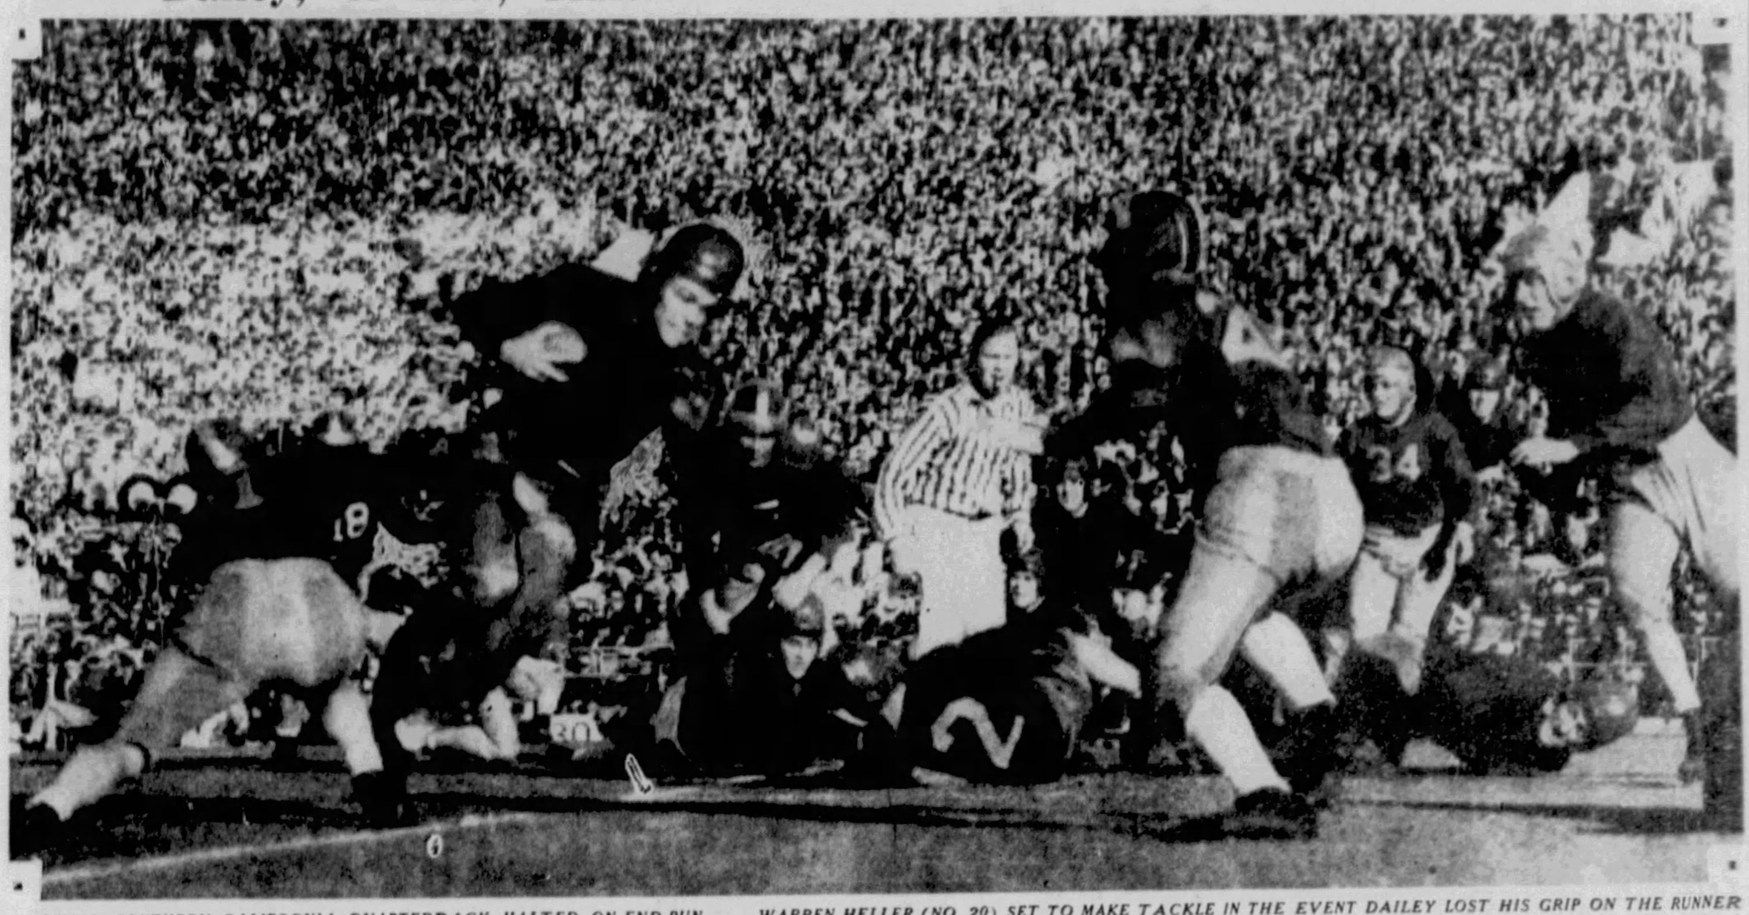
Dailey, of Pitt, Makes Tackle in Panthers' Rose Bowl Rout



GRIFFITH, SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA QUARTERBACK, HALTED ON END RUN . . . . WARREN HELLER (NO. 20) SET TO MAKE TACKLE IN THE EVENT DAILEY LOST HIS GRIP ON THE RUNNER

The University of Pittsburgh's football team yesterday suffered its second decisive defeat in three years by a Southern California eleven in a Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Cal., the score being 35-0. Griffith was one of the outstanding stars for the Trojans. He tossed a long forward pass for their first score and registered a touchdown himself, alternating with Warburton, relief quarterback, in harrassing the Panther defense throughout the afternoon. Pitt collapsed entirely in the fourth quarter. This is an International News Photo Service telephoto picture.

Play-By-Play Story Of Panthers' Defeat

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The play-by-play account of the Pitt-Southern California game in the Rose Bowl here yesterday follows:

FIRST QUARTER

Capt. Tay Brown won the toss for S. C. and elected to kick off. Pitt chose the north goal, with the slight breeze in its face.

Stevens kicked off to Sebastian on the goal line. He brought the ball back to the 16. Sebastian made 12 yards on a reverse. Heller picked up two and then passed incomplete. It was a long throw. Hogan punted to Griffith, who was tackled by Hartwig on the 38 after a four-yard return.

Griffith and Clark on line drives went to the 45. Griffith then found a wide hole through center, for a first down in the exact center of the field. Clark sifted through right tackle for seven yards. Griffith was just inches from a first down on the 40. Clark made it a first down, driving the left side to the Pitt 37.

Griffith faded far back to his 45-yard line and arched a high pass to Fort. Palmer, who jumped high in the air just over the goal line for a touchdown. The pass was 38 yards. Smith kicked goal from placement. Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 7.

Sebastian was caught napping as Palmer made the catch.

Stevens kicked off to Weinstock, who returned 14 to his 34-yard line.

Sebastian circled up two on a reverse but Heller's long pass was too wide for Skladany. Griffith returned Hogan's punt 15 yards from his 15.

Griffith and Clark cracked the line for eight. Clark on a spinner made it first down on the 40-yard line. Skladany held Clark for no gain. Griffith was badly rushed on a forward pass, and Pitt was penalized for holding.

Warburton and Getz went in for Griffith and Clark.

Heller kicked through to the 39. Sebastian was stopped at center for a scant yard. Sebastian completed a short flat pass to Dailey for a first down on the 46-yard line.

Interference was ruled on another long pass and the ball was put in play on the Trojan 35-yard line. Ford Palmer recovered Sebastian's fumble on the 33-yard line.

Warburton circled left end to the 40. Weinstock returned to the side lines, where the Panthers went into a compact huddle while he changed his torn trousers. Warburton dashed through a hole at center for first down on the 45.

Getz fumbled and lost 10 yards. It was a bad pass from center.

Warburton lost two more. Southern California was penalized 15 yards to its 16 for holding. Palmer punted to Sebastian at midfield. Pitt was penalized five yards for running into the kicker. Warburton drove left guard for six.

Palmer punted again, this time to the 30-yard line. Sebastian returned to the 43. Heller picked up two yards on a wide reverse from one side of the field to the other. Sebastian picked up two more as the first quarter ended.

Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 7.

SECOND QUARTER

Both teams substituted freely as the second period opened. Munjas punted out of bounds on the Trojan 24. Clark recovered a bad pass from center on his 12-yard line.

Warburton passed to Sparling, who caught the ball but fumbled as Heller hit him. Palmer punted out of bounds on the 22-yard line.

Sebastian completed a flat pass to Skladany to the 49-yard line. He crashed through right tackle for a first down on the 45-yard line.

Weisenbaugh slipped through the middle of the line and dashed down the field to the 23-yard line as Warburton pulled him down after a 38-yard run.

Heller's long pass fell incompiete over the safety zone and the Trojans took possession on their 20.

Warburton slipped and fell, losing three. Griffith's punt was partially blocked and Pitt took the ball on the 33-yard line. Sparling broke through and caught Heller before he could throw the ball, for a six-yard loss.

Heller broke loose for six over left tackle. Rosenberg caught him after six home yards over the same spot. Sebastian failed to make first down on the 25-yard line. Warburton spun through center for three yards. Griffith found the same hole for three more.

Griffith intercepted Heller's pass with Sebastian the intended receiver, tackling him on the Trojan 41. Warburton slipped through center for three. Sparling on a clever broken field run, dashed to the Pitt 12 with his famous reverse. He did it again, going to the 33.

Griffith picked up seven, going to the 24. He made it first down on the 20-yard line again, driving through the line. Sparling picked up a yard on a reverse. Griffith tried the right side, but Pitt swarmed in so he reversed his field and picked up five yards. He recovered his own fumble. Skladany threw him for a 24-yard loss as the half ended.

Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 7.

THIRD QUARTER

Weinstock kicked off to Clark, who fumbled and then returned the ball to the Trojan 12-yard line.

Clark and Griffith hit the line for four yards. Griffith punted to Sebastian at midfield. He returned to the Trojan 43. Erskine threw Sebastian for a 10-yard loss on a sweeping reverse to the right.

Griffith intercepted Heller's pass on his 33-yard line and ran the ball back to the Pitt 33. His first play was a short pass, incomplete. Sparling drove to the 23 on a reverse.

Again he tried it and went to the 12 for a first down. Griffith spun through the center of the line to the four-yard line. Dailey knifed in and threw Griffith for a six-yard loss. Dailey and Onder smeared him for the loss of another yard.

Griffith was badly rushed on an attempted pass and Pitt took the ball on downs 11 yards from its goal line.

Sparling reversed to the two-yard line. Clark couldn't get over the line and failed to gain. Bright tossed a flat pass to Griffith over the goal line for a touchdown. Smith kicked goal from placement. Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 14.

Stevens kicked off to Heller who returned from the nine to his 30-yard line.

Smith stopped Sebastian after picking up three. Youel caught Heller on the 49-yard line after a quick thrust over left guard for 29 yards. His short pass was too short. Weinstock was stopped by Smith. Smith broke through and dropped Heller for a five-yard loss on an attempted pass. Munjas punted to Griffith after a three-yard return to the 33-yard line. Griffith ran the side lines to the 29 after two other plays failed.

He punted to Sebastian, who fumbled and recovered as Palmer hit him on the 27. The line closed up on Heller after a yard gain. He picked up five more. Munjas punted to Griffith who was downed by Dailey after a four-yard return to the 34 as the third period ended.

Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 14.

FOURTH QUARTER

Warburton picked up four over left guard. Clemens danced through the right side to the 45 for a first down. Warburton got his usual four on a spinner through center. Sparling added four. Clark bucked the line for a first down on the Pitt 42. He hit Pitt's forwards for four more.

Warburton went to the 34, and Clark moved the ball up another yard. Warburton leaped through a slender hole for a first down on the Pitt 20. He slipped through another crack in the line and dashed to the 15. He lost his shirt on the play.

Warburton got away to the five-yard line on another quick slant. Clark drove to the four for a first down.

Again Warburton knifed through, to the one-yard line. Clark drove to the one-foot line over the right side. Warburton was inches short of a touchdown. Warburton made it on the next thrust. Smith kicked goal for the third time.

Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 21.

Captain Paul Reider went into the game for Sebastian. Weinstock returned Smith's kickoff 11 yards to his 28. Palmer recovered Weinstock's fumble on the Pitt 21-yard line. It was a bad pass from center. Sparling slanted to the 16-yard line.

Warburton ran through right tackle for a first down on the 10-yard line. Clark threw a lateral to Warburton just as he hit the line of scrimmage and Cotton ran untouched to a touchdown. Smith again kicked goal.

Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 28.

The crowd rose to its feet and gave Smith a great cheer as he left the field. Coach Howard Jones sent in his reserves. Heller took Lady's kickoff on his goal line and returned to his 17-yard line.

On a reverse Reider picked up a lone yard. Hogan's punt was blocked by Brown-ing and Beeson, substitute ends, and the ball rolled out of bounds. It was fourth down and Troy took the ball on the five.

Score: Pitt 0, Southern California 35.

Lady kicked off to Nicksick on the three. He returned to the 25. Nicksick drove to the 32. Nicksick passed to Hooker, sub for Dailey for a 21-yard gain to the 50. Another toss was wide and incomplete. Hogan's pass fell incomplete as the game ended.

Final score: Pitt 0, Southern California 35.

Australia Evens Series With England

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Australia evened the cricket series with England today, winning the second of five test matches by 111 runs.

The scores were: Australia, 228 and 191; England, 169 and 139.

Vines Leads U. S. Netters in Victory

ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The touring United States tennis team today won an exhibition series from Australia, eight matches to four, to remain undefeated in team play on their visit.

Ellsworth Vines, Jr., American and Wimbledon champion, reversed the result of their recent meeting in the Victoria championships as he easily defeated Jack Crawford, Australia's No. 1 player, 6-1, 6-2.

Vines, paired with Keith Gledhill, defeated E. F. Moon and Ardian Quist, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1, and Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn won from Crawford and H. O. Hopman, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

The only Australian victory of the day was registered by Quist, who defeated Van Ryn, 6-4, 6-3.

MIAMI DOWNS MANHATTAN

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Chick Meehan's Manhattan College football team, of New York City, prepared to depart for home today after having lost its post-season charity game with Miami University in the first annual Festival of the Palms gridiron classic.

With only five minutes left to play, Cecil Cook, halfback, swept wide around right end and raced over the goal line yesterday, giving Miami a 7-to-0 victory.

Starting from its 37-yard line, Miami pushed the ball down the field with line plunges and passes to the two-yard line, making three consecutive first downs en route. From that point, after two line plays failed to gain an inch, Cook skirted end for the score.

The Manhattan eleven came here a week ago and trained in the Miami weather to prepare for the game. The lineup:

Carty	L.E.	Middleton
Boylan	L.T.	Kuter
Cicciolella	L.G.	Puglisi
Smith	C.	Henderson
Hartnett	R.G.	Brion
Heimenz	R.T.	Heckman
Moyer	R.E.	Buckley
Pendergast	Q.	Thompson
Battle (c)	L.H.	Bates (c)
Barkaus	R.H.	Cook
Giard	F.	Fahrny

Score by periods:

Miami	0	0	0	7—7

Southern California held the punting edge, averaging 34 yards to 32. Warburton, with his flashes of speed, rolled up the highest individual average with 77 yards gained, followed by All-America Heller, with a 63-yard total, and Griffith with 61.

The victory was the fourth for Southern California in as many Rose tournaments. It was the third unsuccessful appearance for Pittsburgh.

Greenleaf Leads Ponzi in Match

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Ralph Greenleaf, national champion, and Andrew Ponzi, of Philadelphia, split the first two blocks of their 1750-point exhibition pocket billard match. Greenleaf leads in total points, 252 to 244.

Greenleaf won the afternoon block yesterday, 135 to 44, but lost in the evening, 200 to 117.

JAFFEE SKATE VICTOR

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Irving Jaffee, Olympic skating champion, won three exhibition races from Everett McGowan, St. Paul, yesterday, giving Jaffee four victories to two in their two-day series.

'KEEPSIE CREW CLASSIC SAFE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—There need be no fear, despite the expression of it in some quarters, about the famous Poughkeepsie Regatta holding its place in the intercollegiate sports picture for 1933.

Maxwell Stevenson, of Columbia, chairman of the stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association, in a statement to the Associated Press, said:

"There is undoubtedly the need for retrenchment this year and we may not have quite so many crews in competition as before, but the championship regatta will be held on the Hudson as usual and I am confident most, if not all, our rowing colleges will be represented."

The annual meeting of the stewards, to discuss plans for Poughkeepsie and the rowing situation in general, will be held in New York, January 12, Stevenson said.

Homestead at Clairton Fifth.
E. Pittsburgh at E. McKeesport.

By JULIUS LEVIN

Pre-season campaigning will be completed by the City League and W. P. I. A. L. fives tonight as the schoolboy passers engage in a heavy program of battling.

Allegheny, of the City League, meets a comparatively tame opponent in Wilkinsburg, which so far has found victory to be a very elusive plum. Other City League fives will mark time until Friday, when the regular league campaigning gets under way.

Among W. P. I. A. L. teams, Swissvale engages Ambridge in a return clash at Ambridge, seeking to repeat its feat of stopping the Bridgers, which was accomplished two weeks ago. Scott and Munhall meet at North Braddock, with the Reedmen due for a test.

Charleroi tackles Washington at Washington; Mt. Lebanon plays at McKeesport; Norwin engages Braddock at Braddock; Canonsburg goes to Homestead; Springdale shows at East Pittsburgh; Rankin meets Central Catholic; Uniontown faces Belle Vernon; Centerville battles Monessen; Aspinwall and Edgewood go it at Elzewood, and South Union tests Dunbar in other tussles between W. P. I. A. L. rivals.

In the Junior W. P. I. A. L., Homestead plays at Clairton and East Pittsburgh at East McKeesport.

HOLT UPSETS DOPE, BEATS QUINTERO

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor

"You mind what I'm telling you. You'll have a story to write for Tuesday's paper."

It was Jess Miller, silver-haired manager of Billy Holt, Negro welterweight boxer, of Homewood, who was speaking, trying to drum up interest, a few days ago, in Billy's match with Manuel Quintero, the Spaniard, from Tampa, Fla., at Motor Square Garden last night. It seemed no one was inclined to take seriously the chances of young Billy against a veteran who boasted wins over Tommy Freeman and other big names of the sport.

On paper, Holt appeared to be ill overmatched. But Jess Mil- didn't think so, and he said as ich, adding:

"You'll find Billy a much improved fighter. He has the aggressiveness he formerly lacked. I'm going to send him right after Quintero. There will be no Spaniard blighting his life."

WEATHERS STORM

Well, sirs, we're here to tell you that Billy Holt came through for Jess Miller. He tore into the southpaw Quintero and won himself the unanimous decision of the judges and the referee and, in so doing, blasted the reputation of a fighter who had hoped to box Ted Yarosz and others here. And, in one leap, Billy jumped from a fighter who has been lucky to get preliminary bouts to the estate of a main-bouter in his own right.

It was no pink tea for Billy, this fight. In fact, for a few moments late in the ninth round it looked as if he might not finish on his feet, he was that sick and weak from body punishment. But he weathered the storm and also the final round, and, with his big early lead, marched home in front.

Quintero, a one-handed boxer, his right being virtually useless, unquestionably ran into a surprise package in the determined Holt, who went out blazing away with right-hand punches to the head and body from the start. Manuel, for the life of him, with all of his swift moving, couldn't keep out of their path and soaked them up as a sponge absorbs water. Only once was he knocked down and then only for a count of one by a right which sent him sailing halfway across the ring into the ropes. That was in the fourth round.

QUINTERO STARTS LATE

It was not until the fifth round that the visitor began to do any damage, and then he slowed down Holt by working on his body at close quarters. From then on he concentrated on banging his left into the midsection, Billy's old vulnerable spot, but it was not until the last minute of the ninth round that he got any real results. Then, in the midst of one of Billy's right-hand throwing rushes, he sank in a left up to his wrist and Billy doubled and covered. He was badly hurt. Quintero followed up and had him sick and woebegone and covering for the remainder of the round, and there is no telling what might have happened if the bell had not come to Billy's rescue.

Billy went out for the final round protecting his body and fighting only enough to hold his own. Late in the round, he doubled up again from a left, but this time Quintero did not follow up as before, and the final bell found Billy still there, and the winner.

The result was the upset of the season in a main bout here. Holt scale 148 pounds and Quintero 145¼.

GROVE, NICHY STOPPED

Two knockouts featured the preliminaries. The Alabama Kid, Negro southpaw, of Dover, O., who recently won by a technical knockout over Jimmy Belmont in six rounds at Dover, added Davy Grove, of the North Side, to his list of victims. Grove was subbing for Belmont, who was unable to go through with a return bout because of illness. A left hook to the jaw after 16 seconds of sparring in the fourth round stretched Grove on his back for the count. He was down also for nine from a barrage of punches in the first round, but did fairly well thereafter until the knockout. The Alabama Kid proved himself a good two-fisted puncher and ought to get a lot of work around here. He outweighed Grove, 156¾ pounds to 148.

A right to the jaw, delivered on the breakaway from a clinch, ended a rattling good second bout between Johnny Riske, South Hills middleweight, and Billy Nichy, of the North Side, in the first half minute of the third round. Nichy got up reeling at the count of eight and pitched down to the canvas again and the bout was stopped. The fighting was vicious and about even up to the finishing blow.

DIPIERO WINS IN DEBUT

Tony DiPiero, former Duquesne University light-heavyweight, making his professional debut, won all of the way over Tom Farrow, Aliquippa Negro, in a six-round opener, a good win in view of the fact that Farrow recently knocked out Lloyd Clements in the same ring.

DATTO BEATEN

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 3.—Ray Miller, of Chicago, had his purse held up following his 10-round victory over Johnny Datto, Pittsburgh Filipino, here yesterday. It was charged he did not give his best efforts. Jo Jepp, Miller claims, he fractured a hand during the battle. Tait Littman, local middleweight, was knocked out in the second round of the main bout by Frankie O'Brien, of Hartford, Conn.

S. M. U. WINS

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Scoring a touchdown in each quarter and converting from placement twice, a better conditioned Southern Methodist football team trounced the Texas College of Mines and Arts gridders, 26 to 0, before some 5,000 persons in a post-season football game here yesterday.

LOCAL GOLFERS SECOND

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 3.—Durban McGraw, of Pittsburgh, and his partner, Frances Parson, of Youngstown, O., tied for second in the young peoples' mixed foursome golf tournament here yesterday with a net 74.

FRIENDS MOURN KID GLEASON

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The baseball world and friends and acquaintances almost without number are mourning today the passing of one of the diamond's most colorful and best known figures, William (Kid) Gleason. The veteran died here [illegible]

Kid Gleason

Gleason fulfilled one of his life's ambitions by leading as manager the Chicago White Sox to a league pennant in 1919. And then in the world series with Cincinnati, several of Gleason's boys tossed the series away, earning for the Chicago team the name of "Black Sox."

That chapter in Chicago baseball history, Gleason's cronies said, "broke the old man's heart." Gleason refused to believe that the Sox could be involved in such a scandal as deliberately throwing the series.

He trained the White Sox players into becoming stars and no player ever benefitted more by his experience than Eddie Cicotte, a spitball pitcher who had been shifted all over the American League circuit without any success.

Gleason is survived by his only child, Mrs. Mamie Robb; five brothers and a sister. Of the brothers, only Harry, the youngest of the family, played baseball. He was with the St. Louis Americans in the early part of the century and played with several minor league clubs before he retired.

PIRATES KEEP EYES PEELED FOR HURLER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Pirate Manager George Gibson will return to Pittsburgh soon to go over the Pirate situation thoroughly with President Bill Benswanger and Vice President Sam Watters. Gibson spent a happy holiday season on his Canadian ranch, but the home of the Buccos will be his domicile for the remainder of the winter.

Gibby and his associates are on the trail of a high-grade pitcher, and you can tell your friends and neighbors that the Pittsburgh boss is not particular concerning the species of the sharpshooter wanted; in other words he can throw with either hand or both, provided he measures up to the task of fooling the de luxe hitters of Heydler circuit.

Pittsburgh baseball followers today were surprised over the announcement that George Susce, Oakland boy and baseball property of the Detroit Tigers, had been "released" to the Tiger farm at Beaumont, Tex. The former Schenley High catcher and gridiron star was reported as being one of the best receivers in the International League last year as he caught for Montreal under a Detroit option.

SCHALDACH STARS

In the final quarter, the East climbed within a point of the West, 14 to 13. The strong arm of Gil Berry, Illinois right half, shot a pass over the western goal to Dick Fencl, Northwestern end. A place kick by Jack Manders, Minnesota quarterback, added the extra marker.

Schaldach again ran wild as the West launched a late drive for the final touchdown. He carried back Berry's punt 33 yards to the East's seven-yard strip. He rambled around end again for five yards on the scoring play.

It was the West's fifth victory in the eight annual games that have been played. The lineup:

EAST	POS.	WEST.
Moss, Purdue	L. E.	Stone, Olymp. Club
Weiss, Minnesota	L. T.	Morgan, Oregon
Hill, Colgate	L. G.	Molinari, S. Clara
Gilbane, Brown	C.	Ely, Nebraska

Packers Complete Hawaii Invasion

HONOLULU, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—A successful football invasion of Hawaii was over today for the Green Bay Packers, professional football team for Wisconsin.

Before an all-time record crowd of 17,764, the Packers yesterday swamped over an alumni team from McKinley High School, 31-0. In a Christmas game they defeated the Kamehameha alumni.

Slaughter Stops Firpo in First

DAYTON, O., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—Two punches and it was all over in the scheduled 10-round boxing bout between Sammy Slaughter, of Terre Haute, Ind., and Henry Firpo, of Louisville.

With the first punch last night, Slaughter sent Firpo down for a count of nine. The second put him down for 10. Slaughter weighed 1[illegible] pounds, Firpo 167.

DEMPSEY NOT SOUGHT

Railroad Earnings Drop During Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Preliminary estimates to the American Railway Association show that all class I railroads had net operating income in 1932 of $324,000,000, or a return of 1.21 per cent on property investment, which compares with 1931 net operating income of $531,000,000, or a return of 1.98 per cent. Aggregate net deficit of class I railroads in 1932 was close to $200,000,000, according to R. H. Aishton, president of the association. While some companies more than earned their interest and fixed charges during the year more than 80 per cent of the roads failed to do so.

POLITICAL FOG WRAPS SALES TAX ISSUE

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Recent gossip about the position of political leaders on the sales tax has been unrealistic.

Economic problems are no respecters of partisan opinions, and it seems to me that economic circumstances will impress the federal government with the desirability of supplementing existing taxes with consumption taxes.

Mr. Rukeyser

The real question is not whether we are not to have the sales tax. It is rather whether we are to have a general manufacturers' sales tax, or a compromise in the form of selected sales taxes. The issue is coming to be centered around the word "general," rather than sales tax.

DEBT BURDEN GROWS

There has been a mystic attempt to clothe the issue in nonfinancial terms.

This may be good propaganda for the debtors, but certainly it is not to be encouraged by the creditor.

All the moral and political aspects of war debts were settled in a meeting of the minds in the existing war debt agreements.

BARUCH URGED STUDY

Anticipating the recent maneuver, Bernard M. Baruch last April suggested that our government assume the realistic attitude of a banking creditor, and seek to understand the true economic position of debtors. Baruch suggests that the government ask those who report on inability to transfer dollars what they can pay in, such as foreign exchange, and nonperishable raw materials, which are noncompetitive with the products of American agriculture.

In this connection, it is interesting to recall that in repaying Revolutionary War advances to France, this country, then a fledgling, made part payment in tobacco and part in so-called government stock, which entailed granting an extension.

Brass and Copper Prices Adjusted

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—American Brass Company, subsidiary of Anaconda Copper, has reduced the base price of general brass products by 1½c a pound, and of copper products by 1¾c a pound.

The reduction is really virtually no change in the actual price to consumers as there have been corresponding reductions in discount allowances. It is really not a change in prices but rather an announcement of a new method of quoting prices.

L. S. Gimbel Forms Brokerage Concern

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Louis S. Gimbel, Jr., formerly vice president of Saks & Co. and vice president and director of Gimbel Brothers, has organized a new stock exchange firm under the name of Louis Gimbel & Co., in partnership with Arthur F. Schiff.

BRAKE SHOE'S ORDERS ON UPTREND

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—American Brake Shoe and Foundry Company's long record of profitable operations is likely to be unbroken in 1932, despite the extreme curtailment in railroad buying and in demand from other consumers of its products. While it is probable the company will not earn full dividend requirements on the preferred and common at the present rates, the deficit after dividends is likely to approximate the amount charged for depreciation, which is a bookkeeping matter, and not an actual cash outlay. The common pays 60 cents annually at present. Common and preferred dividends total about $1,000,000.

CASH IMPROVED

As evidence of the satisfactory showing during the past year, the cash position of the company probably will show a material improvement over that reported at the end of 1931, when the last financial statement was issued. Cash then amounted to $2,406,000; current assets totaled $9,398,000, and current liabilities $1,037,000.

Brake Shoe's business reached the low point late last spring, and has shown a gradual improvement since then. About 90 per cent of its business is for replacement purposes. While demand fluctuates with the rate of activity of its consumers, a certain amount of essential business is booked even in abnormally low production periods.

WIDENING MARKETS

A favorable straw in the outlook for Brake Shoe is the tendency of railroad maintenance charges to increase recently. For some time previously, railroads had been operating with maintenance charges cut to the minimum. With railroad traffic showing gradual gains recently, the pressure of long deferred maintenance apparently is beginning to be felt, necessitating larger expenditures by the carriers.

Brake Shoe's business is not confined to the railroads. The company has followed a program of diversifying its output for several years. Malleable steel castings and forgings, bearings and brass castings for railroad and industrial use, and brake linings for trucks, buses and pleasure cars are among the products manufactured.

NITRATE TRUST DISSOLVED

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—A government decree dissolving the Cosach Nitrate Combine was made public today, having been signed yesterday by President Alessandri.

It was said the action was taken without the advice or consultation of private owners of class B Cosach stock, which means without the knowledge of foreign interests.

The decree rescinds those of March and April, 1931, which created the organization, and orders immediate dissolution of the combine. Aureliano Burr was appointed as government representative on a committee to take over the company's affairs. The Supreme Court designated Jorge Matte, former foreign minister, as another member of the committee. A third member is to be appointed by private interests involved.

The President has asked Congress to vest the committee with full legal powers.

Unemployment Can Be Conquered If Every American Will Buy Only Goods Made In U. S., Declares B. C. Forbes

By B. C. FORBES

IF A FAIRY told you that you could have just one New Year wish, what would it be?

Mine would be: The re-employment of every idle person in this country.

But since we cannot depend upon fairies, let us do a little wand-waving ourselves.

We can, if we will, produce magical results.

What can give employment to the unemployed?

Work.

What supplies work?

Buying—if (and this is a very important if) we buy things produced by American workers.

In Heaven doubtless there is no need for tariffs. When the millennium finally turns this earth into Utopia, it won't make any difference whether home-made or foreign-made goods are purchased.

But Heaven has not yet come down to earth. The millennium has not dawned. Utopia is still some distance off.

We live in a sternly practical, work-a-day world. We must deal with actualities, with realities. We must face and wrestle with hard facts.

Our first concern, the first concern of you and me as patriotic Americans, must be the well-being of our own country, the well-being of our own fellow-citizens, especially the well-being of those millions, victims of economic dislocation, who have been deprived of the opportunity to earn a livelihood for themselves and their dependents.

How can we best aid them?

BY MAKING IT POSSIBLE FOR THEM TO RESUME WORK.

This we can do to the extent of our ability, by insisting upon being supplied with American products instead of foreign products, whenever possible.

We exclude Asiatics from our country for one reason, among others, that they tend to lower the American standard of living.

But we do not exclude the products of these same Asiatics though these products are made by workers not maintaining anything approaching the American standard of living.

If we allowed Asiatics to enter this country, we at least would sell them their necessaries of life and they would thus expand our domestic market.

Instead, we keep them out but let in their low-wage products to compete unfairly with American producers paying American wages.

Take just one little Asiatic article, electric lamp bulbs. Cheap, deceptively inferior Japanese bulbs have so flooded this country during 1932 that American factories have had to be closed and American workers have lost in wages two-and-a-third millions of dollars.

The buyers of these Japanese bulbs didn't know that it has cost them $11,000,000 MORE for electric current to light them than it would have cost to light American-made bulbs.

A case of buy cheap, buy dear, with a vengeance!

Foreign coal is being dumped here. Every two tons imported put an American miner out of work for a full day—and, of course, makes business bad for all the far-reaching number of grocers, bakers, butchers, furniture merchants, department stores, railroads, etc., etc., dependent upon mining communities for trade.

A thousand other concrete illustrations of how foreign products retard the return of American prosperity could be cited.

American industry, American agriculture, American wage-earners are being subjected today to foreign competition rendered doubly unfair because of the drastic drop in the value of most foreign currencies.

Foreigners sell here and get paid in gold. For this gold they get far more than a normal amount of their currencies. For example, the Japanese manufacturer or exporter gets a premium on his American gold of 135 per cent, British exporters a premium of almost 45 per cent, Spanish exporters a premium of 137 per cent, Scandinavian exporters premiums up to 65, yes, 100 per cent; even Canadian exporters have a 15 per cent advantage.

This means that foreign manufacturers and others pay their wages, buy their materials, pay their rents, pay transportation charges and everything else, not in currency worth a hundred cents to the dollar, but worth very much less. They sell their wares here for gold but pay their production costs in "tin" money.

No such inequitable, lop-sided condition was provided for by our tariff-makers. They considered only differences in wage costs. But now we have these terrific, these ruinous currency handicaps.

Meanwhile, you and I have in our hands the most sure-fire remedy of all: We can simply concentrate on American goods.

Foreigners have for years shouted and shrieked at us that the only way they could pay their debts to us was by shipping their products to us.

The indications now are that we are going to be cheated out of our foreign debts.

Therefore, we have additional reason for drastically cutting down purchases of foreign products and for "Buying American."

Let each of us implant in our mind at the beginning of 1933 this thought:

"Every time I spend a nickel or a dime or a dollar for American-made goods, I help to give a fellow-citizen work, I drive away unemployment, I act the part of a good fairy."

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The Colonial Trust Company will be held at the office of the company, 414 Wood street, on Tuesday, January 10, 1933, at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing a board of directors to serve until the next annual meeting, as fixed by the by-laws, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

A. D. ROBB, Secretary.

THE UNION NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

THE regular annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank for the election of directors, and the transaction of such other business as may be properly brought before it, will be held at the banking house, Wood Street and Fourth Avenue, on Tuesday, January 10, 1933, between the hours of one and two o'clock P. M.

R. H. BEATTY, Cashier.

CAR LOADINGS ABOVE 1931

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The American Railway Association announced today that loadings of revenue freight for the week ending December 24 were 494,580 cars, a decrease of 22,216 cars under the preceding week, but an increase of 53,681 over the same week last year.

Although the loadings for the week ended December 24 were higher than those of the same week last year, they were still 41,712 under the same week in 1930.

The association in making its announcement said that in making comparisons with the same weeks in 1931 and 1930 consideration must be given to the fact that in those two years the week included the Christmas holiday.

Miscellaneous freight loaded during the week ended December 24 totaled 138,329 cars, decrease 10,053 and 6,884; coal, 140,836, decrease 3,922 under the preceding week, but 51,192 over the same week last year; less than carlot merchandise, 154,613, decrease 5,499 under the preceding week, but 4,172 over the same week last year; grain and grain products, 25,370, decrease 219 below the preceding week, but 4,856 over the same week last year.

BIG MARKETERS REDUCE 'GAS'

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The Sinclair Refining Company has reduced tank wagon and service station price of gasoline 1 cent a gallon on all grades east of the Rocky Mountains, where the company markets.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana has cut its price of gasoline to correspond with the Sinclair Reduction, but only at points where the price level was normal. So far no adjustments have been made at points where the price has been sub-normal.

The Pure Oil Company has met the Sinclair cut at all points.

TOLEDO, Jan. 3.—The lowest gasoline prices here in more than 10 years have resulted from a "price war." Standard Oil of Ohio reduced prices of all grades 2 cents a gallon December 31, and all companies met the cut. Sinclair Refining yesterday made new reduction of 1 cent, its price at retail stations being 7 cents for low grade; 10 cents for ordinary and 12 cents for ethyl, excluding 4 cents state tax and 1 cent federal tax.

A New Year Message

FROM THE COLONIAL

TO the more than 20,000 depositors and clients of The Colonial Trust Company, the Directors and Officers extend their wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

In 1933, as in 1932, The Colonial will continue to do all in its power to make their New Year happy and prosperous. The Colonial believes that a large part of its duty is to render helpful service. It is glad that it has been able to be of great help and service in 1932.

The magnificent display, in the corridors of The Colonial during Christmas Week, of products manufactured in the Pittsburgh district is one evidence of the great number of leading corporations and firms which look on The Colonial as their bank. This display has become an annual exhibit.

SELLING HALTS STOCK PRICE ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The stock market put its best foot forward at the start of the new year today, but was unable to make headway against a sluggish current of selling.

After opening moderately higher, the list slid off during the morning. Prices stiffened a little after midday, but showed scant recuperative power. Traders generally remained apathetic.

The announcement of a reduction in the wholesale price of some of the leading brands of cigarets to $6 per thousand from $6.85 had evidently been well discounted in advance. The renewed unsettlement in the petroleum price structure, however, continued to bring the selling into the oils. Mag-no-a, Socony-Vacuum subsidiary, priced crude prices, bringing its price in line with reductions made several other companies in December, and gasoline prices were cut by Sinclair and Standard of Indiana.

The year-end reviews, while distinctly more conservative in tenor than in preceding years, were inclined to agree that striking progress had been made in the last half of 1932 in breaking the vicious circle of deflation and achieving a measure of stability. However, many overhanging uncertainties were mentioned as standing in the way of rapid recovery, particularly the burdens of public and private indebtedness, and the problems of taxation, and currency stabilization. The National City Bank, in its monthly survey, said that as long as the outcome of issues before the government for action remains uncertain, "capital is likely to continue timid, and business to delay plans for expansion."

WHEAT PRICES REACTIONARY

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Material upturns in grain values here took place early today. The Liverpool wheat market showed decided strength, and further stimulus was announcement that the Grain Stabilization Corporation would not sell its holdings of wheat futures. Opening ¼-¾ higher, wheat afterward reacted somewhat. Corn started ⅛-⅜ up and subsequently held near the initial range.

Price advances here were helped simultaneously by Liverpool dispatches that world shipments of wheat were too small, and by a report that drought in domestic winter wheat territory was unabated, with irreparable damage already done and losses mounting daily.

Provisions were responsive to upturns of hog values.

M. A. Houston Joins McLaughlin Firm

McLaughlin, MacAfee & Co. announced the appointment of Montgomery A. Houston as manager of their municipal department. Before entering the security business 14 years ago, Mr. Houston was connected with the engineering department of the American Bridge Company. He is well known in investment circles and has recently been associated with J. H. Holmes & Co.

Holland Planning To Refinance Debt

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 3.—The kingdom of the Netherlands will offer 296,000,000 guilders 4 per cent, 40-year bonds at par on January 11. Payment is to be made on February 1.

Of the proceeds 186,000,000 guilders will be used for conversion of the first of two 5 per cent issues made in 1932. The remainder will be used for redemption of a portion of the outstanding short-term debt.

Local Exchange Selects Officers

Officers and directors of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange were re-elected today for the ensuing year. There were no changes in the list. The officers are: R. S. Richards, president; Samuel Carothers, vice president, and William J. Bauer, treasurer. The three directors re-elected were C. S. McCleary, M. R. Barbour and C. H. Borntraeger.

Daily Oil Output Off 47,570 Barrels

TULSA, Jan. 3.—The Oil and Gas Journal estimates domestic crude oil production in the week ended December 31, at 1,712,765 barrels daily, a decrease of 47,570 barrels daily from the average of the preceding week.

COPPER MARKET IN WAITING ATTITUDE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Little more than a nominal price for copper prevails in either the foreign or the domestic market. There is no pressure to sell in their market and a tendency is appearing even abroad for some to hold at a price slightly above the market so as to permit those who so desire to sell.

There is a feeling that it would not take much to put the foreign market up if an accord upon production rate could be reached. However, there is no indication that Roan Antelope intends to recede from its production plan of 81,000,000 pounds for 1933 compared with 46,750,000-pound quota for 1932.

Despite the increase in output to this rate of 81,000,000 pounds a year since August by Roan Antelope, world stocks of copper have been declining at the rate of somewhere between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 pounds a month.

FOREIGN STOCKS LOW

This would indicate that a recovery in price abroad might be expected if the other producers do not step up their output in consequence of the Roan increase.

The leeway between foreign consumption and foreign output is not great, so much must depend upon the output increase during the next few months, and also upon whether European consumption of copper is to increase.

At the present time foreign users of coppers are somewhat under-bought. As a result the market is sensitive, at least temporarily, and prices could easily advance somewhat. In the long run, however, price trend must depend upon production tactics.

U. S. IN BALANCE.

In the domestic market production is, if anything, slightly below consumption even if domestic buying is unusually low. This is partly because of inventory time and partly because domestic consumers are bought well ahead on their requirements. However, price is firm, as offerings are small.

Copper abroad is offered at prices ranging between 5.05 and 5.15 cents a pound c. i. f. Hamburg, Havre and London, with 5.10 a typical price. Domestic shipments are 5 cents a pound delivered to end of March, and 5⅛ to 5¼ cents for second-quarter deliveries. In both markets the amount of copper changing hands is so small that prices are practically nominal.

COTTON PRICES STEADY, UP

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Cotton futures opened steady, 1 higher to 3 lower on a fair trade demand and southern selling. January, 5.92; March, 6.01; May, 6.14; July, 6.22; October, 6.43; December, 6.54.

Foreign trade buying was of fair proportions following the opening and prices hardened a trifle, only to meet renewed southern selling. The spot basis was steady.

The March position advanced to 6.03 and then eased to 5.97. Around 10:30 the market was generally steady, unchanged to 3 points decline.

Trading was quiet later in the morning and fluctuations continued narrow. At midday March was holding around 6.02c and July 6.26c, or about 1 to 2 points net higher.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 3.—Cotton, no receipts; spot in better demand, improved business; prices three points lower. Quotations in pence: American strict good middling, 5.96; good middling, 5.66; strict middling, 5.41; middling, 5.26; strict low middling, 5.11; low middling, 4.96; strict good ordinary, 4.76; good ordinary, 4.46. Futures closed quiet, January, 4.97; March, 4.98; May, 5.01; July, 5.02; October, 5.05; December, 5.08.

BUILD PLANTS TO EVADE DUTY

LONDON.—Foreign manufacturing plants are springing up all over Great Britain in an effort to avoid the heavy duties imposed by the empire on foreign imports.

Since January 1, 160 foreign firms have taken factory sits and arranged to manufacture here, according to the London Chamber of Commerce.

Many of these factories have been or are being set up by German firms, which are among the hardest hit by the duties. Included in the articles formerly imported from Germany now to be manufactured here are leather goods in Hackney, East London; cutlery at Hanwell, coal tar products in Hull. Czechoslovakian firms are going to manufacture boots, glass and woodwork; American firms are going to manufacture toys in Dudley, Worcestershire, and electrical goods in London.

Two big factories are to be established soon. One, a German factory, expected ultimately to employ 1,500 people, will be at Grantham for production of rubber shoes. The other is to be built at Hull and expected to employ 200 people for the manufacture of household wooden articles.

Move Old Fresco Without Mishap

NAPLES—(INS.)—For the first time in the history of modern art and architecture, a valuable fresco measuring over 90 yards square, has been moved, with the wall on which it was painted 300 years ago, a distance of three yards, to clear the fourth century apse of the Church of Donna Regina of its baroque additions.

The fresco was moved without accident of any kind.

Beacon Dedicated At Alaskan Port

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—(AP.)—A plaque on the Merrill beacon here has been unveiled and the guiding light for airmen named the Russell H. Merrill Memorial. The beacon was built to perpetuate the memory of Merrill, who was largely responsible for Anchorage's airport.

Oklahoma Tests Growing of Rice

POTEAU, Okla.—(AP.)—Rice may become one of Oklahoma's agricultural products. An experiment in rice raising on nine acres on the farm of J. M. Dennis proved so successful that Dennis is planning to plant 200 acres next year.

Motor Production In Canada Gains

MONTREAL. — (INS.) — Production of motor vehicles in Canada in October represented an increase of 25 per cent over the previous month. The number of units built in Canada during October was 2,923, more than double the October output of 1931.

Peiping to Employ Women as Police

PEIPING.—(AP.)—Peiping will be the first city in China to have women police when uniformed women officers begin to patrol the streets early next year. Preparations are being made to enlist 100 young women who have had grade school education and organize them into a training class.

New Jersey City Gets Sunday Movies

EAST ORANGE, N. J.—(INS.)—Sunday moving pictures will be allowed in this city, the City Council passing an ordinance on final reading recently.

Hogs Flees Butcher, Returns 81 Miles

ORANGE, Tex.—(AP.)—A hog sold to a packing company at Orange, identified by marks, escaped and made its way 81 miles to its home farm at Reeves, La. Two rivers and several bayous and creeks crossed the route the animal traveled.

Texan Gets Proof From Police He Was Kidded

BOSTON.—(INS.)—In order to satisfy a curious Texan who had been told that the sculptor of the George Washington statue on Boston Common, committed suicide because he forgot to put a tongue in the horse, Supt. of Police Michael H. Crowley sent a patrolman with a ladder and a flashlight.

The tongue was where it should be, and Thomas Bell, the sculptor, died at the age of 93 from natural causes.

FLOOD IN SOUTH TAKES LIFE

GRENADA, Miss., Jan. 3.—(AP.)—The floods of northern Mississippi, steadily increasing in pace, have claimed their first victim.

The body of J. E. Lamb, young cotton Valley business man, was found yesterday in the rear seat of an automobile that had overturned in the back waters of Weaver Dam two miles north of Grenada.

Meanwhile, the Tallahatchie, inconsistent delta trouble-maker, continued to rise and hundreds of lowlanders moved from its valley to higher ground. Cassidy Bayou backed over the Charleston-Webb highway and creeks were overflowing.

The Mississippi River itself was rising rapidly today and meteorologists at Memphis warned of danger along its tributaries in South Mississippi, east Arkansas and west Tennessee in view of possibility of heavy rains the latter part of this week.

FATHER COX TASK HARDER

The opening days of the new year disclose no signs of better times for the needy who flock to Father Cox at Old St. Patrick's for assistance. The holiday presented no particular significance to the men in the breadline, or for the hundreds of families who depend on Father Cox for aid.

Father Cox is more apprehensive about the new year than are his dependents. As the depression continues, he finds it harder to get money and supplies, while the calls for help have grown greater every day. However, he seems to meet the emergency day by day, but he could do more if he had the money or supplies with which to do it.

These are some of the reasons why the subscription drive inaugurated by the Sun-Telegraph is meeting with such popular response. For every subscription that comes in on the blank on this page, Father Cox gets a liberal cash commission for his unemployment relief fund.

Angry Wives Held Chair Designers To Save Beds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(Universal.)—Distraught stone-age wives, who tired of having lazy husbands stretch beds out of shape by sitting on them, probably were responsible for the evolution of the chair.

Dr. Walter Hough, head curator of the Smithsonian Institute, which has completed a study in primitive furniture, disclosed today that the bed antedates the chair by many centuries.

The first beds were mere piles of fur or leaves. Then came the banquette, a raised pile of earth. The chair made its first appearance as a throne, he said.

ARSON CHARGES HOLD TWO

Two men were held for court today on charges of arson as a result of fires Sunday. Magistrate Leo Rothenberg held both without bail, following testimony of Detective Michael Tortorelli, of the city bomb and arson squad, who made both arrests.

John F. Arnold, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor, was arrested after fire destroyed his home at 1541 Rockland avenue, late Sunday. A five-gallon jug of gasoline, oil-soaked cloths and piles of paper and wood were found in the house, according to Tortorelli.

The home of Nick Ciccone, 81 Flowers avenue, was damaged by fire early Sunday morning, and, according to the detective's testimony, a can of gasoline, an oil-soaked board holding candles and a quantity of oily rags were found in the house.

'Army' Uses Slogan In War on Slump

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP.)—To raise money for relief work, the Salvation Army announced tonight it was going to sell "anti-depression cartoon stickers" bearing such phrases as: "Come on, America, let's get busy;" "Oh, boy, wasn't that some depression," and "Extra! Good times are coming back."

MARY FAITH

By BEATRICE BURTON

Mary Faith Is Shocked When Husband Suggests That They Separate

CHAPTER XXI.

With a great effort she pulled herself up out of the chair and walked around the desk to him.

"Let's not quarrel about her, Kim," She bent over him and laid her cheek against his smooth blond head, "I came up here tonight to talk to you."

"You came up here to spy on me." He pushed her gently but very firmly away from him. "And now that you've found out what you wanted to know, I suppose you'll keep nagging at me until I put that little kid out of my office." His face was set in the mood of sullen anger.

"Have I ever nagged you, Kim?" She was sure that she never had.

"Good lord, you started before we'd been married three days! You nagged me about smoking cigarets. You nagged me about taking a drink. You nagged me about the Maldons. . . . You knew I like to go to their house, but would you go there with me? Not on your life! And when I went without you, you nagged me about the wickedness of playing cards for a little money. To hear you talk, the flat was a gambling den!"

GETS SARCASTIC

Mary Faith listened to him with a dreadful sinking of her heart. What on earth was the matter with him? Why did he want to go on quarreling with her like this? And all about nothing, really . . .

"I never refused to go to the Maldons', Kim," she said helplessly. "I was perfectly willing to go so long as I didn't have to take a drink or play cards for money. I told you that. Don't you remember?"

"Yes—you're a regular dead-game sport." There was biting sarcasm in Kim's voice. He pulled out his watch and looked at it.

"It's half past five," he said. Let's go. We can finish the battle at home. It'll be a swell way to spend the evening."

As they stood in the hall, waiting for the elevator, he looked at her suddenly, his eyes as gray as steel, the pupils like pin points.

"You said you came up here to talk to me about something," he said. "What was it? What's on your mind?"

Mary Faith didn't answer him for a minute or two. She stood, looking at the bronze doors of the elevator shaft, and slowly shaking her head . . . This, of all times, was not the time to tell him what Dr. Thatcher had told her that afternoon.

"Nothing—I'll tell you some other time," she said at last.

PREPARES DINNER

Mrs. Farrell was walking up and down the sidewalk in front of the apartment when they turned into Wilton street. She was wearing an old golf cape and the chilly air had whipped some color into her broad face.

"I suppose I ought to be in the kitchen getting dinner ready," she greeted them. "But it was so nice out here that I just couldn't go in."

"How about a little drive in the park, Mother?" Kim asked her and she beamed with pleasure. It wasn't very often that he took her for a drive.

Mary Faith went into the flat and began to get the dinner ready. There was cold roast beef, left over from Sunday, and a bowl of vegetable salad that she had put on the ice early that afternoon before she started for the doctor's office.

She would make some soda biscuits, she decided. Kim liked them, split and toasted and covered with melting butter.

She had them in the oven and was setting the table when she heard the car drive up in front of the apartment. She knew the sound of its engine and the rattle of its one loose mudguard.

"Where's Kim? Putting the car away?" Mary Faith asked her.

His mother shook her head. "No. He said he wasn't going to have dinner with us tonight. He said something about a business engagement that he had to keep."

It was half past nine that night when he came home. He came walking out into the kitchen where his mother and Mary Faith were at work, dampening and folding down the clothes that they had washed that morning.

The little room was filled with the fresh smell of clean linen, and the new Dutch clock above the sink ticked with a cozy, happy sound. The kitchen was a very pleasant and comfortable place these days.

"I was afraid you two would be in bed," Kim said, pulling a chair out from under the table and setting one foot up on its seat. "I want to talk to you."

Mary Faith saw him brace himself to go on. "I've been downtown in my office all evening, thinking things over," he said. "I've spent almost half of the little bit of capital that I had to start with—and I haven't made a cent this whole month: I haven't had a single client—not one."

"Well, I wouldn't be discouraged, Kim." Mary Faith looked up at him over the sheet she was folding. "What's a month? It takes time to succeed."

He went on as if she had not spoken: "And so I've come to the conclusion that we'll have to give up this flat if I'm going to keep the office open. If we don't I'm just going to fail, that's all. I haven't the money to keep up both places."

"Why, you must be crazy!" His mother's voice was a wail. "I've lived in this flat for more years than I've got fingers and toes, Kimberley Farrell! It's my home, and I'm not going to break up my home for anybody! I can't . . . Why where would I go when I left here?"

SUGGESTS PARTING

She sat down at the table and began to wring her hands.

"Why couldn't you go out to Garrettsville and stay with Aunt Ella for a while?" Kim asked her. "She'd be tickled to death to have you, and you could put your furniture into storage. It would be a rest for you."

"And what about you and Mary Faith? Where would you go?"

"Oh, I'd get a cheap room somewhere — and I imagine Mary Faith would go back to Mrs. Pluckett's," he said. "You agree with me that this is the best thing for all of us, don't you, Mary Faith? You and I have been married for five months and I don't believe that either one of us thinks that our marriage is a howling success."

Mary Faith caught her breath sharply as if he had dealt her a stunning blow. She put her hands up before her face as if she were trying to protect herself from him.

"You don't mean that you think we ought to separate, Kim? You don't mean that you're tired of me?"

"Well, I think we're pretty tired of each other. We're on each other's nerves—and I know we'd be a lot happier if we didn't see each other for a while."

Mary Faith closed her eyes . . . Happy? Why, she had never been so happy in her life as she had been at 5 o'clock that afternoon, walking along in the sunshine of Spring street on her way to his office!

"Besides, I can't support you," she heard him say. "You know, yourself, that it's going to take every nickel I have to keep myself from starving to death for the next few months—and my advice to you is to go back to your great friend, Nesbit, and ask him for your old job. He'll probably be more than glad to give it to you when you tell him you've left me."

"Left you?" She stared at him.

Synopsis

Mary Faith gave up her position as secretary to Mark Nesbit when Kim Farrell sets their wedding date. His attitude changes when his mother objects, and the engagement is broken. Heartbroken, Mary Faith returns to her office. Mark, taken ill, has Mary Faith driven to his country home daily for two weeks. He tells her of his love for her. Mary Faith meets Kim with a girl. Next morning, Kim calls at Mary Faith's boarding house. He assures here of his love and proposes immediate marriage. After a hasty marriage they live their honeymoon in ecstasy. They return to town and find Kim's mother ill. Mary Faith is called a "Puritan" by Kim's friends, Claire and Jack Maldon, because she does not drink and dance on Sunday. Kim loses his job when he gambles away some of the firm's money. Mary Faith gives him money to open an office of his own.

Now Go On

"You don't think we ought to separate, Kim?" said Mary Faith.

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

Today all of the members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club returned to school after enjoying their 10-day Christmas vacation. It is going to take them a couple of days to swing into the spirit of school work and to forget the pleasant hours that they spent playing with the games and toys received from Santa.

Speaking of games, Manager J. O. Hooley, of the Sheridan Square, arranged several games for the youngsters on Saturday. The first of these was a balloon breaking contest for boys and girls. The first boy and the girl who blew their balloon up until it broke was judged the winner. This was followed by a potato race, which brought howls of laughter from the audience. It was a great sight to see the contestants dashing from one end of the stage to the other carrying a potato.

Following the potato race all the members joined in community singing, singing such songs as "A Shanty In Old Shanty Town," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "My Mom," "Say It Isn't So" and "Goodnight, Sweetheart."

GIRL WINS

Then came the excitement. Six big apples were suspended on strings from the ceiling, just out of reach of the youngsters and the boy and girl that was able to get the first bite was declared the winner. There was plenty of jumping and neck stretching before the first bite was taken. And who do you think was first? A cute little girl. She beat all the boys and the two other girls who were competing with her.

Then a dozen boys were called to the center of the stage and they removed their shoes and put them in a pile which Manager Hooley scrambled well before he gave the signal to start. The youngster who found his shoes and had them on and tied first received a nice prize.

This ended the games and contests and the meeting closed with all of the members again singing songs.

DRIVE STARTED

At the Cameraphone Theater, also in East Liberty, George Bronson, the manager, announced a membership drive whilh started Saturday and which started Saturday and January 28.

To the boy who is already a member and who brings in the most new members between now and the end of the drive will receive a valuable prize. There will also be a prize for the girl who brings in the most new members. Bear in mind, that the boys do not necessarily have to confine their activities to the boys, or the girls to the girls. Each new member, whether boy or girl, will count. So come on, boys and girls of the Cameraphone Chapter, let's see how many new members you'll get between now and January 28.

At the Cameraphone Saturday Manager Bronson held a spelling bee for the boys and one for the girls. These youngsters were such good spellers that before a "champion" could be found, all the time alloted to the Junior Komic Club meeting was used up and the regular show had to start.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS

Smoking Again? Thanks

We're convinced that New Year resolutions are not reform within the party.

We started yesterday with the finest of intentions and wound up conceding the election of our bad habits.

It's too late deciding to be human after 40 or 50 years. You can't make new frankfurters out of an old dog.

Resolutions are dinosaur eggs that never hatch. We have been reformed into a comatose condition of gentleness by state and national legislation. In the days of the corner saloon they bracketed us in the betting with the good old Erie Railroad. They complained we made too many local stops.

The only concession we make to civilization is to shave when we think of it. We stayed off the tobacco habit from Sunday midnight to Monday morning, but resumed upon awakening.

Trying to make a man too good is like sandpapering a boiler too thin. It will take on a high polish, but it might explode. The heavy indictment around our shack is that we dump our tobacco cinders on the Persian rugs with a lavish elbow. We place lighted cigarets on the tables and the chiffoniers. Well, that's better than being a coward and hiding your chewing gum under a chair.

We contend that a man's habits are noble in a way. He ain't the kind of a guy to burn a hole in a tablecloth and then hide it with a saucer. Whatever he does, a wife can always see what's wrong with the house at a glance.

Everything would be all right if wives only bought big enough ash receivers. We have 50 of them around the diggings that look like tiddly-winks. It would take a sharp-shooter to locate 'em with a cigar. Why not trade 'em in for soup plates?

All of this being a preamble to the fact that we are smoking again, feeling fine and have gone all through our resolutions and come out at the other end, unimpaired in health and mentally very neat.

We look forward to the dawn of 1934 with a complete set of resolutions that have been in the family for years and still have a large trade-in value. They've been only run a few miles and the tires are almost new.

BREAKS UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go: the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system and you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

"A news story says that co-eds at the University of Kentucky are being given courses in charm, ballroom dancing and contract bridge. Nice, isn't it? What they really need down at the university is to give the students courses in modesty, more respect for their elders and a little more regard for the decent and uplifting things of life. Imagine spending more than a million dollars a year giving courses in charm, ballroom dancing and contract bridge! No wonder the country is fast going to the devil. We wonder if they have a course in Bible study and obedience to the Ten Commandments? Why don't they teach them to smoke gracefully?"

ROMANCE OF THE BUSINESS WORLD

This is Spuyten W. Duyvil, who has been made assistant vice president with half an hour extra for lunch, in recognition of his service as courtesy expert for the telephone company. It was Mr. Duyvil who established the rule that all operators, before taking a number from a pay station, must exclaim: "Good morning; this is a subsidiary of American Tel. & Tel. with 4,320 pay phones distributed throughout the city for your convenience. Please report any discourtesy on the part of employes. Let us send you a pamphlet explaining the new intercommunicating house phone system, together with 27 ways to prepare chicken salad." Naturally this has brought increased revenue to the company—because the customer has to deposit another nickel before he can get a word in edgewise.

Cheap Alien Competition Evades Federal Law; Americans Must 'Buy American'

THE "Buy American" movement calls forth the retort in some quarters, where the dumping of foreign merchandise is a source of profit, that the foreign commerce of the United States amounts to only 10 per cent of our entire trade.

The implication is that the overseas trade of the United States is such a minor fraction of the whole, that it does not vitally affect us one way or the other.

The fallacy of this view, however, is the assumption that our home market is exclusively our own—inviolable and secure under all conditions.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

OUT of a total of imports estimated for last year at $1,200,000,000, two-thirds, or $800,000,000, came from depreciated currency countries.

EXCHANGE DUMPING—it is called.

But this does not represent the full extent of the raid upon our home market by alien producers. It does not take account of the extent to which the DEPRESSED LABOR of Europe and Asia, by itself or in addition to debased currencies, cheapens the product of our foreign competitors.

True, we have a federal statute which puts us on notice if we "buy foreign" in preference to "buying American." We cannot offend unwittingly. The statue reads:

"Every article imported into the United States, and its immediate container, and the package in which such article is imported, shall be marked, stamped, branded, or labeled, in legible English words, in a conspicuous place, in such manner as to indicate the country of origin of such article, in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. Such marking, stamping, branding, or labeling shall be as nearly indelible and permanent as the nature of the article will permit."

But the penalty for its violation is merely an additional duty of 10 per cent upon the unmarked article. It means precisely nothing at all.

JAPANESE rag rugs are landed in this country for six cents each, wholesale, including the payment of a duty of 75 per cent upon their foreign cost.

With a spread of such extent between the foreign cost and the cost in this country—and in most commodities the spread is even greater—neither the basic duty nor the penalty provided by our law are of any practical effect.

HERE, MANIFESTLY, IS WORK FOR CONGRESS.

Some restriction against the mounting flow of cheap foreign goods must be devised in place of the futile provisions of the existing law.

A COMPENSATING EXCHANGE DUTY, IN THE NATURE OF A SURTAX ON ALL IMPORTS FROM DEPRECIATED CURRENCY COUNTRIES, IS ONE EXPEDIENT.

It has been tried with good results in France, whose situation as a country on the gold standard is parallel with ours.

It is also possible that we may have to assign IMPORT QUOTAS to foreign countries where labor and currency conditions are so radically different from our own.

BUT in the meantime we have got to "BALE OUT THE BOAT," or, to use a different figure, "PUT OUT THE FIRE."

With the steady subsidence of our home trade, the growth of unemployment and the increase in the demands for relief, we must not omit EMERGENCY MEASURES while we wait on the deliberate processes of legislative correction through the action of Congress.

WE SHOULD BE THANKFUL THAT WE HAVE AT HAND A MEANS OF PROMPTLY ARRESTING THE PLAGUE AND REDRESSING THE DAMAGE IT HAS DONE.

We can let the CHEAP STUFF that is being DUMPED INTO OUR MARKET ROT WHERE IT FALLS. All we have to do is to refrain from buying it. We can refuse to touch it.

THE buying power of America can be put to better use than fattening the profits of foreign competitors, whose aim is to undermine our industry and appropriate our market.

And this is precisely what the foreign manufacturer, fortified by his CHEAP LABOR and his CHEAP CURRENCY, aims to do.

Moreover, he has gone a long way in accomplishing his purpose, as our idle mills and the huge army of our unemployed attest.

Can there be doubt in any American heart that we have here a grievous situation which must not be suffered to continue?

The REMEDY IS PLAIN. It is easy. LET US APPLY IT.

Let us fix our thoughts upon conditions AT HOME, our fellow-countrymen, THEIR suffering, THEIR needs, THEIR well-being.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME. SO DOES BUSINESS.

Let us without waiting, without cessation—aye, without stint—"BUY AMERICAN."

Economy the Watchword

The Legislature Should Place the Reduction of Governmental Expenses First in Its Program.

The General Assembly convened at Harrisburg today for its one hundred and thirtieth session. The session should be short, for the two special meetings cleared the ground and made it possible to deal expeditiously with matters that otherwise might have called for prolonged discussion.

The session should be short, because long sessions are costly, and if there is anything that the people are demanding above all else from legislative bodies this year it is that the costs of government be reduced. The demands that have been presented by the taxpayers of Pittsburgh to the City Council and the Board of Education and that will be presented shortly to the County Commissioners when the county budget is prepared bear witness to this insistence on economy.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties have agreed that curtailment of the expenses of the commonwealth is imperative, and the people will watch the members of both parties in the Legislature to see that they fulfill their pledges.

According to John A. Phillips, president of the State Federation of Labor, public interest in legislation is at a higher point than at any other time in recent history. This will help to enforce the popular demand for tax reduction.

Public opinion should be brought to bear on the Legislature to keep it from wasting time. Aside from financial measures there are only a few subjects that require consideration at this time.

The Blue Law and the state prohibition enforcement act should be repealed, but that can be done quickly. The public utilities statutes and the election laws should be revised, but the foundation for such action has already been laid in the studies that have been made by various commissions.

The Increase in Reading

Pittsburgh Will Profit from the Heightened Interest in Economics and Government.

If you had visited the reading rooms in the branches of the Carnegie Library during the morning, up to a year or two ago, you would have found them empty. But if you should visit them now during the same hours you would find them filled with men.

Since 1929 the use of the public libraries of Pittsburgh has increased 49 per cent. The normal rate of growth in a three-year period is 18 per cent.

In 1925 the number of books borrowed from the Carnegie Library was 1,915,000; last year it was 4,300,000.

Ralph Munn, the librarian, reports an increased demand for all kinds of literature. Fiction leads. Many persons who formerly paid little attention to books have turned to novel-reading for amusement. But there has also been an increase in the demand for every class of serious literature, and in particular for books dealing with economics and government.

Mr. Munn mentions Stuart Chase's "A New Deal," Arthur Dahlberg's "Jobs, Machines and Capitalism," T. E. Gregory's "The Gold Standard and Its Future," and Frank H. Simonds' "Can Europe Keep the Peace?" as good examples of the type of books demanded.

This augurs well for Pittsburgh. With people studying such subjects, there is bound to be increased interest in our civic and commercial problems, more intelligent voting, less tolerance of inefficiency, extravagance and dishonesty.

Pig Iron Imports Gain

The 28 Per Cent Increase Last Year Shows the Importance to Pittsburgh of "Buying American."

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports that, gauged by quantity, nearly one-third of our principal imports (25 out of 84 items) were larger in the nine-month period January-September, 1932, than in the corresponding period of the year before. A number of these commodities were imported from countries having depreciated currencies.

Especially remarkable are the increases in our imports of certain commodities produced in the Pittsburgh district.

Pig iron imports increased 28.8 per cent.

Coal and coke imports increased 7.4 per cent.

These facts emphasize the importance to Pittsburgh of "Buying American."

Observe the cheerful citizen
Who prances high and wide.
He walks among his fellow men
And can't conceal his pride,
For he has done a noble job
And feels a patriotic throb,

He passes up the alien wares
That fill the marts of trade—
The bulging bundles that he bears
Were never foreign-made.
For he has BOUGHT AMERICAN
To help the jobless working man.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

I'm one of those easy-going, good-natured people, always willing to do anything for anybody—give anything.

And, of course, someone's always taking advantage of me. Which is jake, for a while.

Then I blow up. Blow up bad! Get red-eyed! Bawl everyone out! End up by going off and having a Good Hard Cry because I'm so sorry for myself.

And while I'm crying I think how good I've been to everyone—how patient and generous and unselfish. Yet look how mean everyone has been to me! So ungrateful! Never appreciating what I've done! Never showing me any consideration! Trampling all over my rights!

Recognize the symptoms? I bet you do. Chances are, you're like that, too. Nearly everyone is—

And is it silly? Of course it is! And you know why as well as I do.

BUT IT'S A FOOL THING TO BE SO GENEROUS OR SO GOOD-NATURED THAT YOU LET OTHER PEOPLE SPOIL YOUR LIFE.

IT'S UP TO YOU TO PROTECT YOUR LIFE. IT'S UP TO YOU TO KEEP OTHER PEOPLE FROM SPOILING IT.

Generosity and good nature are beautiful virtues and noble duties But there is another virtue, another duty which comes before them, and that is your duty to KEEP YOUR OWN LIFE FRUITFUL AND SERENE.

If you fail in that duty—if you allow other people to shackle and sour your life—then you have failed in your most vital responsibility; you have betrayed your most sacred rights.

What are your "rights"? You, yourself, must define them. You, alone, know just what are the necessities of your nature; how much consideration you require; how much privacy and privilege you need; how much intrusion and imposition you can stand, and still lead a good life.

Obviously, this defining of your rights is a job that requires sense and sociability. This is a crowded world, and you can never have ALL the rights you'd like—nor would they do you much good if you could. An ounce of friendly co-operation will enrich you more than a ton of personal privilege.

But each spirit has basic needs which must be respected—and it's up to you to determine yours.

TO KNOW YOURSELF—that's your first and most important job. And, having defined your needs, you must protect them.

Be generous enough to let people into your life—but also have gumption enough to keep them out.

Give yourself—but also hold out enough of yourself to maintain yourself as a Going Business.

Certain hardships must be borne; certain sacrifices must be made. But they should be borne and made intelligently and amiably, with due regard for your own limitations. If you can't be noble and still be civil—don't be noble.

ONE SOUR SAINT CAN SPREAD MORE POISON THAN A THOUSAND SMILING SINNERS.

Why are selfish people often more respected than unselfish ones? Why are they even more trusted? That's why. Because selfish people are really easier to deal with, in the long run, and frequently more polite. You know what to expect of them. And they know where they stand. They don't bite off more than they can chew.

MARRY-GO-ROUND

By Helen Rowland

The Lock in Wedlock

A bridegroom is always more nervous than the bride: because to a woman, walking up the middle aisle is a premeditated bliss—but a man must be in an awfully reckless mood to enjoy his own wedding.

Nowadays, a young man appears to spend almost as much time and ingenuity thinking up ways to discourage the women as the old-fashioned lover spent in devising ways to win them.

* * *

When a man puts off marrying too long, he makes the tragic discovery that the women of his own age are too old to thrill him, and that the women who are young enough to thrill him can see him only as an "antique" or a meal ticket.

* * *

The best and biggest capital with which to start a marriage is plenty of surplus love. When a little love has to last a long time, it spreads out awfully thin.

* * *

The jolt from which a bride takes longest to recover is the sudden transition from the role of the dazzling sweetheart who set a man's heart on fire to the role of the unobserved wife who merely burns his toast.

* * *

These tight waists and long skirts may make a flapper look only a little more grown-up and sophisticated, but the way in which they DATE a woman of over 30 is positively cruel.

Alarm clocks have been invented that will go off at any given minute—but, nobody has ever yet invented a way to make a man get UP when he hears one.

According to the census reports, there is one divorce to every six marriages in America; and apparently four out of the other five couples are merely waiting until they can save enough money for the fare to Reno.

In a domestic quarrel, if a woman answers back, she is "nagging"—and if she doesn't, she is "grouching." So, what can the poor thing do?

Isn't It So?

Money talks, and even the miser may favor free speech.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Tailors to the bloods are featuring "host suits in colors." They are Tuxedo cut, of purple, brown and green, with shawl collars flaring in satin. And mostly sported by jaunty binge throwers in their penthouses or bachelor apartments.

Noel Coward introduced the sartorial innovation in the American colony at Cannes last summer. The popularity of lounging costumes for men the past year is a phenomenon of the tailoring trade. More gadabouts are staying home and thus more money for such informal attire.

So much so a perky establishment has opened off Park avenue dealing solely in strictly tailored robes, smoking jackets and pajamas chez moi. They range in price from $15 to one extravagant creation for $200—bearing a tag "Lytell." (Bert, I assume.) Some hand-made monograms, alone, are $12.

In other years a dressing gown was worn chiefly by English actors, applying makeup. Outside of the theater it was considered a bit foppish. But today the average snappy fashionist has at least a dozen. To say nothing of the sundry variations in house suits and bath robes.

New York's largest apartment house—the London Terrace—would house the exact population of my Ohio town. We had two dentists and six doctors but this concreted Gibraltar has 30 doctors and 12 dentists. But its ratio is a replica of our tree-lined public square with benches, band stand in the middle and everything.

Not many human catastrophes have the poignancy of those bursting golden dreams in big city hospitals. Life comes to a sudden stop daily for some couple in love. Often a new love that has that tender glow of a child's forehead near the hair. Then lightning separation. The white plague. As grimly white as the ward where, so hopefully, they clutch hands. A nurse tells of the heroism to hide a racking cough—a cough suggesting an iceberg menacing a frail barque. And the despairing expectancies. It's not all defeat. Gallant dreams often come safely to harbor!

John Ringling, in fine fettle after serious illness, was seen here and there in the social whirl before his takeoff for the circus winter headquarters at Sarasota, Fla. A bit thinner, he looks years younger. His bride is a lovely lady of Dresdon china daintiness, attractively demure. She is also keenly interested in the art researches of "Mister Jawn"—as circus folk hail him. Ringling is one of the most astute judges of old paintings in America.

On Vanderbilt avenue shortly after 4 a. m.—I was meeting a train, you mugs—the first newsboys arrive, young leather-lunged huskies befogged with sleep. One told me he lived at Sheepshead Bay, an hour's subway ride. He works until 5 in the afternoon and goes to bed at 8 p. m. Yet he was lively with good-natured banter and a zest for life. "Some day," he said, "I'll have my own newsstand under the El, get to work at 7 a. m. and take things easy."

Jack Whiting, blond juvenile heart-pumper for matinee Juliets, insists upon his beautiful wife—the former Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks—occupying a first row at opening nights of his shows. And plays directly to her. In appearances before the microphone, too, he arranges for his wife to be in his line of vision on the other side of the glass. In the so often marital haphazardy of the theater their romance is looked upon as one of the "ideal marriages."

Frank Cambria invited an assorted literati to meet Clara Bow in his apartment at the Roxy when she hit town. Those of us expecting a hoyden, expressing the vigour of an entire hockey team, found instead a subdued lady. At least during my brief stay. She might have been a chatelaine gracing a decorous Tuxedo Park establishment. She sipped tea and wore most of us down to a gentle bleakness with up-the-river heigh-ho. I'm cramming Thoreau for the next like affair.

Save at premieres, I enjoy the balcony's first row more than other seats in the theater but must abandon it. During a monotonous play, I struggle through the entire action to refrain from letting my program flutter to the orchestra circle. Some day I'll give in and get myself sent home.
